DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 5th, 1899.

The break in the rains has continued during the week under review. The monsoon currents have given no rain except showers in Burma, Bengal, the eastern districts of the Central Provinces and on the Madras Coast. Showers have also been received in the Upper India hill districts. The excess of pressure over the head of the Peninsula has continued, and the daily changes of pressure have either emphasized it or left it practically unaltered. A depression was formed in the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces on the 1st August; but, beyond giving showers in the Gangetic Plain on the first day of its existence, it exerted no appreciable influence on the weather though it did not fill up and disappear till the 4th.

The deficiency in the monsoon rainfall in the west and north-west of India is very marked, and the following figures, giving the deficiency at the end of the week at several stations in the West Peninsula and in the north-west, will show how largely the rainfall given by the Arabian Sea monsoon current is in defect of the normal:

	Actual deficiency.	Percentage of defect.
Mangalore	26·57 inches	36 per cent.
Mercara	22·35 "	30 "
Karwar	42·46 "	53 "
Ratnagiri	33·17 "	46 "
Deesa	13·46 "	92 "
Mount Abu	29·85 "	85 "

Winds have been unusually light and unsteady on the West and Burma Coasts. North-westerly winds have been blowing over the Peninsula owing to the abnormal pressure conditions, and the weather has been unusually hot and dry in the interior districts.

Temperature has been above the normal everywhere, except in Assam and Bihar; and some remarkably high day temperatures have been registered in Rajputana, Berar and the Deccan.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, July 30th.—Pressure had changed by small amounts, and its distribution remained unaltered. Pressure continued in considerable to large excess over the head of the Peninsula and across the head of the Bay to Central Burma. Temperature had fallen rapidly on the Madras Coast and was normal in Burma, Assam, Bengal, Orissa, Bihar, Sind and South India, but was in excess in all other Provinces. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma and Bengal, and showers had been received in the Upper India Hills, the Central Provinces, the Deccan and in the Madras Coast districts.

Monday, July 31st.—The changes of pressure had accentuated the high pressure conditions already existing, and pressure was in large excess over the whole of Northern India and Burma, with the exception of Tenasserim, where it was in moderate excess. Mean temperatures were in defect in Assam, Orissa, Chota Nagpur and on the Madras Coast; and were normal or in excess in all other Provinces. Light rain had fallen in Burma and North-Eastern India; and showers in the Upper India hill districts, on the Madras Coast and in the eastern districts of the Central Provinces.

Tuesday, August 1st.—The barometer had fallen briskly to rapidly in Burma and slightly to briskly in North-Eastern India and had risen slightly to briskly in the Deccan and North Bombay. A shallow depression had formed over the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces. Temperature was normal or in excess everywhere, except in Assam, the North-West Punjab and on the Madras Coast, where it was in defect. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Assam, Orissa, Lower and North Bengal, the Gangetic Plain and the Upper India Hills; and showers in Burma, the Central Provinces, Central India, the Deccan and the Madras Coast districts.

Wednesday, August 2nd.—Pressure had given way briskly to rapidly over the whole country, except in the west of the Peninsula, where the fall had been slight. Pressure continued in large excess over North Bombay. The depression had moved in a north-westerly direction and was lying over the western districts of the North-Western Provinces. Mean temperatures were in slight defect in Burma and normal in Sind, but were in excess elsewhere. The depression in Northern India had given no rain, and only a few light showers had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the Central Provinces, Rajputana and parts of the Peninsula.

Thursday, August 3rd.—The changes of pressure were small and unimportant, and the distribution of pressure remained unchanged. The depression in the North-Western Provinces was still in existence but had had no effect on the weather. With the exception of Assam and Bihar, where it was normal or in slight defect, temperature was in excess of the normal everywhere. Rain had increased slightly in Assam, North Bengal, Bihar and Chota Nagpur. Showers had been received in Burma.

Friday, August 4th.—Pressure had increased generally and was everywhere above the normal. Temperature was in excess in all provinces, with the exception of Assam and Bihar, the excess being largest in Berar, Rajputana and the Madras Deccan. Light to moderate showers had been received in Burma, Assam, Bengal, North Bihar, Chota Nagpur, the eastern districts of the Central Provinces and on the Madras Coast.

Saturday, August 5th.—The barometer had fallen briskly in Burma, North-Eastern India, the submontane districts of Northern India, the Indus Valley and Baluchistan, and slightly elsewhere. No improvement had taken place in the pressure conditions over the Peninsula or North Bombay. Temperature continued in excess in all parts of the country, except in the Assam Valley, North Bengal and North Bihar. Moderate to heavy showers had been received in Tenasserim, Bengal and Assam; and light showers in the Madras Coast and Sambulpur districts and the Simla and Mussooree Hills.

Temperature.—Unusually high temperatures, due to the break in the rains, have prevailed over nearly the whole country. Assam is the only Province in which temperatures have been below the normal. The mean temperature of the week was practically normal in Bengal, Bihar and Sind and was in excess in all other parts of the country. The largest excess occurred in Rajputana (6·8°), Berar (6·2°), and the Madras Deccan (5·5°). In Rajputana the mean temperature averaged from 8° to 9° above the normal on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd. The excess was chiefly noticeable in the maximum or day temperatures, which in Rajputana and Berar averaged above ten degrees on the following days:

Rajputana on the 1st August (11·6°), 2nd (12·0°) and 3rd (11·9°).

Berar on the 1st August (12·3°) and 5th (12·2°).

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

The mean temperature for the whole of India has been above the normal on every day of the week, and the amount of the variation from the normal has been unusually large. During the last four days of the week the excess ranged from 3° to 3·8°. For the whole week the variation from the normal was +2·9°.

The Punjab was the area of highest temperature during the week. The following gives the highest maximum temperature recorded on each day:

July 30th	109·3°	at	Jacobabad.
„ 31st	108·4°	„	Do.
August 1st	108·3°	„	Sirsa.
„ 2nd	107·8°	„	Do.
„ 3rd	109·9°	„	Khushab.
„ 4th	108·9°	„	Do.
„ 5th	109·0°	„	Peshawar.

Rain.—The break in the rains has been almost complete over the greater part of India, and the rainfall of the past week has been in defect of the normal over nearly the whole country. In Northern India and Burma the only divisions that received rain in excess of the normal were the Surma and Brahmaputra divisions of Assam and North Bengal. There appears to have been an indraught of moist winds from the Bay over the east coast which, by inter-action with the dry westerly winds blowing over the Peninsula, caused thunderstorms in the east coast districts and in the eastern districts of the Central Provinces. Rainfall hence has increased in Madras, and in all divisions, except the central, was in excess of the normal amount for the week. It was also in excess in the eastern divisions of the Central Provinces. In all other parts of the Peninsula rainfall was below the normal. No rain at all fell during the week in the south-east, south and central divisions of the Punjab, Hyderabad (North), Khandesh, Baluchistan Hills, Central India (West) and Rajputana, while Gujarat had an average fall of only 0·04 inch, Berar of 0·08 inch, the Bombay Deccan of 0·02 inch and Malabar of 0·09 inch.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period June 4th to August 5th was normal or in excess in Tenasserim, Central Burma, Arakan, the whole of Bengal, Assam and the North-Western Provinces, the North Punjab and the Punjab Hills, Central Provinces (East) and Central India (East). In all other divisions it was in slight to large defect, the deficiency being most marked in North Bombay, where it averaged from 69 to 100 per cent., West Rajputana (88 per cent.), Madras Central (77 per cent.) and Berar (66 per cent.).

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

Burma	Kyaukpyu	15·20 inches.
Bengal and Assam	Sunamganj (Sylhet)	16·62 "
	Sadiya (Lakhimpur)	11·78 "
	Madaripur (Faridpur)	9·81 "

	Bahera (Darbhanga)	9·06 "
Central Provinces	Mungli (Bilaspur)	6·68 "
Madras	Surada (Ganjam)	7·15 "

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 5th August.—The rainfall of the week in the Circars and the Carnatic was fair to good; some good scattered showers also fell in the Central and Southern districts, but there were only trivial local showers in the Deccan and on the West Coast. There is some improvement in the water-supply in the Circars and in parts of the Carnatic, but generally supplies are insufficient owing to the absence of good rain and in the Cauvery the water is very low. Wells in the Deccan are feeling the drought. Agricultural operations have been resumed where there has been rain, but generally they are at a stand-still in the Deccan and on the West Coast. The standing crops have improved where good rain has fallen. Pasture is generally very scanty or non-existent, but fodder is sufficient, except in a few parts of the Deccan. The condition of cattle is generally normal, though they are suffering in parts of the Deccan. The recent showers have improved prospects somewhat, but they are gloomy in the greater part of the Deccan districts and in some areas adjoining. Good rain is urgently wanted everywhere. The rise in prices has been checked in the Circars, the Deccan, and in the south, but elsewhere it continues.

Bombay.—For week ending 9th August.—There was slight rain during the week in parts of thirteen districts. Since the end of week over five inches were registered in one taluka of Kolaba and over two inches and half in another. More rain is urgently wanted everywhere. The river has fallen seriously in Sind and the water-supply in some canals is deficient. Sowing and transplantation are progressing in parts of Sind; elsewhere agricultural operations have been retarded and the standing crops have withered or are withering. Crops have been injured by insects in one taluka of Karachi and by high winds and rats in one of Thar and Parkar. Preparations for late crops have commenced in two talukas of Sholapur. A scarcity of water exists in one taluka of Bijapur. Fodder is scarce in parts of Sind, Guzerat, Khandesh, and Nasik; and is getting dearer in Sholapur and Ahmednagar. The condition of agricultural stock is generally fair. Prices are stationary in three districts, have fallen in Dharwar, and have risen elsewhere.

Bengal.—For week ending 7th August.—There has been general but comparatively moderate rain during the week. A break has now set in and has been very beneficial to the transplantation of winter rice. In parts of Orissa and Ranchi, however, the transplantation is retarded for want of sufficient rain. The autumn crops in the Patna and Bhagalpur divisions have been seriously damaged and the present break may help to a partial revival only. Reports of the sugarcane crop are good, except in parts of Lower Bengal, where it has suffered from excessive rain. The harvesting of early rice and jute is going on. Fodder is generally abundant. There was a rise in the price of common rice in the districts of Bihar and Chota Nagpur; elsewhere it was practically stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 9th August.—The rainfall has been comparatively light during the week, and more rain is required in many districts. Crops have benefited by the break and are generally doing well. Transplanting of rice and weeding continue. Locusts are reported to be breeding in Muzaffarnagar and are being treated with fungus. Supplies and fodder are sufficient. Prices are rising generally.

Punjab.—For week ending 9th August.—Rain has fallen in parts of Amballa, Lahore, Amritsar, Sialkot, and the Rawalpindi districts. The autumn sowings are still going on. More rain is urgently wanted for further sowings. The standing crops are generally in good condition, but if there is no rain soon, there is every prospect of their being seriously injured on account of the prolonged drought; they have commenced to wither on dry lands and the crops on the Bara Circle have suffered owing to the scanty supply of water in the stream. Cattle are generally in good condition, except in Sialkot, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan, where their condition is poor, owing to overwork and scarcity of fodder. Fodder is insufficient in Hissar, Shahpur, Dera Ismail Khan, and parts of Sialkot and sufficient elsewhere. Prices of food-grains are rising in all districts, except Dera Ismail Khan, where they are falling slightly. Wheat is selling from 15 to 20⅓, barley 26 to 27, gram 16 to 21, maize 24 to 27, great millet 18, bulrush-millet 14 to 23, and rice 12¾ to 13¾ seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 8th August.—The week's rainfall has again been very scanty; Bilaspur received 2 inches; Balaghat and Sambalpur one inch each; in Jubbulpore, Seoni, Chhindwara, Chanda, and Bhandara the fall approximated to half an inch, elsewhere a few cents to nil. The Wardha report has not been received. Anxiety has now begun to spread to the Northern districts, and the Nerbudda Valley and Betul must be added to the area where the situation is serious. In the Jubbulpore division, Chhindwara, and Bilaspur no serious damage has yet been caused, but rain is urgently needed. In the rice districts showers have given local and temporary relief, but transplantation has only been possible in a limited area of Balaghat and biasi (thinning operations) in a few localities in Bilaspur. Rain by the middle of the month would save six annas in the rupee of the Chanda rice crop and probably a larger proportion in Bhandara, Raipur, and Balaghat. In the cotton and juar country of Nagpur and Nimar the damage caused to the most important crops is not yet irreparable; in Wardha two-thirds of the autumn crops may yet be saved from ruin, though not from loss, but if the present dry winds continue, deterioration will be more rapid. Scarcity of fodder and water is severe in Chanda and Wardha, and is beginning to be felt over the western half of the Provinces. The numbers in receipt of village relief are—Saugor 5,033, Damoh 2,336, Hoshangabad 236, and Bilaspur 1,598. Prices are rising sharply in nearly every district, but in Chanda there has been a slight fall since last week. The cheapest prices are—wheat 16, gram 25, rice 17, and juar 20 seers per rupee. The dearest prices are—wheat 11, gram 14, rice 9, and juar 16 seers per rupee. The highest price of the cheapest staple in any district is 13 seers rice in Bhandara.

Burma.—For week ending 6th August.—In Lower Burma ploughing is completed; in Toungoo sowing and transplanting still continue; and in Prome transplanting has commenced and plants promise well. More rain is wanted in Myaungmya and in Mergui. In Upper Burma reaping of sesamum has commenced in Minbu and Magwe; ploughing for and sowing of wet weather paddy crops are approaching completion and transplanting continues generally; sowing of later crops is retarded for want of rain in Myingyan, except in the Sale township. The standing crops are withering and have withered in Myingyan and are withering in the Wundwin township of Meiktila. Early sesamum, cotton, and paddy are withering in parts of Sagaing, and want of rain is also felt in parts of Shwebo, in two townships of Thayetmyo, in the Salin township of Minbu, and the Budalin sub-division of the Lower Chindwin. Insects have done damage in the Salingyi township of the Lower Chindwin. Floods have occurred in the Pyinmana sub-division of Yamethin, and heavy rain has fallen in the Bhamo sub-division of Bhamo; elsewhere the crops are fair or good. Price of paddy has risen in Rangoon and in seven other districts, and has fallen in Thatôn and Myingyan.

Assam.—For week ending 8th August.—The weather is hot and rainy. Ploughing for and transplanting of late rice; reaping of early rice; and plucking and manufacture of tea are in progress. Prospects of tea are generally good. Planting of sugarcane is finished. Cutting of jute continues in Sylhet, where the condition of the crop is good. Fodder is scarce in Cachar, Nowgong, and in parts of Kamrup. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Gauhati, and Dhubri 16; Sylhet 24½; Tezpur, Nowgong, and Dibrugarh 13; and Sibsagar 12 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 8th August.—MYSORE: Rainfall—30 cents in the Civil and Military Station and slight rain in parts of the Province. The crops are withering. Prices have risen slightly in seven districts. Paddy has been sown in parts of Tumkur, Mysore, and Chitaldroog.

COORG: Rainfall—83 cents. Rain recommenced yesterday. Rice transplanting has been resumed. Prices are rising. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 9th August.—BERAR: No rain during the week. The weather is warm and cloudy. The monsoon crops are withering for want of moisture, and in some parts of Khamgaon taluq the standing crops have been totally destroyed. Land is being prepared for the ensuing winter crop. Sowings have been stopped. The fodder and water-supply is inadequate. The price of jowar is rising.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—45 cents. There is some hope of improvement for the standing autumn crops in eleven talukas, but elsewhere they are drying up. Prospects are getting more gloomy. Pasture and water are getting scarce. Prices of grain are rising. Prices—wheat 8¾, coarse rice 9, and jowari 18½ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 9th August.—The rainfall of the week was partial in Bhopal and Malwa; slight in Bundelkhand and general in Gwalior, but insufficient in all Agencies, except Gwalior. The standing crops have suffered in the Malwa and Bhopawar Agencies and on high lands in Baghelkhand. Pasturage is withering in Bhopawar and Malwa; is fair in Bhopal; and good elsewhere. Prices are normal in Gwalior and are rising in other Agencies.

Rajputana.—For week ending 9th August.—Rainfall—a few cents in Abu, Deoli, and Bikanir; slight falls in five tahsils of Sirohi and showers in Jeypore; average in Ajmere-Merwara one cent; no rain elsewhere. Agricultural operations are proceeding in parts, but the crops where sown are withering for want of rain in most parts of Rajputana. Cattle are deteriorating and fodder is very scarce in most parts. Prices are rising in eleven States and are steady elsewhere. Four persons emigrated from Ajmere and 751 from Merwara during the week. The total emigration to date numbers—5,644. The numbers employed on relief works were—Marwar 3,143 and Merwara 11,544. On ordinary works—Merwara 29 and on gratuitous relief 297. Prices—Marwar 13, Ajmere 16⅝, and Beawar 17⅛ seers per rupee. The season prospects are bad over the greater part of Rajputana and severe distress is apprehended unless rainfall recommences at once.

Kashmir.—For week ending 8th August.—Rain fell during the week. The weather is now fine and the prospects of autumn crops are excellent. Prices, continue below normal. Rice—27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 9th August.—Good rain fell during the week. Prices are rising slightly. Prices—wheat 16 to 20 and maize 23 to 29 seers per rupee. Sowings of the autumn crops are still in progress in some places, and the condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient.

Nepal.—For week ending 5th August.—Rainfall 2·10 inches. The weather is seasonable. Crop prospects are good. Rice—8½ seers per rupee.

11. A brief description of some of the accidents which resulted in loss of life, or injury to persons, is given below :—

East Indian railway—On the 15th October 1898, an up Giridih mixed train was admitted on to the second line at Giridih station instead of the platform line and collided with a train of wagons standing there. Ten passengers were slightly injured and the rolling-stock was damaged.

North Western State Railway.—On the 12th October 1898, an engine which was to work a down mail train collided with its train at Multan Cantonment station, while backing, owing to the carelessness of the driver and the shunting jemadar. Seven passengers were slightly injured and the rolling-stock was more or less damaged.

On the 4th December 1898, a down passenger train, while running into Sohawa station, was derailed near the facing points. The engine ran down the bank and the front brakevan and a third class carriage followed and were upset. Three passengers and four railway servants were injured. The permanent-way and rolling-stock were considerably damaged.

Great Indian Peninsula railway.—On the 12th October 1898, an up goods train collided with a down troop special train at Kadabgaon station, owing to the former train running through the station against signals. One railway servant was killed and the rolling-stock and permanent-way were considerably damaged.

On the 7th December 1898, a ballast train, while pushing back into the station from mile 140, collided with some empty carriages standing on the main line at Manmad station owing to the carelessness of the train staff. Five ballast coolies were slightly injured.

On the 17th December 1898, a down light engine ran into the rear of a down goods train at Khardi station, owing to proper signals not having been shown against it. A railway servant was injured and the rolling-stock and permanent-way were damaged.

Madras railway.—On the 30th October 1898, No. 132 train, which was being worked between Olavakot and Podanur stations with two engines, one pushing, parted shortly after leaving Kanjikod station. Immediately on arrival of the leading part at Walayar station, the rear portion which was closely following collided with the former. Three passengers were slightly injured.

Southern Mahratta railway.—On the 4th October 1898, nineteen vehicles on a down goods train were derailed at mileage 73—22 between Amárgol and Hubli stations, owing to the breakage of the trailing axle of a wagon due to a flaw in the metal. A railway servant was injured and the rolling-stock and permanent-way were considerably damaged.

RESOLUTION.—The Government of India notices that, with an increase of 1,619 miles or 8·19 per cent. in the mean mileage worked from January to December 1898, and of 5,510,659 miles or 8·25 per cent. in the train mileage run, the number of accidents to trains, rolling-stock, permanent-way, etc., on Indian railways shows an increase of 769 accidents or 16·59 per cent. as compared with the average of the three previous years.

2. The number of passengers killed and injured by accidents to trains, etc., were 6 and 66, respectively, against an average of 18 and 86 during the three previous years; while the number of passengers killed and injured from causes other than accidents to trains, etc., were 63 and 188, respectively, against an average of 63 and 191.

3. Out of a total of 150,567,899 passengers travelling, there were 69 killed and 254 injured, or an average of 1 killed in 2,182,143 and 1 injured in 592,787.

The proportion of passengers killed and injured by train accidents from causes beyond their own control, as compared with the numbers travelling, was 1 killed out of 25,094,650 and 1 injured out of 2,281,332.

4. The casualties to servants in the employ of railways or of contractors from accidents to trains, etc., were 23 killed and 62 injured, against 11 and 39, respectively, the average of the three previous years. From causes other than accidents to trains, etc., the casualties were 174 killed and 309 injured, against 172 killed and 321 injured.

5. With an increase of 8·19 per cent. in the mean mileage worked, and of 8·25 per cent. in the train mileage run, it is observed that the total number of casualties from all causes over the whole of the Indian railway system, as compared with the average of the three previous years, decreased under killed from 830 to 819 or by 1·32 per cent., and under injured, from 806 to 799 or by 0·87 per cent.

Accompaniment to Government of India, Public Works Department, Review No. 780 C. W. I., dated 2nd August 1899, published in Part I of the Gazette of India, dated 5th August 1899.

Note by A. R. Becher, Esq., Accountant General, Public Works Department, upon the accounts of Revenue and Expenditure of Irrigation Works in India for 1897-98.

The figures in the accounts attached to this note are those of the Finance and Revenue accounts of the Government of India, but certain additional figures taken from the Administrative accounts of the Public Works Department, Irrigation Branch, the Revenue Reports of Irrigation Works and the Annual Statement of the Financial Results of Irrigation Operations in India are also dealt with in various portions of the note.

2. The irrigation works in India are divided into two main classes, viz., Major Works and Minor Works.

Major Works are sub-divided into—

(a) Productive Works, the Capital of which has been provided from borrowed money; and

(b) Protective Works, the Capital of which has been provided out of the general revenues of India.

Minor Works are for the purpose of this note sub-divided into—

(a) Works for which Capital and Revenue accounts are kept; and

(b) Works for which Capital accounts are not kept.

3. Capital and Revenue accounts are kept for all Major Works. There are 50 projects classed as Major Works, of which one, viz., the Hijili Tidal Canal in Bengal, is a purely navigation canal. The accounts of the Sirsa Branch of the Western Jumna Canal in the Punjab (which was shown in the previous year's notes as a separate project) have been incorporated with those of the Western Jumna Canal.

Of these, 41 were sanctioned as works expected to be remunerative, i.e., estimated to pay the cost of up-keep as well as interest on Capital outlay. Some of these works having failed to realise these expectations the current outlay is being met from Revenue as explained in para. 21. The rest of these works are being constructed from funds provided from sources outside the general revenues. The remaining nine projects* were sanctioned as works of protection against famine, and the cost of their construction has been, or is being, paid for out of annual grants made from general revenues under the head of "Famine Insurance."

* North-Western Provinces and Oudh.
1. Betwa Canal.
Punjab.
2. Swat River Canal.
Madras.
3. Rushikulya Project.
Bombay, Deccan and Gujarat.
4. Nira Canal.
5. Mhaswad Tank.
6. Chankapur Tank.
7. Maladevi Tank.
8. Shetphal Tank.
9. † Gokak Canal, 1st Section.

† Now classed as a Minor Work and combined with the Gokak Storage Works.

4. The works classed as Minor Irrigation Works are numerous. Capital and Revenue accounts are kept for 80 separate projects of this class; for the others only one account of receipts and charges for each work or group of works is kept. The four works in Upper Burma which were shown in the previous year's note as works for which Capital and Revenue accounts are kept have been transferred to the category of works for which Capital accounts are not kept. Of the 80 projects for which Capital and Revenue accounts are kept, 6 are purely navigation canals, of which 2 are in Bengal and 4 in Madras.

5. One prominent feature in the transactions of Irrigation Works in India during the years 1896-97 and 1897-98 is the very high receipts from the canals in Northern India owing to the unusually dry nature of the seasons, in consequence of which there was a great demand for canal water. The impressions produced by these two years of drought on the occupiers of lands alongside the canals, will no doubt tend to stimulate a greater use of canal water in future.

6. The general financial results of all works for which Capital and Revenue accounts are kept are as follows :—

7. The net revenue derived from Major Works was better than that of the previous year by Rx. 377,161. This was due chiefly to the large increase of revenue from the canals in Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab, owing to the seasons having been very favourable for canal irrigation on account of drought, partly to the further increase of irrigation from the Chenab Canal in the Punjab and the Godavari and Kistna Delta Systems in Madras, and partly to favourable inundation and better working of the canals in Sind. The net profit to the State after paying interest on capital amounted to Rx. 1,105,184 against Rx. 758,731 in 1896-97. The net profit would have been considerably larger had it not been that the works in Bengal and the Deccan and the Kurnool Canal and Barur tank in Madras have failed to fulfil the conditions of Productive Public Works, as explained in para. 21 of this note.

8. The projects noted in the margin were not in operation during 1897-98. When these projects are completed and the irrigation from them and the Chenab Canal is fully developed, the net profit from Major Works will be still further increased. It is probable, however, that the profit during the next two or three years will probably be somewhat smaller than that in 1897-98 which was abnormally high owing to drought.

9. The net revenue from Minor Works was better than that of the previous year by Rx. 23,176. The important variations in the revenue from this class of works are explained in para. 37 below.

10. The receipts and charges of the year 1897-98 on Revenue account, exclusive of the figures relating to Minor Works for which only one general account is kept, are detailed in the following statement by funds and provinces :—

11. The foregoing table shows that after paying interest on money expended in the construction of works classed as Productive Public Works, the highest net profits were, as in the previous year, obtained from irrigation projects in the Punjab. The North-Western Provinces, Madras and Bombay follow in the order named. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab there was a great demand for canal water owing to drought. n Bengal the loss was, as explained in the previous years' reports, due to the permanent settlement which renders enhancement of land revenue impracticable.

12. The net revenue derived from Protective Irrigation Works fell short of the interest on the Capital expended on them by Rx. 40,272, against a deficiency of Rs. 50,442 in 1896-97. The improvement in 1897-98 was mainly due to an increase of revenue in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab owing to drought, and partly to a larger area having been brought under the influence of irrigation from the Nira Canal in Bombay. The only project which has paid off the interest on the Capital expenditure is the Swat River Canal in the Punjab, the other projects under this head failed to do so. The Mhaswad tank in Bombay failed even to cover the cost of its up-keep and maintenance.

14. Taken collectively by provinces the percentages of net revenue on the Capital outlay upon Major Works for the last three years are as follows:—

	1897-98	1896-97	1895-96.
1. Punjab	10 32	9·33	5·30
2. North-Western Provinces and Oudh . .	8·77	7 27	3·19

15. Omitting the figures for the Kurnool Canal which, as explained in para. 18, is not a remunerative work, the percentages in Madras would be—

	Per cent.
1897-98	11·31
1896-97	9·65
1895-96	10·01

16. The systems which in 1897-98 paid over 4 per cent. are arranged below in the order of the rate paid, and are compared with the results in the two previous years:—

17. The systems that have, up to the end of 1897-98, paid off the accumulated interest on the Capital expended on them are noted below :—

		Surplus.
		Rx.
1.	Godavari Delta System	3,513,629
2.	Western Jumna Canal, including Sirsa Branch	3,298,382

12.	Unharwah	38,637
13.	Eastern Nara Works	24,781
14.	Srivaikuntam Anicut System	5,073
	Assuming that the works are still worth the amount charged in each case to the Capital account, this represents a net profit to the State at the end of 1897-98 on these systems of	15,118,041
	The charge to the State on other Major Works is — Productive Works	9,142,660
	Protective Works	856,972
		9,999,632
	And this leaves a net profit to date on all Major Works of	5,118,409

18. The net profit of Rx. 15,118,041 from the fourteen projects detailed above exceeds the Capital invested in them by Rx. 4,071,439; and judging from the growth of irrigation on Productive Works as a whole it seems probable that whole of the money expended on their construction will be paid off within the next nine or ten years, even though some of the projects show no prospects of ever paying the interest on the Capital outlay.

19. The following statement shows the net charge to the State to the end of each year for the last five years on account of further projects, which are expected eventually to pay off the accumulated interest on their Capital cost :—

NOTE.—The projects which have not yet been opened for irrigation have been excluded from this statement.

20. The debit against all these projects decreased during 1896-97 and 1897-98. The Chenab Canal will be practically completed in 1899-1900, and it seems very likely that the debit against this canal will be cleared off before its completion.

21. The undermentioned works, the construction of which from borrowed money was undertaken prior to the introduction of the rules now in force laying down the conditions which must be fulfilled before a work can be classed as Productive, are not expected to repay the accumulated interest charges on the Capital invested in them :—

In addition to the above, the Kurnool Canal in Madras, which was purchased from the Madras Irrigation and Canal Company in 1882, is not likely ever to be a financial success, and the Barur tank also will probably not pay the interest on the Capital outlay. Under the rules contained in Public Works Department Code, Volume II, Chapter V, paragraph 35, clause VIII, the current expenditure on these works is provided out of the general revenues.

23. The gross revenue in 1897-98 exceeded that of the previous year by Rx. 405,889. The increase was contributed by every province. In Bengal, the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab the increase was due chiefly to the very large demand for canal water, owing to the unusually dry nature of the rabi season of 1896-97 and the large area irrigated during the kharif season of 1897. In the Punjab the further development of irrigation from the Chenab Canal helped to swell the receipts. The increase in Madras was due chiefly to the development of irrigation from the Godavari and Kistna Delta systems and the Periyar project. That in Bombay was mainly due to favourable inundation and better working of canals in Sind, and partly to a larger area having been brought under the influence of irrigation, and partly to scanty rainfall on lands watered by the Nira Canal.

24. The following statement shows, for each Major Work for the five years ending 1897-98, the gross revenue, the irrigated area, and the mileage of canals completed at the end of each year :—

27. The working expenses in 1897-98 were more than those of the previous year by Rx. 28,728. The principal variations are explained as follows :—

Bengal.—The increase of Rx. 7,097 was due to increased share of establishment charges and to heavier charges for collection of revenue.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—The increase of Rx. 14,507 was caused by the increased irrigation which necessitated an increase in the maintenance and collection charges.

Punjab.—The increase of Rx. 9,921 was due to increased maintenance charges on the Chenab Canal owing to the expansion of irrigation from the canal.

Madras.—The decrease of Rx. 14,030 was due to the expenditure in 1896-97 on repairs to damages caused by floods having been very large.

Bombay.—The increase of Rx. 11,233 was due partly to special repairs on the Bogari Canal, partly to the transfer to this head of the normal expenditure on famine relief work on the Lakh Canal and the Ekruk and Mhaswad tanks, and partly to increased collection charges.

28. The percentages of expenditure on the total expenditure incurred in each province during the five years ending 1897-98 and on revenue collected are shown in the following statement:—

(a) Excludes Rx 39,135, share due to old irrigation.

33. This table shows that in 1897-98 the highest percentage of return on the capital expended was derived from the canals in Sind, followed by the canals in the Punjab, Burma and Madras in the order named. The works in the Deccan and Gujarat show the worst results.

34. The net revenue derived in 1897-98 from the works constructed for irrigation purposes (excluding navigation) taken collectively amounted to 9·87 per cent. on the capital outlay to end of the year against 9·13 in the previous year. The increase was partly due to a further increase of revenue from the canals in Sind, owing to favourable inundation; and partly to the revision of settlement in the Dera Ghazi Khan district in the Punjab.

35. The revenue from the navigation canals fell below that of the previous year by Rx. 2,986 and the working expenses by Rx. 7,538, giving an increase of Rx. 4,552 in the net revenue. The net revenue from these canals returned 1·28 per cent. on the capital outlay against 1·08 in the previous year.

36. The revenue during 1897-98 derived from Minor Works for which Capital and Revenue accounts are kept is detailed in the following statement, and compared with the revenue of the previous four years:—

(a) [illegible] revenue from works in Upper Burma which have been transferred to the category of works for which only Revenue accounts are kept

37. The gross revenue in 1897-98 was better than that of the previous year by Rx. 23,740. The important differences are explained as follows:—

Burma.—The decrease of Rx. 20,081 was mainly due to the revenue derived from the Ma-ubin Island Embankment which was hitherto included with the revenue of the Henzada section of the Irrawady Embankments having been excluded in the accounts of 1897-98. The Ma-ubin Island Embankment is now treated as a work for which neither Capital nor Revenue accounts are kept.

Punjab.—The increase of Rx. 27,329 was due to the revision of the settlement in the Dera Ghazi Khan District.

Bombay.—The increase was Rx. 11,274. Of this increase, Rx. 10,345 occurred in the share of land revenue collected by the Civil Department, and was probably due to favourable inundation in Sind.

38. The working expenses of the year 1897-98 and of the previous four years are shown in the following statement:—

(a) Exclusive of Rx. [illegible] expenditure on works in Upper Burma.

39. The charges for maintenance and working for the year 1897-98 were less than those of the previous year by Rx. 15,579. The decrease was due to various causes, of which the most important was the transfer of Rx. 8,359 from the Fuleli Canals in Sind to the head "works for which Capital accounts are not kept," owing to a change in the classification of a line of bunds at Giddu Bandar. The decrease of Rx. 6,391 in Madras is attributed to the restriction of expenditure owing to famine.

40. The following table gives the percentages of expenditure on the total expenditure and on revenue collected in each province during the five years ending 1897-98:—

43. The gross receipts in 1897-98 exceeded those of the previous year by Rx. 7,629. The increase occurred mainly in the Punjab and Burma. The increase in the Punjab was due to an increase of revenue from the canals and bunds in the Punjab which are in charge of Civil officers. That in Burma was due to the navigation receipts from the Pegu and Sittang canals in 1896-97 being somewhat small owing to canals having been closed for traffic from the 15th December 1896 to the 24th March 1897.

44. A large portion of the revenue derived from this class of works is assessed and collected with the Land Revenue and is accounted for under the head "I—Land Revenue" in the Civil Accounts. It is only in the Irrigation revenue reports of the Public Works Department that credit for such indirect receipts is taken.

45. The expenditure from Imperial funds during 1897-98 was less than that of the previous year by Rx. 72,252. The decrease was mainly due to the expenditure on Minor Irrigation works in Upper Burma having been met from Provincial funds from 1st April 1897, and partly to a smaller programme of expenditure in Bombay. Although the expenditure in Upper Burma was made Provincial, the total expenditure of the year from Provincial funds fell short of that of the previous year by Rx. 9,878. The decrease was mainly due to the grant made available by the Government of Madras for expenditure during 1897-78, being considerably smaller than in the previous year.

No. 3824-P.

The 18th August, 1899.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department.

Read—

Despatch to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 142, dated the 1st June 1897.

Despatch from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, No. 125 (Financial), dated the 29th July 1897.

RESOLUTION.—In accordance with instructions received from Her Majesty's Secretary of State, the Governor General in Council has approved of the institution of a Provident Fund for officers of the Police Department throughout India of or above the rank of Assistant District Superintendent. The Government of India do not consider it desirable to make subscription to the Fund obligatory in the case of officers already in the service, except when such an officer being already married, or subsequently marrying, fails to make adequate provision for his family in other ways. In the case of officers thus exempted, whether married or unmarried, deposits will be voluntary and may be discontinued or renewed at the option of the depositor. Subscription to the Fund will, however, be obligatory in the case of all officers joining the service after the date of this Resolution.

2. The rules under which the Fund will, for the present, be conducted are attached to this Resolution.

3. Subscriptions to the Fund should first be made on salaries becoming due on the 1st of October 1899.

ORDER.—Ordered, that this Resolution be forwarded to the Home Department, with reference to the Office Memorandum from that Department, No. 358, dated the 27th July 1899; to all Local Governments and Administrations; to the Comptroller and Auditor General; and to all Accountants General and Comptrollers (except Comptroller, Post Office) for information.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

POLICE OFFICERS' PROVIDENT FUND.

1. Preamble.

I.—The institution of a Provident Fund under the conditions specified in Rule II is sanctioned for officers of the Police Department throughout India of or above the rank of Assistant District Superintendent.

2. Qualifications.

II.—The following officers will be required to subscribe to the Fund:

(a) All officers appointed in future, whether married or unmarried, from the date of their appointment.

(b) All married officers already in the service, excepting those who may be specially exempted under the orders of the Local Government in each case on production of evidence to the satisfaction of the Local Government that their families are adequately secured against want by subscription to the Uncovenanted Service Family Pension Fund, or in other suitable manner.

Note.—For the purposes of this rule the term "married officers" includes widowers with children, but excludes widowers without children. The latter are held to be "unmarried" for the purpose of Rule II (c).

(c) Officers at present in the service and now unmarried, on their marrying, except as provided in Rule II (b) above.

III.—Officers who are exempted from subscribing to the Fund under Rule II (b) shall be required to produce annually such evidence as shall satisfy the Local Government that the provision on account of which exemption is claimed is duly continued.

IV.—Officers already in the service, other than those required to subscribe under clauses (b) and (c) of Rule II, shall have the option of subscribing to the Fund. Inspectors on the A. list in Burma, being eligible for promotion to be Assistant Superintendents, are allowed to subscribe to the Fund. Officers with whom subscription to the Fund is optional may also discontinue or renew their subscriptions at their option.

3. Subscriptions.

V.—The conditions under which officers will join the Fund are as follows:

(1) The monthly deposit may not be less than 5 per cent. or more than 10 per cent. on the salary (as defined in the Civil Service Regulations) of each depositor for the month.

(2) An officer on leave of any kind may at his option subscribe any sum he pleases, subject to a minimum of 5 per cent. on his leave allowances and maximum of 10 per cent. on the salary he drew when last on duty.

Receipts of deposits.

VI.—Deposits will be recovered by deduction from bills, except in the following cases in which they may be made in cash in India:

(1) When an officer draws his leave allowances out of India.

(2) When an officer is on leave without allowances.

(3) When an officer is in foreign service. This does not apply to officers serving in Berar.

Cash subscriptions must be remitted by depositors to the Secretary of the Fund. Receipts and payments will be made in rupees only.

Arrear subscriptions of voluntary deposits are never allowed. Arrear subscriptions are permissible in the case of compulsory deposits and their recovery will be enforced even though it may result in a recovery in excess of the limit of 10 per cent. of the salary from which it is actually made.

4. Benefits.

VII.—Compound interest at 4 per cent. on the payments made will be annually credited by Government to each officer subscribing. The Government may at any time, at its option, and without giving any right to withdrawal of subscriptions, reduce the rate of interest to any rate not less than half per cent. in excess of that at which it is raising rupee loans in India.

Interest.

VIII.—Interest will be allowed for each calendar month upon the minimum balance of the depositor's account between the close of the fourth day and the end of the month. In calculating interest under this rule the deposits received by deduction from salary will be considered as paid into the Fund on the 1st of the month succeeding that for which the salaries from which the deductions are made are due. The interest will be calculated monthly, but will not be added to principal until the end of the official year, except when the account is to be finally closed on account of the depositors dying or quitting the service. Interest will be allowed up to the end of the month in which the depositor dies, or which immediately precedes that in which he quits the service, whether the balance at credit is withdrawn before or after the end of that month.

IX.—As exceptions to the rule that subscriptions realised by deduction from pay bills are to be considered for the purpose of calculating interest as paid into the Fund on the 1st of the month succeeding that for which the salaries from which the deductions are made are due:

(1) Deductions made from salaries paid in advance owing to transfer or long leave out of India are to be considered in the case of the former as having been made on the date on which an officer is relieved of his duties, and in the case of the latter, as having been made on the date on which the Account Office pays up an officer prior to embarkation.

(2) Deductions from salaries paid in arrears in consequence of promotion given with retrospective effect should be considered as having been made on the first of the month in which the arrears are drawn.

In the case of reversions made with retrospective effect, the write-back of the amount originally recovered in conformity with the rules should be considered as having been made on the first of the month in which the recovery is effected.

X.—The sum which will thus accumulate to the credit of an officer will be his absolute property, to be handed over to him unconditionally on quitting the service, or in the event of his death before retirement, to his legal representatives. Government will not be bound by or recognize any assignment or trust executed or attempted to be created by any officer during his lifetime, and will only make payments (1) during the lifetime of the officer on his own receipt; (2) after his death in accordance with Rule XI below.

XI.—The balances of deceased depositors are regulated by the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865), the Administrator General's Act (II of 1874) and the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889), in cases where the balance at credit of the deceased member exceeds two thousand rupees; and in cases where the balance at credit does not exceed two thousand rupees, by section 3 of the Provident Funds Act (IX of 1897) which is quoted below:

Section 3.—(1) When a subscriber to, or depositor in, any Government or Railway Provident Fund dies, and the sum standing to his credit in the books of the Fund does not exceed two thousand rupees, the officer or person whose duty it is to make payment of such sum may pay it as follows:

(a) He may pay it to any person entitled to receive it according to the rules of the Fund or, in the absence of any rule of the Fund to the contrary, to any person nominated in writing by the deceased subscriber or depositor to receive it;

(b) in any case not hereinbefore provided for, he may pay it to any person appearing to him to be entitled to receive it.

(2) The provisions of sub-section (1) shall apply to any such sum which, at the commencement of this Act, stands to the credit of any subscriber or depositor already deceased.

(3) Nothing in this section shall affect the validity of the rules of any Fund in so far as such rules may provide for the disposal of sums exceeding two thousand rupees.

5. Advances.

Withdrawals.

XII.—No withdrawal will ordinarily be allowed from the deposit until the depositor quits the service or dies. But on the Local Government being satisfied that the pecuniary circumstances of a depositor are such that the indulgence is absolutely necessary, a deposit may be temporarily withdrawn under orders issued by the Local Government—

(i) to pay for the passage of the depositor going on leave out of India on medical certificate or returning after such absence;

(ii) to pay for the passage of any member of the depositor's family coming from beyond the sea to join him, or going beyond sea, sick, or from some urgent cause.

XIII.—Before authorising a withdrawal under the above rule, the Local Government should ascertain from the Account Officer that the withdrawal is covered by the amount at credit, and no payment may be made, save under the orders of the Account Officer.

XIV.—Withdrawals under Rule XII will be recovered in twenty equal monthly instalments compulsorily deducted from salary in addition to contributions under rule V, whenever full salary is drawn until the whole is refunded. Such instalments may be paid in advance.

6. Procedure.

Administration of the Fund

XV.—The deposits received under the foregoing rules will be credited on the books of the Government to an account named "Police Officers' Provident Fund." The administration of the Fund will rest with the Government of India in the Home Department. The Account Officer of each Province will be the Secretary of the Fund for that Province, and will keep the Fund accounts for all officers in that Province as well as for officers on foreign service whose contributions on account of leave and pension are payable to him.

Note.—The Accountant General, Bengal, will be the Account Officer for Police Officers employed in Assam.

XVI.—A depositor must, when paying his subscription, whether his subscriptions to the Fund are recovered by deduction from bills, or paid in cash, specify the number of his account which will be communicated to him by the Account Officer by whom his account is opened.

Yearly advice to depositors.

XVII.—As soon as possible after the close of each year, each depositor will receive a statement of his account with interest made up to 31st March. Depositors are required to satisfy themselves as to the correctness of these statements; and, unless errors in them are brought to the notice of the officer rendering the account within one month from the date of their receipt, Government will not be responsible for any sums not thus acknowledged.

XVIII.—Any depositor may, once in the official year, but not oftener, receive, on application to the Account Officer concerned, a copy of his account for the last official year and for so many months of the current year as may have been posted and agreed.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 12th, 1899.

Important changes have taken place in the weather conditions during the past week. On Sunday pressure gave way rapidly in North Bombay, the area in which pressure has for so long been in persistent large excess, and for the first time for weeks pressure over this region was normal. At the same time the barometer began to fall in Lower Burma, and winds commenced to show signs of a cyclonic circulation in the Bay. On Monday the barometer continued falling over Burma and the Andaman Sea, and rain began decreasing in Bengal owing to the indraught into the area of low pressure in the Bay. On Tuesday a further fall of the barometer took place in Lower Burma, and a depression was shown in the Andaman Sea, south of Diamond Island, which began to advance in a north-westerly direction during the next twenty-four hours. On Thursday morning the storm had recurved to a certain extent, and travelling in a west-north-westerly direction was approaching the Orissa Coast between False Point and Gopalpore. The storm probably crossed the Coast near Puri on Thursday afternoon, and on Friday morning was shown lying over the eastern districts of the Central Provinces, but it had filled up to a great extent and was only a large area of nearly uniform pressure covering the whole of the Central Provinces. The Arabian Sea monsoon current, which, since the disappearance of the abnormally high pressure over the head of the Peninsula, had steadily been increasing in strength, had given increasing rain to the West Coast districts and the Deccan up to Thursday, the day on which the depression from the Andaman Sea had crossed the Orissa Coast; but on Friday it suddenly fell off in strength and failed to feed into the depression in the Central Provinces. The depression thus deprived of the indraught of humid winds from the Arabian Sea rapidly filled up, and by Saturday morning was only a feeble diffused depression of no importance. It had, however, given favourable, but not heavy, rain over the greater part of the Central Provinces, and had caused a strong inrush of monsoon winds into Bengal, which by Saturday had extended up the Gangetic Plain as far as the western districts of the North-Western Provinces.

The Arabian Sea monsoon current during the short period, for which it regained its normal strength, gave moderate to heavy rain in the West Coast districts,—Mercara on the 10th receiving seven inches,—and much needed showers in the Deccan. Thundershowers were also received in the Punjab plains on the 8th, but practically no rain has fallen in Gujarat and Kathiawar during the week, and only a few light showers in Rajputana.

Unusually high temperatures have been registered over the greater part of India during the week, the area of largest excess being Rajputana and the South Punjab.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, August 6th.—Pressure had given way everywhere, the largest fall occurring in North Bombay and Rajputana. The abnormally high pressure over this region, which had for so long been a persistent feature in the pressure conditions, had disappeared, and pressure was now normal. Pressure was in moderate to large defect in the Punjab, normal or in slight defect in Bengal and in considerable to large defect in Burma and over the east of the Bay. Temperature was in excess over the whole country, with the exception of Bengal, Assam, Upper Burma and Sind. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma and Bengal, and showers in the Upper India hill districts and on the West Coast. Some heavy falls were reported from North and East Bengal.

Monday, August 7th.—The barometer had fallen briskly in Burma, the north-east of the Bay and the Andaman Sea, and a depression was in course of formation in the Andaman Sea where pressure was in very large defect. Pressure was very uniform over North-Eastern India and the head of the Bay. Pressure had increased briskly to rapidly in the North and Central Punjab and the Upper India low pressure area had been transferred southwards to Upper Sind. Temperature had fallen slightly over the greater part of the country. It was in defect in Assam, but averaged more than 5° in excess in the provinces of Berar, Rajputana and Madras Deccan. Showers had fallen in the Konkan, parts of Gujarat and the West Bombay Deccan, and in the East Punjab and Upper India Hills. Rain had fallen in smaller amounts in Burma and North-Eastern India.

Tuesday, August 8th.—Pressure had fallen slightly to briskly in Bengal, the northern half of the Bay and Lower Burma, and the depression had continued to develop in the Andaman Sea. Pressure had risen briskly to rapidly in Upper India and slightly to briskly on the Bombay and Kathiawar Coasts. Temperature had increased in Bengal, Assam, Mysore and Gujarat and had fallen in the Punjab. Mean temperatures averaged 5½° above the normal in Rajputana, and 5° in Berar and Orissa. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Tenasserim and Burma, but practically no rain had fallen in Bengal and Assam. Light to moderate rain had been received in the West Coast districts, and thundershowers over a considerable part of the Punjab and Kashmir.

Wednesday, August 9th.—Pressure had risen briskly in Lower Burma, Tenasserim and the Andaman Sea and had fallen slightly to briskly in Bengal and the Madras Coast districts. The storm in the Bay had moved in a north-westerly direction. Pressure had risen slightly to briskly in North Bombay and was in considerable excess over Sind, Kathiawar and South-West Rajputana. Temperature had fallen more or less over nearly the whole of the Peninsula and was most largely in excess of the normal in Northern India. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Burma and light to moderate rain in the West Coast districts, Mysore and the greater part of the Deccan. Showers had been received in the Bengal Coast districts.

Thursday, August 10th.—Pressure had increased rapidly in Burma and briskly in Bengal. It had fallen over the whole of the Peninsula and in North-Western and Central India, the fall being largest in Orissa, North Madras and the Central Provinces. The storm had advanced in a west-north-westerly direction and was approaching the coast between False Point and Gopalpore. It had apparently filled up slightly, but was a fairly well marked cyclonic storm of moderate intensity. Fairly general but moderate rain had fallen in Burma, South and East Bengal and Orissa, and general and moderately heavy rain in the West Coast districts, where Mercara had received 7·2 inches, Ratnagiri 2·83 inches and Karwar 2·7 inches. Showers had fallen over a considerable portion of the interior of the Peninsula and in North Madras. Temperature had fallen largely in the areas of rainfall in the Peninsula and slightly in North-Eastern India, but had risen considerably in North-Western and Central India.

Friday, August 11th.—Pressure had again increased in Burma and Bengal and had given way in the Peninsula and North-Western India. The depression had passed into the eastern districts of the Central Provinces and was central near Sambalpur. It had filled up to some extent and was a large area of nearly uniform pressure covering the whole of the Central Provinces. Temperature averaged from 5° to 11½° above the normal in the provinces of Rajputana, Central India, North-Western Provinces, Punjab, Central Provinces, Berar and Gujarat. Light to moderate rain had been received in Burma, the greater part of Bengal, Orissa, Chota Nagpur, Bihar and the West Coast districts, and moderate to heavy rain over a considerable portion of the Deccan and Berar.

Saturday, August 12th.—The barometer had risen briskly in the Central Provinces and on the Madras Coast. The depression had moved in a north-westerly direction to the northern districts of the Central Provinces, but had almost filled up. Mean temperatures were in excess of the normal over the whole of Northern India and in defect in Burma, Berar, Mysore and the Madras Deccan. Rainfall had increased in Bengal, and moderately heavy general rain had fallen in Burma. Showers had been received in the Central Provinces, Berar, on the West Coast, in Rajputana and parts of Madras.

Temperature.—The week has been marked by unusually high temperature. On Sunday the only province in which temperature was in defect was Assam. As rainfall ceased in North-Eastern India, while the cyclonic storm was in course of formation in the Bay, temperature rose in Assam, and by Tuesday was in slight excess of the normal. Showers in the Punjab had caused a very rapid fall of temperature in that province on the same day, but temperature quickly rose again, and on Friday day temperatures in the Punjab averaged 9·6° in excess of the normal. In the Peninsula large changes in temperature occurred, due to the rainfall given by the Arabian Sea monsoon current to the West Coast districts and the Deccan. Mean temperatures on Sunday were 6·0° in excess in the Madras Deccan, but on Friday they had fallen to 7·2° in defect. The areas in which temperature was persistently in excess throughout the week were Rajputana, the central districts and the North-Western Provinces. In Rajputana temperatures were most largely in excess of the normal, the excess ranging from 4·8° on Sunday to 11·6° on Saturday. Maximum temperatures reported on Saturday were, on an average of all stations in that province, 14·3° above the normal, and at individual stations the excess amounted to as much as 16·0°.

The mean temperature of the week was normal in only Mysore and the Madras Deccan and was in excess in all other provinces, the excess being largest in Rajputana (7·7°), Central India (5·4°), Central Provinces (5·1°), Berar (4·6°) and the North-Western Provinces (4·5°).

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

Rain.—The indraught into the area of the depression in the Andaman Sea caused a partial break in the rains in Bengal and to a smaller extent in Burma, and it was not till the end of the week when the cyclonic storm had crossed the Orissa Coast that rainfall again commenced heavily in North-East India. The rainfall of the week has hence been in defect of the normal over nearly the whole of Burma, Bengal, Assam and the North-Western Provinces. The only division which received rain in excess of the normal was Upper Burma. The cyclonic storm gave light to moderate rain to the Central Provinces and Berar at the end of the week, but the amounts received did not equal the normal rainfall for the whole week, and thus the rainfall of the week in the central districts of the country was also in defect of the normal.

Practically no rain has fallen in Rajputana, Kathiawar and Sind, and the rainfall of the Punjab was in all divisions in defect of the normal, though exceedingly heavy rain fell in the Kangra Valley during the week. Light rain was received in Gujarat, the largest total amount received being 2·55 inches at Chikli in the Surat division, and during the short period of its temporary renewed activity the Arabian Sea monsoon current gave favourable rain to the West Coast, the Deccan and the central and coast divisions of Madras. . The week's rainfall at several stations in these areas exceeded 3 inches in amount, the principal amounts reported being · Karwar, Mandagad, Pen and Thana in the Konkan, Karkal (Mangalore) and Mercara, from 4 to 14 inches each; Bavda (Kolhapur), 10·06 inches; Chandgad (Belgaum), 3·10 inches; Hyderabad (Deccan), 3·65 inches; and Kurnool, Nandyal (Kurnool), Gooty (Anantapur), Yemmiganur (Bellary) and Ramagiri (Ganjam), amounts ranging from 3 to 4 inches. In only the following divisions, however, did the average actual rainfall of the week exceed the normal: Coorg, Khandesh, East Coast (North), Madras (Central) and East Coast (Central).

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period June 4th to August 12th was normal or in excess in Tenasserim, Central Burma, Arakan, the whole of Bengal and the North-West Provinces, the Punjab Hills, North Punjab and the East Coast (north). In Lower and Upper Burma, the remaining divisions of the Punjab and Madras and the whole of the Bombay and Malabar Coast districts, Central Provinces, Berar, North Bombay, Rajputana and Central India rainfall of the period has been in defect by more than 20 per cent. of the normal rainfall.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

Burma	Bilin (Thatôn)	13·43	inches.
Bengal and Assam . .	Sunamganj (Sylhet)	13·39	„
	Cherra Poonjee	18·38	„

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 12th August.—The rainfall of the week in the Circars, the northern portion of the Nellore district, the greater part of the Deccan and the West Coast districts was good. In the remainder of the Presidency it was light or nil. The water-supply has improved where rain has fallen, but the want of water in the Cauvery is much felt. In consequence of the recent rain agricultural operations have been actively resumed in the Deccan, the Circars and the West Coast districts, where the standing crops have improved; but more rain is much wanted everywhere and urgently in the southern half of the Presidency. Sowings up to July show a decrease on the average of half a million acres in the Deccan; but the rainfall of the 9th and 10th instant has improved prospects there. Some small harvests are in progress generally and the first crop on the West Coast districts is yielding a fair outturn. Pasturage is improving in parts and fodder is generally sufficient. Cattle are in fair condition. Prices are generally easier in the Circars and the Deccan, but have an upward tendency elsewhere.

Bombay.—For week ending 16th August.—Rain has fallen in all districts of the Presidency Proper; the fall was good in the Konkan and moderate or slight elsewhere, except in Baroda territory where there was no rain and very little in Kathiawar. Transplanting has been resumed and prospects have considerably improved in the Konkan. Elsewhere the rainfall has been sufficient to benefit the standing crops. In the greater part of Surat and Khandesh, in parts of Nasik and Satara, and in isolated talukas of Ahmedabad, Bijapur, Sholapur, and Ahmednagar more rain is urgently wanted to save the withering crops and to start agricultural operations afresh. Preparations for the late crops are in progress in two talukas of Sholapur. The river has slightly risen in Sind; but there is still a moderate deficiency of water. Fodder is scarce in parts of Sind, Guzerat, Kathiawar, Khandesh, and Nasik and is getting dearer in Sholapur, Satara, and Bijapur. Agricultural stock are in fair condition. Prices have fallen in six districts, are stationary in three, and have risen elsewhere. Test works are being opened in parts of Guzerat.

Bengal.—For week ending 14th August.—Rain fell in every district during the week, though the amounts were generally moderate. More rain is needed in Orissa and one or two districts in Chota Nagpur. The rice crop throughout the Province is doing well, the only unfavourable report of any importance coming from the 24-Parganas. The autumn rice crop has improved owing to the diminution in the rainfall, but it is feared that there is no chance of a good outturn. Other crops, jute and sugarcane especially, appear to be doing well. Prices show a tendency to rise.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 16th August.—The rainfall during the week has been general. The falls have been good in the Himalayan, Central, Submontane, South Oudh, and South-Eastern districts, but slight elsewhere. More rain is badly needed in several districts, especially in those of the Upper and Central Doab, where the crops are suffering. The crops generally have benefited by the recent rain, but maize and rice in Etah are said to be withering, and the condition of sugarcane in Benares is reported to be bad. Prospects are fair on the whole. Markets are well-stocked and fodder is abundant. Prices have risen generally, except in Lucknow, Cawnpore, and the Northern and Central districts, where they show a tendency to fall.

Punjab.—For week ending 16th August.—Rain has fallen in all districts, except Amritsar and Peshawar. Sowings of the autumn crops continue and ploughings for the coming spring crops have commenced in Jullundur. The condition of the standing crops is generally reported good to average, but crops dependent on rain are mostly suffering from long drought, and rain is urgently wanted. The Bara stream, in the Peshawar district, is reported to be in flood, but not sufficiently for irrigation purposes. The recent rain has benefited the standing crops to a certain extent in some districts. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except Hissar, Sialkot, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan. Prices, especially of wheat, the staple food-grain, are rising in Mooltan, Lahore, Amritsar, and Shahpur, falling in Umballa, Jullundur, Peshawar, and Dera Ismail Khan, and are unchanged elsewhere. Wheat is selling from 15 to 21, barley 26 to 27, gram 16 to 21, maize 24 to 27, great millet 18, bulrush-millet 15 to 23, and rice 12½ to 13 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 15th August.—There has been general rain during the latter part of the week. Chanda received 7 inches, Bilaspur 5, Jubbulpore, Mandla, Narsinghpur, Wardha, Bhandara, and Balaghat, each about 4, Sambalpur 3½, Saugor 2¼, and Nimar, Betul, Chhindwara, and Raipur, each over an inch. The remaining four districts received ¾ of an inch. Prospects of the autumn crops have improved everywhere; they are now generally good in the Jubbulpore division and in Chhindwara, and except on the lighter soils, fair to good in the Nerbudda Valley and Betul. In the cotton and juar country the standing crops have been much benefited. Re-sowing is proceeding vigorously in Wardha, and germination so far has been good. More rain, however, is still required and much more in the rice tracts where transplantation and biási (thinning operations) are still very backward. Heavy rain before the 25th instant would probably save the greater part of the crop. Sambalpur continues to do well. Fodder and water are reported scarce in Nimar, Betul, Chhindwara, and the Nagpur division. Government forests have been opened to grazing where necessary. The numbers in receipt of village relief are—Saugor 5,414, Damoh 2,228, and Bilaspur 1,651. Labour is again available in Nimar, Betul, and Raipur, and to a small extent, for transplantation, in the Wainganga rice tracts. Prices fluctuate from day to day with the rainfall. Juar is generally cheaper and in Chattisgarh, probably in consequence of the cessation of abnormal export, wheat and rice have both fallen in price. The cheapest prices are—wheat 16, gram 26, rice 17, and juar 24 seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 11, gram 15½, rice 9½, and juar 16½ seers per rupee. The highest price of the cheapest staple in any district is 12 seers (rice) in Bhandara.

Burma.—For week ending 12th August.—In Lower Burma ploughing has been completed. In Akyab, Thongwa, Thatôn and Tavoy sowing and transplanting continue. The crop promises well. In Upper Burma reaping of early sesamum has commenced in Thayetmyo, Sagaing, and Myingyan and is progressing elsewhere. Sowing and transplanting of the wet weather paddy crop continue.

Ploughing for and sowing of juar, late sesamum or peas continue in Sagaing, parts of the Lower Chindwin, Meiktila, and Myingyan. Timely rain has fallen and crop prospects have improved. Damage by flood is reported in the Bhamo sub-division of Bhamo and the riverain tract of the Ruby Mines district. Early sesamum and maize in the Minhla township of Thayetmyo are withering for want of rain, also early sesamum in parts of Sagaing. Elsewhere the standing crops are fair, except in the Myedu township of Shwebo and the Kyoukpadoung township of Myingyan. Early sesamum has almost entirely failed in the Pagan sub-division of Myingyan and partial remission of thathameda will be necessary there. The price of paddy has risen in Pegu, Prome, Amherst, Thayetmyo, and Myingyan and has fallen slightly in Rangoon.

Assam.—For week ending 15th August.—The weather is hot and rainy. Ploughing for and transplanting of late rice, reaping of early rice, and plucking and manufacture of tea are in progress. Prospects of tea are generally good. Cutting of jute continues in Sylhet, where the condition of the crop is good. Fodder is scarce in Cachar, Nowgong, and in parts of Sylhet, Goalpara, and Kamrup owing to floods. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Dhubri, and Gauhati 16; Sylhet 24; Tezpur 12½; Nowgong 12; Sibsagar 11; and Dibrugarh 13 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 15th August.—MYSORE: Rainfall—1 inch 33 cents in the Civil and Military station and good rain in parts of the Province. Prospects are fair. Prices have risen in Tumkur, Kolar, Kadur, and Shimoga. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in Tumkur.

COORG: Rainfall—14 inches 33 cents. Transplanting of rice continues. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been damaged by the long break. Prices of food-grains are rising. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 16th August.—BERAR: Average rainfall during the week 1 inch 16 cents. The weather is cloudy. There is a general improvement in the state of the crops, but more rain is needed. Preparation of land for the ensuing winter crop continues. Sowing and weeding have recommenced. The fodder and water-supply is insufficient throughout the Province. The price of jowar has fallen slightly.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—1 inch 72 cents. Agricultural prospects have improved since the submission o the last report. Sowings for the autumn crop and of rice have been resumed. The standing crops have been much benefited by timely rain. Prices of grain have risen slightly. Prices—wheat 8¾, coarse rice 9, and jowari 18 seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 16th August.—The rainfall has been general in Gwalior and Baghelkhand and partial in the Bhopal, Malwa, and Bhopawar Agencies, where more rain is badly wanted. Agricultural operations are in progress. Crops have been damaged in parts of the Bhopawar and Malwa Agencies, but are fairly good elsewhere. Pasturage is fair in Bhopal, bad in Malwa, withering in Bhopawar, and good elsewhere. Prices are normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand and are rising in other Agencies.

Rajputana.—For week ending 16th August.—The rainfall has been practically nil throughout the Rajputana Agency, though a few cents have fallen in isolated tracts. Agricultural operations are at a standstill and certain crops are withering for want of rain in most States. Cattle are generally deteriorating and fodder is very scarce. Prices are rising in twelve States and are steady elsewhere. 750 persons emigrated from Marwar, 2 from Ajmere, and 1,052 from Merwara during the week. The total emigration from Ajmere-Merwara to date numbers—6,696. The numbers employed on relief works were—Marwar 7,962 and Merwara 15,860. On ordinary works—Merwara 61 and on gratuitous relief 378. Prices—Marwar 11½ and Ajmere 15½ seers per rupee. Prospects are generally most discouraging, more particularly in Sirohi, Jodhpur, Jesulmere, Bikanir, Merwara, and parts of Udaipur and Tonk. These States cover by far the larger part of the Province. The situation is still fair, though daily growing less favourable in Kotah, Bundi, Jeypore, and the small North-Eastern States.

Kashmir.—For week ending 15th August.—Rain fell during the week. The weather is now fine. Prospects of the autumn crops are excellent. Prices continue below normal. Rice—27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 16th August.—Slight rain fell during the week. Prices are generally stationary. Prices—wheat from 16 to 20 and maize 23 to 29 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient.

Nepal.—For week ending 12th August.—Rainfall 5·05 inches. The weather has been dull and wet. The rice crop is progressing well, but Indian-corn requires some sunshine. Rice—8½ seers per rupee.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

REPORT UPON THE OPERATIONS OF THE PAPER CURRENCY DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1898-99.

No. 146, dated Calcutta, the 26th July 1899.

From—The Head Commissioner of Paper Currency, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department, Simla.

1. I have the honour to submit a report upon the operations of the Paper Currency Department for the year 1898-99.

2. Officers in Charge.—The duties of Head Commissioner at Calcutta were discharged by the late Mr. Stephen Jacob during only a part of April 1898, when he was relieved by Mr. C. T. Barrow. Mr. Barrow was in October relieved by Mr. A. F. Cox, who held the appointment during the rest of the year, and was confirmed in it after the lamented death of Mr. Jacob on 11th December 1898. Mr. Jacob had been Head Commissioner since 1890.

The Commissionership at Bombay was held by Mr. Barrow for part of April. He was succeeded by Mr. W. L. Harvey, who in August gave over charge to Mr. J. C. E. Branson. In Madras Mr. T. H. Biggs was Commissioner for the whole year, except its first three days. In Burma the Commissioners were Mr. C. Rivett-Carnac until November, and from that month Mr. R. E. Hamilton.

3. The monthly audit of the accounts of each office has been reported to the Comptroller General, and special audits have also been made of the Bombay, Karachi, Calicut and Rangoon Offices.

4. Circulation.—Excluding the value of notes, which, though they had been paid off at some office, had not yet been returned for cancellation to their office of issue, the gross Paper Currency Circulation rose during the year from 2,428 lakhs to 2,820 lakhs, but the average for the year was only 2,563 lakhs, and compares with the averages of previous years, as shown in the margin. The high figures of the years 1893-94 to 1895-96 were caused by the very high Government balances which then collected, in consequence of reduced sales of Council bills after the Mints were closed in 1893. These balances were gradually worked off by large expenditure on public works and reduced borrowing, and at the close of 1895-96 had returned to their normal proportions. It might have been expected that from 1896-97 the tide would have turned and the gross circulation again expanded; but that year was one of plague, famine, war, and tight money markets, and the result was a very remarkable decrease. Both plague and famine characterised 1897-98, which opened with a Bank rate of 10 per cent. and closed with one of 12 per cent., though it had fallen so low as 5 per cent. in the interval. The effect was to still further contract the circulation, and this tendency continued during the beginning of 1898-99, when the Bank rate was still abnormally high. The circumstances of the past year, however, have been distinctly more prosperous than those of the two previous years: the famine ceased and though plague continued the people had become more used to it, so that there was no such interruption of business as resulted from the panic of its early days, and the circulation has gradually improved. It reached 2,567 lakhs at the end of January 1899, and within the next two months advanced to 2,820 lakhs. It was during these months that, for the first time, very large sums in gold, amounting to 245 lakhs, were given to Government in exchange for Currency Notes, and the simultaneous increase in the gross Paper Currency Circulation suggests the conclusion that a great part must have remained in that form when the year ended. The only previous large tenders were 22 lakhs in March 1898, and a like amount in January 1899.

5. The circumstances which led to extreme monetary stringency during the busy season in 1897 and 1898, and so largely affected the note circulation, have excited a good deal of discussion, and it may be interesting to examine the facts connected with them. The course of India's foreign trade, so far as our statistics can show it, appears in the following table, in which the value of Government stores is excluded from the imports, since they form part of the home charges and have to be paid for in England, and not in India. The figures represent lakhs of Rupees.

6. There is nothing in these figures to account for the scarcity of money during the first, at any rate, of these two years. India's trade balance is settled not only by Council bills, but by other homeward remittances, which must always be considerable, though we have no exact information as to their amount. They consist of family remittances, remittances of interest due on foreign capital invested in Indian industries, and the like. Ordinarily, therefore, in a statement of the kind given above, there will be an entry of Councils under-bought although the account has been fully settled. But in 1897-98, even after allowing for the 100 lakhs remitted to India by the Secretary of State when the sale of Councils was suspended from October to December, Council bills, though under-bought for October, November and December, appear, taking the year as a whole, to have been over-bought by no less than 148 lakhs. There must, therefore, have been special circumstances to produce stringency in a market which otherwise would have been amply supplied.

7. In 1896 the price of Government securities had risen so high that the loan of that year, for 400 lakhs, was issued at a reduced rate of interest, viz., 3 per cent. It was well received and continued in favour for a few months, until the alarm of famine created a disturbance in the market for Government paper and brought 255 lakhs of Indian Securities back to India during 1897-98. The loan issued in that year at 3½ per cent. was also a large one, 350 lakhs, and altogether during those two years the additions made to Indian holdings by new loans and returns from Europe amounted to some 1,000 lakhs. The effect was to glut the market and force down the prices of both 3 and 3½ per cents. the former of which became quite unsaleable and the latter could only be sold in small quantities and at a heavy sacrifice. The scarcity of money in 1897-98, therefore, was partly due to the large demands made upon local capital for loans against Government paper. Another cause may be found in the peculiar circumstances of the import trade. The first effect of the famine was to stop all orders for imported goods, but goods which had already been contracted for continued to arrive and appear as imports in the statement given above. They were not, however, taken delivery of on contract dates, and importers had to lay them up and borrow from the market to meet their obligations with manufacturers abroad. With this lock up of loanable capital in unmarketable goods and unmarketable securities, there was not enough left to finance even the contracted trade of that year. The coin did not leave the country, but it left the locality where it was urgently needed. Thus enormous sums were sent to Burma and to the western districts of the North-Western Provinces, where good crops were raised on irrigated land, to pay for high priced food grains needed in the famine-stricken districts. The large Government loans, too, were sprinkled over the country by being spent in railway construction or military operations on the frontier. All this money took much more time than would have been taken in an ordinary year to trickle back to the centres where capital collects, for in that year cultivators were compelled to withhold the payment of revenue to the state and could not afford to pay for imported goods. Native banking operations were also greatly disorganised by the sudden outbreak of plague and famine, which caused crowds of Marwaris to flee, at first from Bombay, and later on from Calcutta as well, taking with them money which would ordinarily have circulated as loanable capital. And away from the cities the native capitalists, who in the aggregate had lent large sums to cultivators, were taken by surprise, when they could get neither principal nor interest from their debtors. There were numerous failures among shroffs and traders, and the uncertainty of the prospect caused those who remained solvent to husband their resources and decline advances to cultivators and traders until greater certainty was restored.

8. The circumstances of 1898 were rather different. The import trade was less blocked, and local deliveries improved sufficiently to clear off stocks before October, but new orders had been given with caution and goods arrived in quantities which were small when compared with the large amounts of produce sent down for export in consequence of bountiful harvests all over India. The stringency of 1898 was, therefore, largely due to the excess of exports over imports, though the absence of a demand for Government paper and all other securities still locked up a good deal of loanable capital. The provision to meet the excess of exports was in arrears all through the season. When in January 1898 exchange reached 16*d.*, there was a general rush to remit money to England because exchange could not become much more favourable and might possibly become less so. Not only did private persons thus remit their savings out of India, but operators in exchange also were reluctant to bring out money with the risk of a fall. These causes account for the stringency of 1897 and 1898, without making it necessary to suppose that there was any general scarcity of currency in the country. By July 1898, the difficulty had passed away, and though the 1899 season was a busy one there was no stringency. Councils were sold and bought freely, and the state of the exchanges between Australia and England became such as to induce the Exchange Banks to import Australian gold in large quantities, 268 lakhs of which was paid over to Government between January and March 1899.

9. The gross circulation is, however, no measure of the use made of paper money by the people in the ordinary transactions of daily life, because it includes the value of notes held by Government itself in its various treasuries and by the Presidency Banks. The balances of Government vary very largely during the year rising from some 8 or 9 crores in November to about 15 crores in April, because while the public expenditure continues fairly regular during the year, more than half of the 28 crores received as Land Revenue is collected during the months of January, February and March. A large part of the balances, when at this period they are at their highest, is converted for convenience into notes and the gross circulation is thus increased. The balances of the Presidency Banks also vary considerably during the year, but in a direction generally contrary to that of the Government balances, so that the two variations tend to neutralise one another. As the Banks, like Government, turn into notes so much of their money as is not at once needed for use, the gross circulation is affected by their temporary action.

10. In order, therefore, to ascertain the use made of Paper Currency by the people, it is necessary to deduct from the gross circulation the value of notes held both by Government and by the Presidency Banks at their head offices. This deduction is made in the following table which shows what has been the net or active circulation of notes among the people during the last three years:—

(a) In the report for 1897-98, the amounts held in Reserve Treasuries were inadvertently included in this column, and consequently produced incorrect results under circulation with the public and among the people.

11. The average during the year of the active circulation thus appears to have been only slightly above that of 1897-98 and a good deal less than that of the previous year. It would have been lower still but for the large receipts of sovereigns by the Currency Department at the close of the year, which caused the active circulation to rise during the months of January to March though in ordinary years, it falls off considerably during these months. The increase in February was 54 lakhs and in March 40 lakhs. The active circulation therefore which has been contracting since 1895-96 has only just begun to expand again.

12. The variations in the gross circulation during the year is in the following statement distributed among the various circles:—

The average of every circle except Allahabad and Karachi has increased and the sudden rise at the end of the year appears, as might be expected, chiefly in Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras. The falling off in Rangoon during March was due to the unusual slackness of the rice trade in that month.

13. It is not possible to bring out for each circle the active circulation by the method employed above in respect of the total circulation, because both Treasuries and Presidency Banks hold notes of circles other than their own. The Reserve Treasuries, however, hold practically the whole of their balances in notes of their own circles, and in the following table the circulation of the three larger circles is accordingly reduced by the note'balances of the Reserve

Treasury, and is compared with the corresponding results for the preceding two years :—

The sudden drop in the Calcutta Circle during September may be partly attributed to the payment there in that month of 37 lakhs towards the Government 120 lakh loan. Excepting this remarkable variation, the statement otherwise shows an increase during the year in all these circles which became more rapid in February and March.

The percentages of increase or decrease during last year and the year before are shown below the totals of those years, and the statement shows that whereas in 1897-98 the number of notes in circulation had decreased except in the denominations R5 and R10, there was an increase in all values in 1898-99. In Bombay the increase in small value notes was remarkable and arose perhaps from familiarity with the visitation of plague having encouraged petty trading in that city. The alarm caused by the plague is on the contrary cited as the cause of the falling off in notes of R10 and R50 in the Calcutta circle. The large rise in the number of notes of R1,000 and R10,000 is perhaps to be explained by the exchange of gold in March having been taken in high value notes for the table gives the figures of the last day of March 1899.

15. Dividing the net circulation between Notes of R500 and upwards, and notes below R500, the values at the end of each of the last three years have been—

	Notes of R100 and under, value.	Percentage of total.	Notes of R500 and upward, value.	Percentage of total.	TOTAL.
	R		R		R
1896-97 . .	12,93,50	54	10,81,83	46	23,75,33

1898-99 . .	13,98,57	50	14,21,75	50	28,20,33

Contrary to the experience of recent years the proportion of the higher value notes has risen slightly, the reason being probably the issue of high values in March in exchange for gold. Allowing for this it may still be assumed that on the whole low values are being used in larger proportions, and that Paper Currency continues to be used more largely in the smaller transactions of the people.

16. The varying proportions in which notes of each denomination have circulated in the whole of India and in the principal circles during the last two years, are exhibited below :—

The distribution among the various circles of different denominations of notes has varied but slightly. Each still obstinately adheres to its preference for particular denominations and it is not easy to assign a cause for the variations of taste.

17. The average value during the last four years of the notes in circulation in each circle on the last day of the year is given in the margin, notes of R10,000 being excluded, as their high value and irregular consumption only tend to create mistaken impressions. For several years past the average value shewn in this table has gone on decreasing, but the average on 31st March 1899 shows a small increase for all India, the rise being chiefly at Calcutta and Bombay, where the large tenders of gold were made.

19. The gold coin and bullion received against notes issued under the notification of 26th June 1893 and held in the Paper Currency Reserve, became for the first time of considerable value during the past year, having increased by 280 lakhs.

20. The proportion of the Currency Reserve, held in coin and bullion, was on the 31st March about 64 per cent. against 60 per cent. on the same date in the preceding year, the rise being due to the increase in the total circulation, the investment in securities remaining the same.

21. The half-yearly verifications of the Currency balances on the 30th September 1898 and 31st March 1899 were held for all circles and sub-circles, the balances being verified, in accordance with the orders issued on the subject, by a gazetted officer unconnected with the Currency Department.

22. Investments.—The nominal value of the investment stood, as at the close of the previous year, at R10,20,81,500, which is held at a book-value of R9,99,99,945-10-0. Of the nominal value, R8,15,95,000 consist of 3½ per cent. and R2,04,86,500 of 3 per cent. securities. The interest realised and credited under the head "Profits on Note Circulation" during the year is R34,70,420, of which R28,55,825 is the amount realised on 3½ per cent. investments and R6,14,595 on the 3 per cent. portion.

23. Issue and receipt of notes.—The following are the issues and receipts of the year, the detail by Circles being shown in Statement VI:—

24. The transactions between Head Offices and Agencies were less than in the previous year by 449 lakhs in the case of issues, and by 610 lakhs in that of receipts. This is due to the fact that in 1897-98 treasury balances were extremely low owing to the famine, and it was necessary to resort to transfers through the Currency Department in order to move them rapidly. In making the most economical use of the balances transfers made at one time had to be reversed on a later date, thus increasing the magnitude of the transactions. During 1898-99, on the contrary, the treasury balances were generally high and Currency transfers were largely reduced both in number and amount.

25. The total issues and receipts for the last three years are as follows:—

	Issues. R	Receipts. R
1896-97	1,22,64,01,040	1,24,98,63,505
1897-98	1,28,35,72,115	1,27,28,82,795
1898-99	1,19,63,28,910	1,16,22,12,440

The issues have decreased by about 872 lakhs, and the receipts by 1,107 lakhs, as compared with the previous year, the difference being made up as follows:—

	Issues.	Receipts.
Over the counter	—5,67	—6
Remittance transactions	—2,89	—8,84
From other Currency Circles . . .	...	—2,12
Other heads	—16	—5
	8,72	—11,07

26. The Issues and Receipts in the various Circles bear no fixed proportion to the circulation. This is brought out in the following table, which gives for each of the larger circles the value of the circulation, the mean value of the receipts and issues, and the percentage of the former on the latter, the last information being given for the last three years:—

NAME OF CIRCLE.	IN LAKHS OF RUPEES. Average circulation of last day of month.	Mean value of Receipts and Issues.	PERCENTAGE OF AMOUNT IN COLUMN 2 ON THAT IN COLUMN 3. 1898-99.	1897-98.	1896-97.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Calcutta	10,92	46,36	23	20	20
Allahabad	1,18	4.58	26	18	23
Lahore	2,21	11,08	20	15	20
Bombay	6,90	24,15	28	24	29
Madras	2,89	16,58	17	16	17
Rangoon	74	12 99	6	6	5

From this it will be seen that the transactions in Rangoon are usually very heavy in proportion to the total circulation, while the reverse is the case in Calcutta, Allahabad, and Bombay. In Rangoon, the large proportion of Receipts and Issues is due to the large operations there connected with the financing of the export trade in rice.

27. The aggregate Issues and Receipts of the several denominations of notes at both Offices of Issue and Agencies during the year were as follows :—

	Number of Notes for Rupees.								Total.
	5	10	20	50	100	500	1,000	10,000	Number.	Value.

The Issues exceeded the Receipts in all values.

28. The average number of notes that passed over the counters at each Head Office on each working day during the past three years, and the daily average of cancellations, are given in the following table :—

	Notes cashed.			Notes Issued.			Notes cancelled.
	1896-97.	1897-98.	1898-99.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1898-99.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1898-99.

29. The proportion of cancellations continues high, the withdrawals of notes which have been at all soiled being regarded as an important safeguard against forgery. The high figure for Calcutta is mainly due to arrears of uncancelled notes having been taken in hand and disposed of in 1898-99. The numbers of the total issues and cancellations for the year, in thousands of pieces is given below :—

24. The transactions between Head Offices and Agencies were less than in the previous year by 449 lakhs in the case of issues, and by 610 lakhs in that of receipts. This is due to the fact that in 1897-98 treasury balances were extremely low owing to the famine, and it was necessary to resort to transfers through the Currency Department in order to move them rapidly. In making the most economical use of the balances transfers made at one time had to be reversed on a later date, thus increasing the magnitude of the transactions. During 1898-99, on the contrary, the treasury balances were generally high and Currency transfers were largely reduced both in number and amount.

25. The total issues and receipts for the last three years are as follows:—

	Issues. R	Receipts. R
1896-97	1,22,64,01,040	1,24,98,63,505
1897-98	1,28,35,72,115	1,27,28,82,795
1898-99	1,19,63,28,910	1,16,22,12,440

The issues have decreased by about 872 lakhs, and the receipts by 1,107 lakhs, as compared with the previous year, the difference being made up as follows:—

	Issues.	Receipts.
Over the counter	—5,67	—6
Remittance transactions	—2,89	—8,84
From other Currency Circles	...	—2,12
Other heads	—16	—5
	8,72	—11,07

26. The Issues and Receipts in the various Circles bear no fixed proportion to the circulation. This is brought out in the following table, which gives for each of the larger circles the value of the circulation, the mean value of the receipts and issues, and the percentage of the former on the latter, the last information being given for the last three years:—

Name of Circle.	In Lakhs of rupees.		Percentage of amount in Column 2 on that in Column 3.
	Average circulation of last day of month.	Mean value of Receipts and Issues.	1898-99.	1897-98.	1896-97.
1	2	3	4	5	6
Calcutta	10,92	46,36	23	20	20
Allahabad	1,18	4,58	26	18	23
Lahore	2,21	11,08	20	15	20
Bombay	6,90	24,15	28	24	29
Madras	2,89	16,58	17	16	17
Rangoon	74	12,99	6	6	5

From this it will be seen that the transactions in Rangoon are usually very heavy in proportion to the total circulation, while the reverse is the case in Calcutta, Allahabad, and Bombay. In Rangoon, the large proportion of Receipts and Issues is due to the large operations there connected with the financing of the export trade in rice.

27. The aggregate Issues and Receipts of the several denominations of notes at both Offices of Issue and Agencies during the year were as follows :—

	Number of Notes for Rupees.								Total.
	5	10	20	50	100	500	1,000	10,000	Number.	Value.
Issues . . .	1,247,546	6,223,818	685,695	440,970	1,531,671	175,189	298,619	55,271	10,658,779	1,19,63,28,910
Receipts . .	1,175,856	6,034,512	651,427	419,544	1,437,673	169,486	290,402	54,307	10,233,207	1,16,22,12,440

The Issues exceeded the Receipts in all values.

28. The average number of notes that passed over the counters at each Head Office on each working day during the past three years, and the daily average of cancellations, are given in the following table :—

	Notes cashed.			Notes Issued.			Notes cancelled.
	1896-97.	1897-98.	1898-99.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1898-99.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1898-99.

" Rangoon . .	1,587	1,846	2,138	1,694	1,900	2,282	1,581	1,832	2,113

29. The proportion of cancellations continues high, the withdrawals of notes which have been at all soiled being regarded as an important safeguard against forgery. The high figure for Calcutta is mainly due to arrears of uncancelled notes having been taken in hand and disposed of in 1898-99. The numbers of the total issues and cancellations for the year, in thousands of pieces is given below :—

Circle.	Issues.	Cancellations.
Calcutta	4,491	3,661
Allahabad	220	208
Lahore	635	542
Bombay	2,824	1,498
Karachi	178	149
Madras	1,586	1,529
Calicut	52	56
Rangoon	673	650
Total .	10,659	8,293

30. The following table shows in continuation of that given last year, what proportion of the first issues still remain in circulation. This information is given for all India (except Burma). The first issues were made in 1862 in Calcutta, Bombay, and Madras; in 1864 in Allahabad and Lahore; and not until 1883 in Burma:—

Denomination.		First Year.		Second Year.
		Issued.	Outstanding.	Issued.	Outstanding.
		R	R	R	R
Rupee	10	21,90,320	20,590	12,75,000	9,700
"	20	20,22,000	14,140	12,62,000	6,600
"	50	39,30,000	16,850	17,27,500	5,850
"	100	89,28,500	31,300	35,15,000	7,600
"	500	56,00,000	17,500	39,97,000	2,500
"	1,000	2,77,50,000	29,000	2,66,98,000	9,000
	Total	5,04,20,820	1,29,380	3,84,74,500	41,250

The outstandings of the issues of the first year have been reduced during 1898-99 only by the presentation of two notes of R 10 and one of R 100, while those of the second year have not been reduced at all.

31. The first year's outstandings are proportionately about twice as large as those of the second year, possibly because Paper Currency, when quite a novelty, was not preserved so carefully as when its value became better known. These old notes are still coming in, though slowly. The cancellations of the issues of the first year, 1862, during the last ten years are shown below:—

Denomination.		Originally issued in 1862.	Cancelled since 1889.	Still outstanding.
Rupees	10	219,032 pieces.	29 pieces.	2,059 pieces.
"	20	101,100 "	9 "	707 "
"	50	78,600 "	9 "	337 "
"	100	89,285 "	9 "	313 "
"	500	11,200 "	7 "	35 "
"	1,000	27,750 "	11 "	29 "

32. It seems evident, therefore, that many of these notes must have been lost and will never be presented. The practice in England is to write off the value of all notes outstanding for more than forty years. No Indian notes are yet of that age, but Statement X annexed to this report shows the issues, the cancellations in the last ten years, and the outstandings of all notes issued prior to the year 1868 and consequently more than thirty years old.

35. What is striking in the above statement is the decrease in the encashments of Foreign Circle Notes at Calcutta and Bombay as compared with 1897-98, the falling off being 193 and 79 lakhs respectively. The encashment of Foreign Circle Notes represents a transfer of funds by the public from one Circle to another, and the following statement compares, in lakhs of rupees, the net transfers thus made between each of the Circles during the last two years. The plus figures indicate that transfers to the Circle exceeded those from it, and the minus figures represent an opposite movement :—

	1897-98.	1898-99.	Difference.
Calcutta	+469	+236	—233
Allahabad	—204	—2	+202
Lahore	—261	—256	+ 5

Karachi	— 84	+ 13	+ 97
Madras	—107	—111	— 4
Calicut	— 21	— 17	+ 4

36. The explanation of the differences may be found in the peculiar circumstances of 1897-98. The sales of Council bills were greatly reduced, a large Rupee loan was taken up and there was great stringency in the markets of Calcutta and Bombay. At the same time owing to famine there was less demand for capital in the interior and more could therefore be spared to relieve the tight markets of Calcutta and Bombay. In 1898-99 normal conditions prevailed and the movement of funds was towards the interior.

39. The net result was an increase in the coin reserve of 342 lakhs. This increase, after adding two lakhs paid at Allahabad and Rangoon for an equivalent received at Calcutta in 1897-98, exactly corresponds with the increase in the circulation, there having been no addition to the investment of the Reserve during the year. The receipts and issues were less than those of the previous year by 9,63 lakhs and 12,02 lakhs, respectively, the differences being made up as follows:—

40. The withdrawals of shroff-marked coin, uncurrent coin and coin of 1835, are shown in the margin in thousands of rupees. Almost the whole of the shroff-marked coin has, as usual, been found in the Punjab and the North-Western Provinces, where alone the practice of shroff-marking seems to be common. Since 1893, the Rupee circulation has lost, through the withdrawal of shroff-marked coin 77½ lakhs, of uncurrent coin 18¾ lakhs, and of 1835 rupees 150 lakhs, making a total reduction through these means of 246 lakhs of rupees. Nearly the whole of this, viz., 240 lakhs, has during this time been converted into small silver coin, the demand during the famine having been very large. The withdrawals of light weight coins may be expected to increase considerably in future in consequence of the orders of Government issued last March regarding their treatment. There has always been a difficulty in declaring what signs indicate that a coin has been sweated and has not lost weight by ordinary wear. The experience of the Mints has been that a rupee will ordinarily continue of legal weight, that is, will not have lost 2 per cent. for 55 years, and that it may therefore be confidently assumed that any rupee which has lost 6 per cent. of its weight has been fraudulently reduced, and should therefore be cut and returned to the presenter. As long as the exchange value of the rupee differed but slightly from its bullion value the loss to the presenter of a light weight coin was inconsiderable, but when exchange approached the rate of 1*s.* 4*d.*, much discontent prevailed, for the last holder was generally innocent of the fraud. To remedy this it has been ordered that rupees and half rupees which have lost not more than $\frac{1}{16}$th of their original weight shall be accepted at all treasuries at their nominal value, and that others which have been reduced to $\frac{15}{16}$ths, $\frac{7}{8}$ths or $\frac{13}{16}$ths of their proper weight shall be cut, but bought if the presenter desires it, at the rate of 14, 13, and 12 annas, respectively, in the case of rupees, and at half those rates for half rupees. Rupees which have lost more than 25 per cent. will be cut and returned, as the tenderer must have been culpably negligent in accepting them. This concession will probably lead to the cutting and withdrawal of light weight coins which would otherwise have been often allowed to continue in circulation, because the penalty of cutting and returning them was so severe.

42. That counterfeiting has to some extent increased of late years appears probable from a consideration of the marginal statement which gives the values of coins that have been cut as counterfeit since 1893-94.

But the increase in the numbers of detected coin is undoubtedly due in part to the unusually careful scrutiny to which coins, which would in ordinary times have been passed on without suspicion have been recently subjected. One rather curious case illustrates this. A rupee bearing the date 1839 was last year sent to the Calcutta Mint for examination because we have no coinage of that date. It was however a genuine coin, the explanation being that in 1839 a new die was designed, to supersede that of the William IV pattern, but it failed to give satisfaction. A new design was accordingly prepared which is that of the first issue of 1840. A few specimen rupees were struck from the rejected die, and one, at least, of these got into circulation, but its peculiarity attracted no attention until our coinage came under suspicion 60 years later. The prevalence of illicit coinage has been asserted with much perseverance by the advocates of open Mints. One witness, for instance, holding those views, deposed before the Currency Committee that a certain English firm in India had ascertained that about half per cent. of the rupees in circulation was spurious and that every Indian banker knew of the prevalence of illicit currency. A partner, in the firm referred to, when examined as a witness on a later date admitted that he had no proof whatever that illicit coinage had increased, and no idea of what proportion of the circulation was counterfeit, and the only Indian banker who gave evidence deposed that there had been, in his experience, no illicit coinage attributable to the closing of the Mints. Several witnesses stated that counterfeits had become of such good workmanship as not to be easily detected, but this has not been the experience of the Mints. The Calcutta Mint, during 1898-99, received for examination from various sources, 253 rupees which were considered unusually good imitations. Of these, 232 came from Bengal: 229 of them were castings, and only 200 of the castings were good specimens. The remaining three rupees had been struck between dies, which were evidently not of steel but cast from a hard alloy, and the rupees struck from them had spread, and were larger than genuine rupees. From the North-Western Provinces came eleven castings, five of them good and four remarkably good specimens, but remarkably good castings have always appeared occasionally in the circulation. The Punjab sent ten, all ordinary castings, except one which was a very good specimen and had evidently been in circulation for a long time. A portion only of these spurious rupees were assayed, and it was found that several contained from 27 to 90 per cent. of pure silver. Where silver of a high touch has been used, there can be no doubt that the fraud is due to the Mints being closed: had they been open the coiner would have used less silver.

43. The rupees sent to the Bombay Mint for special examination were only thirty-four in number, of which thirty-two were rough castings of low touch silver or of base metal. One was also a rough casting but of silver of practically standard fineness, and one was a well made coin struck between dies but of low touch silver.

44. There seems therefore to be no reason to suppose that false coining has increased to any serious extent, or that stamped coin is likely to appear in appreciable quantities. Even in England false coining is practised without creating alarm, and in India the importation and working of machinery must be specially difficult. To turn out rupees on a really large scale would require not only good machinery but also a constant supply of new dies, for our Mints, using dies as hard as they can safely be made, employ three new sets for every lakh of rupees turned out.

45. The new rupees coined during 1898-99 amounted to rather less than 42 lakhs, all made at Bombay from coined silver to complete the requirements for the Bhopal and Kashmir States which have recalled their own rupees and adopted Indian coinage in their place. The usual statements of whole rupees coined and issued from the Indian Mints from 1835 to 1898, inclusive, is shown below:—

46. Rupee Circulation.—For many years past an annual examination of the composition of the rupee circulation has been made in the month of May at each of the 264 treasuries of Government that are scattered over India. Up to 1894, only R2,000 were examined at each Treasury, but since that year the number has been increased to R10,000, so that for the last six years upwards of 26 lakhs of rupees, or about 2 per mille of the supposed total circulation, have annually been classified according to mintages with more or less accuracy. The returns cannot be accepted with implicit confidence, for every now and then evidence appears of neglect of duty. Thus, in May 1894 two Bengal Treasuries reported the existence of coin dated 1894, though there is no such coinage, and it was afterwards acknowledged that the entries were mistakes. The same happened in 1898, and again in the present year, the Amritsar Treasury has returned 87 rupees of 1894, 100 of 1895 and 116 of 1896, while Sealkote has reported 129 of 1894, 165 of 1895 and 116 of 1896, though there is no genuine coin of those dates. None of the neighbouring treasuries found rupees of those years and it must be concluded, not that there are perfectly made counterfeits in the Punjab bearing those dates, but that there was no real examination of coin made at those treasuries, and that other treasuries may possibly have submitted reports equally fictitious. After amending these obvious errors, the results of this year's coin census appears below. Details by Provinces are given in Statement XI of the Appendix.

47. From 1894 to 1897, Mr. F. C. Harrison, lately Accountant General of Madras, annually contributed to this report a note upon the volume of the rupee circulation in India as deduced from the above table. Last year, however, and again this year, none is forthcoming owing to his absence from India. Mr. Harrison's method of dealing with the problem is an extremely ingenious one, adapted from Jevons. Let it be supposed that the fluid contents of some vessel need to be measured, and that the shape of the vessel is such that no ordinary method of measurement can be applied to it. In such a case let there be added to its contents, which are known to include no alcohol, some determined quantity of that spirit, and after the mixture has been well stirred let a sample be taken and analysed. Then, if one part of alcohol be found to be present in the sample, together with ninety-nine parts of the original mixture, and if the amount of alcohol added were one gallon, obviously, the vessel must, after the addition was made, contain just 100 gallons. In Mr. Harrison's method some recent year's coinage of rupees took the place of the added alcohol and the coinages of all other years represented the liquid free from that spirit. He assumed that a recent coinage will have been fully issued and well mixed with previous coinages in that year in which it contributed its largest percentage to the general circulation, and he calculated the volume of the total circulation in that year, from the number of rupees minted of the recent coinage which he used and the percentage which it contributed to the circulation. He had however to make certain allowances, because the problem is not so simple as the illustration has so far made it appear to be. Reverting to the illustration, it is evident that alcohol being a volatile spirit, if added very slowly to the contents of the vessel, some portion of it will evaporate before the whole has been poured out and before the analysis is made, so that, although a whole gallon may have been added, less than a gallon will be present in the mixture when its composition is examined. Mr. Harrison had therefore to take into consideration that wastage of a coinage which sets in as soon as any portion of it is issued to the public, and he calculated by a method, which is explained in his note appended to the Currency Report of 1894, that the annual rate of disappearance through exportation, hoarding and melting was 6·77 per cent. of the coin in circulation. This very precise figure can hardly be admitted to be correct for all years, but, even assuming that it is approximately correct, it may be doubted whether, in the year of examination, the recent coinage has been sufficiently diffused to yield reliable results, for newly coined rupees are not issued rapidly to the public and some few lakhs of the coinage of 1893 have even up to the present time never left the currency vaults. In the case of sixteen coinages between the year 1876 and 1892 (that of 1881 being omitted as it was very small) Mr. Harrison's examination was made in nine cases in the year immediately following the year of coinage, in six cases in the second year, and in one case in the third year. It seems very unlikely that equal diffusion can have taken place within one or even two years, and the results arrived at were certainly irregular for they represented the circulation, in successive years to be 98, 110, 113, 142, 110, 107, 104, 108, 118, 143, 137, 157, and 133 crores. The largest of these estimates was that based upon the analysis made in the third year, when diffusion ought to have been more complete than at an earlier time, and it ought for that reason to be the most accurate, if 6·77 correctly represents the rate of wastage. Mr. Harrison's general conclusion, drawn in 1894 from the above rather divergent results, was that the circulation had from 1876 to 1886 been approximately constant at 115 crores, that it then gradually expanded to 120 crores in 1889-90, and had risen to about 125 crores in 1892-93. It may be reasonably doubted whether, with a population increasing at the rate of one per cent. a year and with the issue between the years 1876 and 1886, of upwards of 70 crores of new rupees, the circulation can have remained during eleven years even approximately constant.

48. In 1897 Mr. Harrison, eager to solve more satisfactorily this interesting problem, attacked it by another method, perhaps even more ingenious than that suggested by Jevons' work. It may be described as being exactly the reverse of that previously used, for it depends not on the issue of a recent coinage but upon the withdrawal of a very old one. Since February 1896 rupees which were coined between 1835 and 1840 and bearing the former date, though accepted by Government have not been re-issued to the public, because that coinage is generally below current weight. It cannot be doubted that these old coins, at any rate, have been thoroughly mixed with the general circulation and, from this point of view, Mr. Harrison's second method ought to give results more reliable than those obtained by the first. The census of 1895 showed that 1835 rupees formed 1·55 per cent. of the circulation, and that of 1897 gave a percentage of ·5. In the interval, 86½ lakhs of the 1835 coinage had been withdrawn. If therefore the percentages 1·55 and ·5 are correct, 86½ lakhs must be 1·55—·5, or 1·05 per cent. of the circulation, and the circulation must be about 82½ crores. It was obvious that this amount was too low, and one or both of the percentages wrong. An inspection of the returns showed that the figure for 1897 was certainly incorrect, because several treasuries showed a total absence of 1835 rupees, and had no doubt, contrary to orders, examined bags from which all those rupees had been withdrawn. A fresh examination was ordered at all such treasuries, and the reports then received raised the percentage to ·7. This rate yielded a circulation of 102 crores which still seemed too low, and Mr. Harrison made, for various reasons which he explained, additions which increased the circulation to 115 crores. Mr. Harrison, when examined last year as a witness before the Currency Committee, stated that he would not be surprised if the circulation, instead of being 128 crores (his latest estimate), were found to be 140 crores on the one side or 90 crores on the other. We may, therefore, take it that, owing to the untrustworthiness of our treasury establishments and probably also of a too small proportion of the circulation being examined, we cannot yet tell with anything like accuracy what is the amount of the active rupee circulation. If we could trust the census returns, Mr. Harrison's second method ought to give accurate results, but we cannot do this, for in the last census 43 out of the 264 treasuries each reported that, among 10,000 rupees, they had found none of 1835. The returns from the other 221 treasuries make it practically certain that in all these cases bags from which 1835 rupees had been removed were alone examined, and it is therefore impossible to feel sure what the percentage for all India may be. The percentage given from the reports is ·4; and it ought perhaps to be raised to ·5, which was the rate given for last year, and that perhaps ought to have been higher. The percentage of 1835 rupees in May 1895 was 1·35, which may also be incorrect, and if that for 1899 be ·5 the difference ·85 should represent the percentage which withdrawals since 1896 form of the total circulation. The withdrawals have been 150 lakhs and the total circulation would be 176 crores, which is a high estimate and probably excessive.

49. Another question which might be settled from these returns, if they could be relied on, is the number of rupees that have emerged from hoards since the mints were closed. The percentage of rupees older than 1874 excluding those of the 1835 mintage which is being withdrawn, fell regularly year by year, as it was natural that it should, until in 1893 it became 34·6. If hoards had not released rupees, the number of these old coins ought to have still decreased slightly, because the yearly withdrawals of shroff marked and light coins come almost entirely from the older mintages. Instead of decreasing they increased, and have been in successive years 34·6, 35·5, 35·7, 38·6, and 38·55 per cent. of the circulation. The rise last year was sudden and was attributed to the effect of famine. If 38·6 and 38·55 be nearly correct percentages for 1898 and 1899, and 34·6 for 1894, the increase of coins which are older than 1874 has been 4 per cent. of the circulation, or 5 crores if the circulation be taken at 125 crores. During these six years nearly a crore shroff-marked and light coins, mostly of the old mintages, have been withdrawn and sent to the mints for the purpose of small coinage, so that the quantity of the older rupees that have appeared from hoards would be about 6 crores. But this estimate must be regarded as only approximate, and we can say no more than that hoarded coin of old mintages may have entered the circulation to the extent of, perhaps, 6 crores. Rupees of later date than 1874 may have also emerged from hoards, but their quantity must be much less because they have been liable to hoarding for a shorter time.

50. Exchange of small coin.—The receipts and issues of small change at the Currency Offices during the year were as follows:—

	Receipts.			Issues.			Net issues.
	R	a.	p.	R	a.	p.	R	a.	p.
Half Rupees	11,02,517	8	0	17,45,834	0	0	6,43,316	8	0
Quarter Rupees	17,80,063	12	0	22,93,688	12	0	5,13,625	0	0
One-eighth Rupees	11,23,030	10	0	14,10,378	12	0	2,87,348	2	0

TOTAL 1897-98	62,08,778	10	0	59,49,856	8	0	—2,58,922	2	0

The net receipt of small coin in 1897-98 was quite exceptional and due to large returns from circulation after the famine had ended. The transactions of 1898-99 were quite normal, as the net issues have generally been between ten and twenty lakhs.

51. Agencies.—The object of Currency Agencies proper is to afford facilities to the public for exchanging coin for notes and notes for coin, but it is only in the Punjab that they have ever been worked to any considerable extent. There are busy Agencies at Simla, Rawal Pindi, Umballa and Peshawar which issued in 1898-99 altogether 311 lakhs of notes or 27 per cent. of the total issues of that circle. The other so called Agencies should strictly be described as Currency chests and are intended for an entirely different purpose with which the public are not concerned. Their object is to prevent unnecessary transfers of coin from one part of the country to another. Thus if at any time a head-quarter treasury may be in need of funds, it can be rapidly and economically supplied from the Currency Reserve coin, after an equivalent sum has been set aside at some other treasury out of a surplus which has accumulated there. During 1896-97 and 1897-98 when the balances of Government fell to unprecedentedly low figures, treasury transactions could only obe carried on by a very extended use of Currency chests which at the close of those years were 148 and 208 in number. At the end of 1898-99, with easy balances, their number was only 85. The total balance of coin deposited in them was 617 lakhs against 751 lakhs in the preceding year, distributed as follows:—

52. Claims on lost notes.—The following is a statement of lost and mutilated notes paid during the year on bonds of indemnity:—

Both the number and the value of these claims increased during the past year, the most noticeable increase being in the case of half notes lost in the post, the number of which was unusually large. The figures for the past six years have been, 395, 359, 280, 486, 619 and 735 respectively. Notes lost by theft are not included in the above statement, as no claim lies on their account against the Department. The names and addresses of presenters of stolen notes are ascertained and communicated to the Police, but these proceedings do not often lead to the recovery of the value of the notes by the rightful owners. Payments on notes wholly lost or destroyed are not made until after 20 years have passed, but their values are invested and the accumulated interest is paid to the claimants together with the value of the note. The number and amounts of such investments made during the last three years is given below. They were unusually numerous in 1898-99.

53. Fraud and Forgery.—The forged notes presented during the year have been the following:—

The forged notes presented during 1896-97 and 1897-98 numbered only 62 and 166, so that at first sight it looks as though there had been an enormous increase of forgery during the past year. The increase is however entirely due to a single forgery of R10 notes of the $\frac{X}{81}$ series which was first noticed in 1897-98. From the same plate have been produced notes marked $\frac{Y}{17}$ and $\frac{V}{71}$. During the year Calcutta received 486 false notes of the $\frac{X}{81}$ series, 18 of the $\frac{Y}{17}$ series and one of the $\frac{V}{71}$ series. While Allahabad received two of the $\frac{Y}{17}$ series and one of the $\frac{X}{81}$ series and Bombay one of the latter. Thus of the 533 forged notes presented in all circles during the year no less than 509 represented the work of a single gang which has happily been discovered and the chief members of which have been convicted in the course of the last two years. Of the 508 R10 notes entered against Calcutta, 421 really belong to cases of the previous year: if they be deducted the false notes presented in all circles in 1898-99, amount to only 112 which is not an extraordinarily high record.

54. As usual there was in most cases no evidence on which to prosecute. Thus in the Calcutta Circle there were 73 distinct cases, in 65 of which there was no evidence, and in the 8 cases that were prosecuted there were convictions in only four, and in one of these the sentence was reversed on appeal. The best chance of obtaining evidence naturally arises when the forgeries are of high value notes and there were therefore prosecutions in all but one of the six cases of R1,000 note forgeries. Convictions were obtained in all of these cases except one which is still under trial and may end successfully. In the unprosecuted case the note was the subject of a Civil suit in which the plaintiff alleged that the defendant had defrauded him by selling to him a clever pen-and-ink drawing of a R1,000 note. The Court found that the claim was false, but there was no sufficient evidence on which to prosecute either for making a false claim or for forging the note.

55. The new forgeries that appeared during the year were five in number of which those marked $\frac{X}{21}$, $\frac{X}{23}$, and $\frac{O}{B}$, of R10, R100 and R1,000 denominations, were only pen-and-ink drawings, one of them done upon tracing paper, and afterwards gummed upon ordinary paper. The other two new forgeries were both of R1,000 notes from the North-Western Provinces, one marked $\frac{D}{34}$, a poor production, and the other marked $\frac{X}{41}$, good, as Indian forgeries go. These two new forgeries originated, it is believed, in Benares, the moral atmosphere of that sacred place being apparently favourable to fraud of this kind, for where pilgrims largely congregate sharpers generally abound.

56. The most extraordinary case of the year is one which occurred in so unlikely a place as the Central Jail at Agra, where the Jailor, in consequence of information received, examined the ground under the sleeping place of a Madrasi life-convict named Rami Chetty. This man was under sentence for life for having forged the signature of the Maharajah of Travancore and his moral obliquity was so confirmed, even at his early age of 22, that when tried at Agra he seems from the record, to have passed himself off as a Brahman though his name indicates that he was only of the trader caste. Under his bed were discovered leaden plates, roughly engraved for the production of R5 notes, and in his bedding were found an impression from these plates, and a letter addressed to some European asking for printing ink and paper. Rami Chetty named another prisoner Chunni as his accomplice, and Chunni made statements exculpating himself and throwing suspicion upon a European mechanic employed in the jail who has since been dismissed. There was no evidence against Chunni except that of Rami Chetty, who at Chunni's trial obstinately refused to make any statement whatever, feeling, apparently, that refusal would do him, a life-convict, no harm, and compliance no good. He was probably rather disappointed when he was himself tried and convicted and sentenced to 7 years imprisonment to commence at the end of the 20 years, which usually represent the term of a life sentence. No forged notes seem to have been produced from Rami Chetty's plates.

57. Just before the year closed the Currency Note Forgery Act (XII of 1899) was passed as it was thought that the Indian Penal Code, which did not provide specially for Currency note cases, was an insufficient protection to the public. In England there is a special law for this class of offences and the Bill was originally drafted on the lines of the English statute, but was modified in Committee by putting on the prosecution the burden of proving that the holder of a forged note intended to use it as genuine, while in England the accused person has to prove lawful intention.

58. The year produced a few cases of the usual kind of fraud not amounting to forgery, presenters of half notes falsely alleging that they had quite recently lost the corresponding halves, which however have been found to have been long previously deposited with the Currency Department by other claimants. This kind of attempted imposture can generally be established by reliable evidence.

60. The course of silver movements has undergone considerable changes during the last few years. Prior to the closure of the Mints in 1893-94, most of the silver imported into India was coined at the Bombay Mint, and the movements having their starting point at Bombay were directed to Karachi and Quetta on the north, to Madras and Rangoon on the east and Calcutta on the north-east. For nearly two years after the closure of the Mints the direction of the movements practically remained the same as before, but the large accumulations of silver about June 1893 having been dispersed, the Government operations were directed mainly to removing coin from the important revenue-collecting centres to head-quarters of Presidencies and Provinces to meet trade requirements. The tendency of trade is to transfer coin from head-quarters to mofussil districts to finance the exports of the country, and as Government revenue is generally paid with money obtained by the sale of produce, the coin withdrawn for trade ultimately finds its way into district treasuries. Thus the ordinary course of trade moves coin—(a) from Bombay to the cotton districts, the western districts of Madras and to Rajputana, (b) from Calcutta to the jute, rice and indigo districts in Bengal, and (c) from Allahabad and Lahore to districts in Northern India, which are important centres of trade in wheat and seeds. The largest collections of Land Revenue are also made in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and Madras. Accordingly in 1895-96 and 1896-97, the normal operations of Government were confined to remitting the large accumulations of coin in Northern India and Madras to Bombay, Calcutta, and Rangoon.

61. Towards the end of 1896-97 the ordinary course of the movements was interrupted by the famine: the revenue collections fell off, and large remittances of silver were made to the North-Western Provinces and Central Provinces to meet the famine relief expenditure. These remittances continued during the first half of 1897-98, and during the second half of that year heavy coin remittances to the Punjab were necessary in connection with the war on the North-Western Frontier.

62. In the beginning of 1898-99, provision for the continuance of the war expenditure was made by the remittance of one crore to the Punjab through the Currency Department, namely, 70 lakhs from Madras and 30 lakhs from Bombay. A remittance of 43 lakhs, of which 10 lakhs only were from the Currency Department, Bombay, was also made to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh to meet payments to opium cultivators. Owing to the early cessation of the war on the frontier and the prompt collection of revenue in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, a considerable accumulation of coin took place in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab, with the result that towards the end of 1898-99, Allahabad and its Agencies were able to remit 50 lakhs to Calcutta and 40 lakhs to Rangoon, and a remittance of 25 lakhs was also made from the Umballa Currency Agency to Bombay. Burma being a new province, annually absorbs a considerable amount of coin, and the total remittance made to Rangoon in the year 1898-99 was 80 lakhs, made up of 40 lakhs sent from Allahabad and its Agencies, and 40 lakhs from the Madras Agencies. Bombay required large supplies of silver against the increase in note circulation partly caused by the receipts of gold into the Currency Reserve through the Reserve Treasury and the Mint, and a remittance of 155 lakhs was made from Madras and its Agencies. Madras also sent 50 lakhs to Calcutta to meet the ordinary trade demands in August and September.

63. The important treasury remittances during the year were—60 lakhs Ajmere and Sambhur surplus sent to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and 33 lakhs to the Punjab, 90 lakhs withdrawn from the Bengal district treasuries to the Reserve Treasury, Calcutta, and 34 lakhs treasury surplus in the Central Provinces remitted elsewhere. Like the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Central Provinces are now giving back some of the coins absorbed during the famine of 1896-97 and 1897-98.

The large amounts of coin absorbed in 1895-96 and 1896-97 have partly returned from circulation in 1897-98 and 1898-99. In spite of an excellent export trade in 1898-99 and an absolute addition to the currency of the country of R2,78 lakhs on account of gold received into the Currency Reserve, there has been a net reduction in the absorption of coin during the year of 1,61 lakhs. This is due mainly to the cessation of famine and the collection of arrears of Revenue, which had the effect of bringing back the coin issued in famine years into the ordinary trade centres. There was a total absorption of 3,26 lakhs in Bombay, while in every other Province there was an withdrawal from, instead of an addition to, the circulation of coins, due to some extent to the general tendency of trade to move coin from the Presidency Towns to the revenue districts.

The net exports in each of the four quarters of the year were considerably in excess of the corresponding figures in 1897-98. During the first quarter, there was a large absorption in the Punjab on account of war expenditure and the very active export trade led to considerable issues in Bombay, but these were more than counterbalanced by large receipts into treasuries in other Provinces in payment of Government Revenue. In the second and third quarters the jute and rice trade in Bengal created heavy demands for coin, and Bombay continued to make considerable issues, but at the same time Burma, Punjab, and the North-Western Provinces and Oudh gave up large amounts. The noticeable feature in the transactions of the last quarter was the demand for coin in Burma to finance the rice trade in addition to the usual drain on Bombay through Council Bill payments; but more than half the total Land Revenue for all India is collected during the last three months of the year, and these collections brought back a considerable amount of coin from circulation in the Bengal and Madras Presidencies.

66. The following statement compares the distribution of whole and half rupees at the end of 1898-99, with that at the end of the two previous years:—

67. The statement shows that on the 31st March 1899 there was a deficiency of coin in Bombay against some surplus in the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab. Remittances have already been made from the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab to Bombay to recoup the coin balance, and though the Madras balances were lower than usual, it has been possible to send a remittance also from Madras to Bombay. The Assam balances show a tendency to increase. Ordinarily the Treasury surplus coin is utilised to finance the tea industry and no withdrawal of whole rupees is made from Assam. The opening of the Assam Bengal Railway may lead to larger imports of coin into Assam through private agency, and if this is the case, the question of the withdrawal of silver from Assam may have to be considered. The accumulations in Burma were also much in excess of the normal, and it may be possible to supply funds for the rice trade of 1900 without any special remittance from Continental India.

68. Treasury Statistics.—The transactions in notes at the several Treasuries in India during 1896-97, 1897-98, and 1898-99 have been as follows:—

There has been a considerable increase in receipts, especially in those given in payment of Government dues, and a decrease of almost an equal amount in the issues in exchange for silver.

69. The total Treasury transactions in notes during the last three years have been as follows (in lakhs of rupees):—

72. Receipts and Expenditure.—The figures of receipts and expenditure given in Statement III of the Appendix are only approximate, as the accounts for 1898-99 are not yet closed. There was an increase of R50 in the actual receipts in 1897-98 over the approximate figures given in last year's report, and the expenditure was greater by R209-1-4 than the approximate figures. Details of the differences are given in the foot-note to Statement III. The charges for 1898-99 were more than in the previous year by R1,38,000, mainly owing to increase in the charges for note forms.

The Hon'ble RAI BAHADUR PROTUL CHANDAR CHATTERJEE took his seat as an Additional Member of Council.

CENTRAL PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Court of Wards in the Central Provinces be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Raleigh, the Hon'ble Mr. Chitnavis and the mover, with instructions to report after one month.

The motion was put and agreed to.

PUNJAB COURTS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill further to amend the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, be referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Raleigh, the Hon'ble Rai Bahadur Pandit Suraj Kaul, the Hon'ble Rai Bahadur P. C. Chatterjee and the mover, with instructions to report after one month.

The motion was put and agreed to.

PRESIDENCY BANKS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Presidency Banks Act, 1876. He said:—"I think I need add nothing to what is explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. As is well known, strict limitations, which perhaps to some extent have survived the times and conditions which rendered them necessary, are placed upon the business which the Presidency Banks are authorized to transact. For instance, as regards Railways and Companies the Presidency Banks are limited by section 36, sub-section 3, to dealing in the securities of such Railways or other Companies, the interest whereon shall have been guaranteed by the Secretary of State in Council. As regards Municipalities, the Banks are authorized to deal in securities issued by Municipal bodies under the authority of the Legislature. In 1879 there was added to the sub-section authorizing the Bank to deal in Municipal securities the permission to deal in any securities that might be issued by the Commissioners for making improvements in any Port or by the Trustees of any Port. We now propose to add securities which may be issued by the Commissioners for the improvement of the City of Bombay. This addition involves no innovation or change of principle in the Act, for, from one point of view, the securities may be regarded as Municipal securities, while, as they are guaranteed by the Government of India, they also stand in the category of securities of Companies and Railways which are guaranteed by the Government of India. I therefore beg leave to introduce a Bill with this object".

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India and in the Fort St. George Gazette, the Bombay Government Gazette and the Calcutta Gazette in English.

The motion was put and agreed to.

CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Central Provinces Tenancy Act, 1898. He said:—"The object of this Bill is to correct a mistake of drafting in the Central Provinces Tenancy Act which was passed last October. Section 45 of that Act has imposed considerable restrictions on transfers of proprietary rights in sír lands, but it was not intended to give retrospective effect to these provisions in respect of past bonâ fide transactions, and a saving clause to this purport was inserted. A representation has, however, been received from the Central Provinces, and has been accepted as correct, that this clause, as at present worded, does not completely fulfil its purpose. It is proposed therefore to re-enact the provision in question in clearer terms".

The Hon'ble MR. CHITNAVIS said:—" I cannot but express my gratitude on behalf of the people for the sense of justice which has impelled Government to introduce the amendment now proposed to be moved. I am partly responsible for the mistake that has crept in. When I supported the amendment moved by Mr. Fuller last year, I thought that the amendment was reasonably conceived in the interests of debtors and that the wording would not take away the force of the promise so generously and justly made by Sir John Woodburn in Council to the effect that retrospective effect would not be given to the provisions of the Tenancy Bill then under discussion. I was, however, subsequently informed by my lawyer friends that the amendment moved by Mr. Fuller would have the effect of annulling the promise made, and it was pointed out to me that it would prejudicially affect 90 per cent. of the old documents and the sufferers would in the main be persons who were ignorant of law and who must have had advanced money in good faith probably in many instances to relieve, in times of famine, families of agriculturists in distress. The matter was thus represented to the Chief Commissioner, who was good enough to move the Legislature to introduce an amendment as now proposed, especially with a view to respect the promise made on behalf of Government and to avoid a sense of insecurity among the people, giving them clearly to understand that anything done on the faith of the old law would not be lightly interfered with. It is well known what great help agriculturists received from their brethren during the last famine under this sense of security and this amendment, which is sure to strengthen the belief that Government is prepared to support all advances legitimately and reasonably made, will go a long way towards enabling people to come forward and help people in future on similar occasions of famine and distress which, in case this present state of weather continues, unfortunately for my Province, seem to be near at hand ".

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ introduced the Bill.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill and Statement of Objects and Reasons be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the Central Provinces Gazette in English and in such other languages as the Local Administration thinks fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN COINAGE AND PAPER CURRENCY BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS said:—" My Lord, I beg to ask permission to postpone the motion for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, and the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882. The Bill is intended, I may say very shortly, to give effect to the recommendations contained in the report of the Indian Currency Committee, which have been endorsed by the Secretary of State and are generally accepted by the Government of India. Those recommendations include making the sovereign legal tender in India at the rate of Rs. 15 to one sovereign, and will provide for the coinage of gold in India. Any further observations and explanations in connection with this Bill, I think, may be, with propriety, postponed until the Bill itself is circulated and is in the hands of Hon'ble Members. It is with regard to the provision for coining gold in India that delay has now arisen, owing to purely technical considerations. Before the sovereign can be coined in India it is necessary that a Proclamation should be issued under the English Coinage Act of 1870 constituting an Indian Mint a branch of the Royal Mint for the purpose of coining sovereigns, as has been done in the case of the Australian Mints. We have been advised by the Secretary of State that the terms of the Proclamation are being settled in London, and, indeed, we were led to expect that we might have received the draft Proclamation by telegram before this date. In this, however, we have been disappointed, and we do not think it expedient to proceed without the Proclamation by now introducing legislation, because, although we know what the main lines of the Proclamation are, yet, until we actually see the draft, we might, if we legislate without the actual Proclamation before us, fall into some discrepancy with its language, which would involve fresh and ulterior amendments. Therefore, on account of this purely technical reason, which does not in any way modify the decision of the Government of India to give the most expeditious effect possible to the recommendations of the Currency Committee, I ask permission to postpone the motion for leave to introduce the Bill".

Leave was granted.

The Council adjourned to Friday, the 1st September, 1899.

Secretary to the Government of India,

Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 25th August, 1899:

NO. 18 OF 1899.

A Bill further to amend the Presidency Banks Act, 1876.

XI of 1876. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Presidency Banks Act, 1876; It is hereby enacted as follows:

Short title and commencement. 1. (1) This Act may be called the Presidency Banks Act, 1899; and

(2) It shall come into force at once.

Further amendment of section 36, Act XI, 1876. 2. To section 36, clause (a), sub-clause (4), of the Presidency Banks Act, 1876, as amended by section 4 of the Presidency Banks Act, 1879, the following shall be added, namely: XI of 1876. V of 1879.

"or the Trustees for the Improvement of the City of Bombay under the authority of the City of Bombay Improvement Act, 1898." Bom. Act IV of 1898.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN connection with the scheme for the improvement of the City of Bombay which has recently obtained legislative recognition through the passing into law of the City of Bombay Improvement Act, 1898 (Bom. Act IV of 1898), the Directors of the local Presidency Bank have represented to the Government of India that they might, with advantage, be empowered to lend money to the Board of Trustees appointed under that Act, and to purchase, and make advances and open cash credits upon, securities issued by the Trustees, as they are already, by section 36 of the Presidency Banks Act, 1876 (XI of 1876), authorized to do in the case of debentures and other securities issued under the authority of the legislature by Municipal Committees and Port Commissioners. In view of the provision made by the Act of 1898 for the payment of interest and the establishment of a sinking fund towards the liquidation of any loan raised by the Trustees, and having regard to the fact that the sanction of the Government of India will have to be obtained before the Trustees can borrow at all in furtherance of the scheme, the Governor General in Council is satisfied that there is no reason why the power asked for should not be conferred as suggested by the Directors; and the object of this Bill is to make the necessary further amendment in the Act of 1876.

The 17th August, 1899. C. E. DAWKINS.

J. M. MACPHERSON,
Secretary to the Government of India.

"(6) Nothing in this section shall affect a document duly registered before the commencement of this Act; and, on any surrender or transfer such as is described in sub-section (1) being made, decreed or ordered in pursuance of such a document, the rights of the parties to occupy the sir-land shall accrue as if this Act had not been passed.'

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE provisions of section 45 of the Central Provinces Tenancy Act, 1898 (XI of 1898), regarding the creation of an ex proprietary tenant-right in sir-land where a proprietor loses or transfers his rights as such therein, are much wider than those of the corresponding section 42 of Act IX of 1883 When the Bill which was passed into law last year, was before the Council, it was intimated on behalf of the Government of India that it was not intended to make the new section operate retrospectively so as to affect any transactions entered into on the faith of the provisions which were about to be superseded; and in consequence a sixth paragraph was added in Select Committee to the new section. That paragraph was, however, amended at the last moment on a motion made in Council before the Bill was passed, and it has been found that the amendment so made frustrates the declared intention of the Government. The object of this Bill is to remedy the error by re-enacting the provision in somewhat clearer terms, and so to fulfil the pledge above referred to.

Home Department Resolution No 729—53, dated the 6th May 1898, republishing the rules prohibiting the receipt of testimonials and addresses by servants of Government.

RESOLUTION.

In the Despatch of June 1873, read in the preamble, the Secretary of State ruled that a Medical Officer may, as an exception to the general rule, receive purses and other such testimonials from communities, but may not receive an address unless the Government under which he serves has previously permitted its presentation. These orders are embodied in Rule 5 of the rules republished with the Resolution of May 1898 read in the preamble. The rule mentions pecuniary recognition only, and the point has been raised whether it should also be made to cover cases in which either the donors or the Medical Officer himself prefer that the presentation should take some other form than a gift of money. The Governor General in Council is of opinion that the exception is meant to apply to such cases and is therefore pleased to direct that Rule 5 shall be altered as follows:

Medical Officers are not prohibited from receiving a pecuniary or other gift in recognition of their services from a community or body of persons which may desire to acknowledge these, but the previous sanction of the Local Government or Administration must be obtained by Medical Officers before receiving any public complimentary address.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to (a) all Local Governments and Administrations, (b) all Departments of the Government of India, and (c) all Heads of Departments subordinate to the Home Department, and that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 19th, 1899.

The shallow depression, which, on Saturday, the 12th August, was lying over the northern districts of the Central Provinces, had by Sunday morning practically filled up, only a small residual depression being shown near Agra. On Monday pressure had risen briskly in the Punjab and had fallen in Sind and Cutch. It was lowest in Upper Sind and was in considerable defect in Sind and moderate defect in Baluchistan and was normal in the Peninsula and in slight to moderate defect in the Gangetic Plain. Conditions had thus been rendered favourable for increasing rain in the Punjab and Rajputana, and the pressure distribution was such as usually accompanies fairly well distributed rain. General rain was received in Burma, Bengal, the North-Western and Central Provinces and Central India, and showers fell in Khandesh, Berar and the submontane districts of the Punjab. The improvement in the weather conditions, however, did not last long, for, by Tuesday morning, a brisk rise of pressure had taken place in Sind and West Rajputana and a fall in the submontane districts of Northern India. The area of lowest pressure was thus again transferred northwards, and westerly winds commenced blowing in the Gangetic Plain. The barometer had also risen in North Bombay and over the head of the Peninsula, and the high pressure conditions, which had for so long been persistent over the head of the Peninsula, showed a tendency to re-appear. Pressure continued in excess of the normal in Gujarat and the Central Provinces to the end of the week.

In Bengal a shallow depression was formed on Wednesday and remained unchanged in position till it filled up on Saturday. It caused moderate to heavy rain in Assam, Bengal and Bihar, and some very heavy falls were recorded at stations in North Bengal and Bihar. Darbhanga received 5·59 inches on Wednesday, Purnea a total of 13·35 inches on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and Dinajpur a total of 9·95 inches on Friday and Saturday.

During the first three days of the week showers were reported from the Gangetic Plain, the Punjab submontane districts, the Central Provinces and Central India; but from Wednesday to the end of the week rainfall was restricted almost entirely to Burma and Bengal. This was in great measure directly due to the depression in Bengal, which determined dry westerly winds in the Gangetic Plain instead of the humid easterly winds which had prevailed at the commencement of the week.

Temperature has again been in general excess of the normal, but the excess has not been so strongly marked as in the previous week, and on the 15th the mean temperature for the whole of India closely approached the normal, being only 0·2° above.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, August 13th.—Pressure had risen briskly in the west and centre of the Peninsula, and the shallow depression in the Central Provinces on Saturday had practically filled up. Temperature was in defect in Assam and Bihar, normal in Burma, Bengal, Orissa, the West Coast districts and the Bombay Deccan, but was in excess over the greater part of the country. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the eastern submontane districts of the North-Western Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces, and showers had been received in the Punjab, Upper India Hills, on the West Coast and in parts of the East Peninsula.

Monday, August 14th.—Pressure had increased briskly in the Punjab and fallen slightly to briskly in Sind and Cutch. The distribution of pressure was less abnormal than it had been for some time. Temperature had fallen very rapidly in the areas of rainfall in Northern and Central India and the North Deccan, and temperature was in large excess only in Rajputana and the South Punjab. General rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the greater part of the North-Western Provinces, the Central Provinces and Central India; and showers had been received in the West Coast districts, Khandesh, Berar, the Upper India hills and the submontane districts of the Punjab.

Tuesday, August 15th.—The barometer had fallen slightly in Bengal and in the submontane districts of Northern India, and a shallow low pressure area was shown lying close to the hills in the North-Western Provinces and Bihar. Temperature had decreased generally over the whole country, but was still in large excess in Rajputana and the South Punjab. Moderately heavy rain had been received in Burma and Bengal and light to moderate rain in the North-Western Provinces, the Central Provinces and Central India. Light showers had fallen in the West Coast districts, the Bombay Deccan, Gujarat and in parts of Madras.

Wednesday, August 16th.—Pressure had risen generally, except in Bengal and Burma, where it had fallen slightly to briskly. A shallow depression had formed in Central Bengal. Temperature had fallen rapidly in Bihar and Chota Nagpur and had risen rapidly in Central India, the Central Provinces, Berar and Mysore. It was in excess of the normal over the greater part of the Peninsula and the whole of North-Western India, with the exception of the West Punjab. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in Burma and Bengal, but rainfall had decreased in the North-Western Provinces. Light showers had fallen in the submontane districts of the Punjab, the West Coast districts, the Central Provinces and parts of the Deccan.

Thursday, August 17th.—The barometer had again fallen in East Bengal and Burma, and the depression in Bengal, though unchanged in position, had intensified slightly. Temperature had risen in most provinces and was in excess of the normal in all, except Burma, Bengal, Assam and Bihar. Rain had decreased in Burma and Bengal, and only very light showers had been received in the West Coast districts and in parts of the Central Provinces and Madras.

Friday, August 18th.—The barometer was steady in Burma, had changed irregularly in Bengal, where the depression had remained unchanged in position and character, and had fallen elsewhere. Unusually high temperature had prevailed, except in East and Central Bengal, Assam and parts of Burma. Heavy rain had fallen in parts of Bengal and light to moderate rain in Burma. Light showers had fallen in the West Coast districts, the Central Provinces, on the North Madras Coast and in parts of the Deccan.

Saturday, August 19th.—Pressure had risen briskly to rapidly in North-Eastern India and Upper Burma, and the depression in Bengal had practically filled up. Temperature had fallen briskly to rapidly in North-Eastern India and had risen in the Punjab and Mysore. It was above the normal in all provinces, except Burma, Assam, Bengal and Bihar, the excess being most marked in the North Punjab. Rain had fallen in Burma, Assam, Bengal and Bihar; and light showers had been received in the West Coast districts and on the North Madras Coast.

Temperature.—In consequence of the shortness of rainfall, temperature was in excess in most provinces at the beginning of the week. Temperature fell briskly on Monday and Tuesday, and on Tuesday was in large excess only in Rajputana. The mean temperature for the whole of India was practically normal. Temperature then commenced to rise and was again in general excess on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the days on which rainfall was restricted almost entirely to Burma and Bengal.

Temperature was normal on every day of the week in Burma and for the greater part of the week in Bengal. It was normal or in slight defect in Assam, but in most of the remaining provinces the variations from the normal were large and generally in excess. The changes were largest in the Punjab, where, from being 7·6° in excess on Sunday, it fell to 0·3° in defect on Wednesday and rose again to 6·1° in excess on Saturday. In Rajputana temperature was in large excess throughout the week, the excess on an average of all stations being nearly 11° on Sunday.

The mean temperature of the whole week was normal in Burma, Bengal, Bihar, the Central Provinces and Berar, in slight defect in Assam, and in excess in all the other parts of the country, the excess being largest in Rajputana (6·2°) and the Punjab (3·6°).

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

The mean temperature for the whole of India was practically normal on the 15th and 16th and in excess on all other days of the week, the excess exceeding 2° on the 13th, 18th and 19th. For the whole week the variation from the normal was +1·6°.

Rain.—There was practically no rain during the week in North Bombay, Rajputana, Central India (West) and Madras (Central). In Burma, rainfall was in defect in Tenasserim and Upper Burma; and in Bengal, in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. All other divisions in these two provinces received amounts in excess of the normal. North and South Oudh and the eastern and east submontane divisions of the North-Western Provinces also received rain in excess of the normal, but in all the remaining divisions of the North-Western Provinces and in all the divisions of the Punjab North Bombay, Rajputana and Central India rainfall was in defect. Rain fell in slight excess of the normal in the central division of the Central Provinces, but was in defect i the remaining divisions of the Central Provinces and over the whole of the Peninsula.

The only areas in which the week's rainfall was generally normal or in excess were Burma and North-Eastern India.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period June 4th to August 19th was normal or in excess of the normal in Tenasserim, Central Burma, Arakan, the whole of Bengal, Assam and the North-Western Provinces, the hills and north divisions of the Punjab and the East Coast (North). In all the remaining parts of India, which are those usually dependent on the Arabian Sea monsoon current for their rainfall, the amount of rain received up to date is below the normal. The largest deficiency, expressed as a percentage of the normal, occurs in Sind, Baluchistan, West Rajputana, Kathiawar and Gujarat. The largest absolute deficiency is that in the Konkan, where rainfall is short by 44·30 inches.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

Burma	Sandoway	19·63 inches.
Assam	Cherra Poonjee	40·76 "
Bengal	Sunderganj (Rangpur)	17·07 "
	Dinajpur	18·21 "

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 19th August.—The rainfall of the week was moderate in South Canara and parts of the Circars, but elsewhere there were only light or scattered showers. The water-supply is fair under large irrigation works, but insufficient in the Cauvery. Extensive sowings have been made during the last ten days in the Deccan, where some useful showers fell in parts on the 21st instant. Some sowings have also been made in the Circars, but elsewhere cultivation is much retarded. The standing crops in the Circars are generally fair, they have improved in the Deccan, but are fading in many places elsewhere. Good rain is urgently required everywhere both for sowing and the standing crops. Harvesting of crops in small areas continues with a moderate outturn. Pasturage is generally scanty, but fodder is available in most places. Prices generally show an upward tendency.

Bombay.—For week ending 23rd August.—Rain fell in all districts of the Presidency Proper, excepting Kathiawar. The fall was moderate in the Konkan, but insufficient in parts for furthering transplanting operations. Over an inch was recorded in parts of Surat, Khandesh, Sholapur, Satara, and Belgaum, which has proved beneficial to the crops. Elsewhere the rainfall was slight. More rain is urgently wanted everywhere to save the withering crops or to renew agricultural operations. The standing crops have been injured by insects or dust-storms in three talukas of Karachi and by rats in one of Dharwar. Preparations for the late crops are in progress in three talukas of Sholapur. The river is low in Sind and crops are suffering in parts of Hyderabad from a deficiency of water. Fodder is scarce in parts of Sind, Gujarat, Khandesh, and Nasik and is getting dearer in Sholapur, Satara, and Belgaum. Agricultural stock is in fair condition. Prices have risen in twelve districts, fallen in three, and are stationary elsewhere.

Bengal.—For week ending 21st August.—During the last week rain has fallen in every district, but, while it has been excessive in Bihar and North and East Bengal, it has been scanty in Orissa and the Chota Nagpur division. In Bihar all chance of a fair autumn harvest has disappeared. The rice crop is progressing well everywhere, save in Orissa, and the report from the 24-Parganas is more favourable than that for last week. In the Khondmals the deficiency in the rainfall has caused serious anxiety. Early rice is being harvested and jute is being cut. The price of rice has not materially changed since last week.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 23rd August.—Rain fell throughout the Provinces during the week. The falls were heavy in the Himalayan, North, Central, Central-Submontane, South Oudh, South-Eastern and Eastern-Submontane districts, being somewhat excessive in the latter. Elsewhere the falls have been light, especially in the Western-Submontane and Doab districts, where more rain is much needed. The crops have been benefited generally by the rain, but have suffered in many districts from the long break. In Muttra the maize crop is reported to have been lost, in Azamgarh the prospects of the early autumn crops are said to be gloomy, and in Gorakhpur continued damage, from excessive rain, is reported in low lying lands. Generally prospects have greatly improved. The standing crops are doing fairly, and irrigation is being resorted to where practicable. Transplantation of rice is in progress and early crops are being reaped in places. Supplies and fodder are abundant. With few exceptions prices are stationary or falling.

Punjab.—For week ending 23rd August.—Rain fell all over the Province during the week. Sowing of the autumn crops is still going on, and ploughing for the spring crops continues in Jullundur. The condition of the standing crops is generally reported average, but crops have commenced to suffer in several districts for want of sufficient rain. Prospects are not favourable in Delhi and some other districts. Water is insufficient in the Gajuhatta canal of the Mooltan district. The recent rain has benefited the standing crops and allowed further sowings of autumn crops in certain districts, but more rain is still urgently wanted. Cattle are reported to be in poor condition in Delhi, Lahore, Sialkot, and Dera Ismail Khan. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except Delhi, Jullundur, Lahore, Sialkot, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan, and sugarcane is being used as fodder in Sialkot. Prices—especially of wheat—are falling in Sialkot, are unchanged in Ferozepore, Shahpur and Rawalpindi, and are rising elsewhere. Wheat is selling from 14 to 19¼, barley 25 to 26, gram 15½ to 21, maize 20 to 27, great millet 18, bulrush-millet 14 to 23, and rice 12 to 12½ seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 22nd August.—The rainfall of the week has been very scanty, except in Damoh, where 3 inches were recorded. Narsinghpur, Raipur and Balaghat received about half-an-inch each, but elsewhere the rainfall has been insufficient or nil. Since the close of the week nearly 6½ inches of rain fell at Bilaspur and general rain varying from ½ to 1½ inches in Chanda. The autumn crops, other than rice, are generally in fair to good condition, but will deteriorate soon unless good rain is received. Of the rice districts, in Sambalpur prospects are good and the rainfall since the end of the week in Bilaspur should, if general, assure a fair crop. In Raipur there has been considerable deterioration of the crop, and the outlook is very gloomy in three tahsils. In Chanda, Bhandara and Balaghat, where rice is largely transplanted, about half the rice crop may be saved by early and heavy rain. Village relief will be required very soon in the affected districts and is already being organised. Preparation of land for the spring crops is being vigorously carried on and in parts of Raipur land, on which rice has already failed, is also being ploughed up for this purpose. Further sowings, where not completed in Betul and Wardha, are retarded for want of rain. The numbers in receipt of village relief are—Saugor 5,369, Damoh 2,183, and Bilaspur 1,780, but this relief is unconnected with the present drought. Fodder and water are reported to be scarce in Nimar, Chhindwara, the Nagpur country, and Hoshangabad. Government forests have been opened to free grazing where necessary. Prices are rising rapidly and the rise is very marked in Mandla, Seoni, Betul, and Nimar. In the last-named district juar, of which the price has risen at a bound from 20 to 13½ seers, is being largely exported to Rajputana and Guzerat. The cheapest prices are—wheat 15, gram 22, rice 17½, and juar 20 seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 10, gram 13, rice 9, and juar 13½ seers per rupee. The highest price of the cheapest staple in any district is 11¼ seers (rice) in Bhandara and Chanda.

Burma.—For week ending 19th August.—In Lower Burma ploughing and sowing are almost completed, but transplanting operations are still going on. Prospects are good. In Upper Burma sowing and transplanting of the wet weather paddy crop continue. Early paddy is being reaped in Kyaukse and the Southern Shan States. Reaping of early sesamum and sowing of the later upland crops are in progress. The standing crops are fair to good. The yield of the early sesamum crop has been very poor in the Mahlaing township of the Meiktila district. More rain is wanted in the Tagoung sub-division of the Ruby Mines district and very urgently in parts of the Shwebo and Yeu sub-divisions of Shwebo. The withering crops in Myingyan have revived in parts. The price of paddy has risen in Amherst, Pakôkku, and Myingyan and fallen in Pegu, Prome, and Thongwa.

Assam.—For week ending 22nd August.—The weather is hot and rainy. Transplanting of late and reaping of early rice and plucking and manufacture of tea are in progress. Prospects of tea are generally good; but more sun is needed in Sylhet. Late rice has been damaged by floods in parts of Sylhet and Sibsagar. Cutting of jute has commenced in Goalpara. Prospects are fair. Fodder is scarce in places owing to floods. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Dhubri, and Gauhati 16; Sylhet 24; Tezpur, Nowgong, Sibsagar, and Dibrugarh 12 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 22nd August.—MYSORE: Rainfall—11 cents in the Civil and Military station and fair rain in parts of Kadur and Shimoga. The standing crops in all districts are withering for want of rain. Prices have risen slightly in the Mysore district. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of Tumkur and Chitaldroog. Fodder is reported scarce in Hassan, Mysore, and parts of Kadur.

COORG: Rainfall during the week—47 cents. Transplanting of rice continues. More rain is much required. The prices of food-grains are rising. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 23rd August.—BERAR: Average rainfall during the week—66 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. Crops are reported to be in a better condition, but the want of rain is being keenly felt. Preparation of land for the winter crop is in progress. Sowings are withheld in places. Weeding continues. Fodder and water are deficient. The price of jowar shows a tendency to rise.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—50 cents. The sowing of the autumn crop continues in parts, but more rain is urgently wanted. Hot weather rice sowings have been suspended for want of water in tanks. Fields are being prepared for spring sowings. Pasturage and water for cattle are getting scarce. Prices of grain are steady. Prices—wheat 8¾, coarse rice 8⅜, and jowari 18 seers per current sicca rupee.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, August 26th, 1899.

No change of any importance has occurred in the general weather conditions during the past week. Both monsoon currents have continued unusually feeble, and the only areas in which rain has been fairly general are Burma and North-East India. Showers have, however, occurred in the Central Provinces and in parts of the Madras Deccan, and rain has been more general and slightly heavier than in the previous week on the West Coast. Practically no rain has fallen in Rajputana, Gujarat and Sind and very little in the Punjab and the western districts of the North-Western Provinces.

Another shallow depression appeared on Sunday off the Orissa Coast, but, like last week's depression in Bengal, it failed to intensify and, after remaining practically unchanged in position for the greater part of the week, finally filled up on Thursday, only to be followed by another shallow storm formed in practically the same area on Friday morning. The winds in the northern quadrant of these depressions were feeble and irregular, and the only effect the depressions had on the weather was to decrease the rainfall in Bengal to some extent.

On Thursday rain increased slightly on the West Coast and on Friday showed a marked increase in both the West Coast districts and in Tenasserim. As a rough sea and a slight increase in the winds accompanied these changes, it appeared possible that they were the first signs of a fresh advance of the monsoon, but by Saturday morning rain had again decreased, the sea had gone down, and winds showed no further signs of strengthening.

Temperature has again been in excess in most parts of the country. The area, in which the largest excess occurred, comprised Rajputana, the South Punjab and the adjacent districts of the North-Western Provinces and Central India. Temperature has, as last week, closely followed the distribution of rainfall, and while temperatures were most largely in excess in the above mentioned districts where rain has been altogether wanting, it has been fairly normal in Burma and North-East India, the only areas in which rain has been continuous and general.

Daily Summary.- Sunday, August 20th.—The barometer had fallen slightly over the head of the Bay, was steady in Lower Burma and the southern half of the Peninsula, and had risen elsewhere. A shallow depression was shown over the Orissa Coast and an equally shallow one over the North-Western Provinces. The low pressure area in North West India had shifted slightly to the south. Temperature was normal in Bengal, Chota Nagpur and Sind, in defect in Assam and Bihar and in excess in other provinces. Rain had decreased in Burma and Bengal. Moderate to heavy rain had fallen in the Upper India Himalayas, and showers in the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab and on the West Coast.

Monday, August 21st.—Pressure had changed by small amounts, and the depression off the Orissa Coast was apparently unchanged in position and character. Temperature had risen rapidly in Bihar and Chota Nagpur. It was above the normal in all parts of the country, except in Burma, Bihar and Sind, where it was normal and in Assam where it was in slight defect. Rain had increased in Burma, but continued light in Bengal. Light to moderate rain had fallen in the Upper India Hills, and light showers had fallen in the North-Western and Central Provinces, on the Madras Coast and in the Madras Deccan.

Tuesday, August 22nd.—The barometer had risen slightly in Burma and was steady or had fallen slightly in India. The depression off the Orissa Coast was in the same position and had intensified only very slightly. Temperature was normal in Burma and Bengal, in defect in Assam and in excess in other parts of the country. Light to moderate rain had been received in Burma and North-East India, and showers had fallen in the submontane districts of the Punjab, on the Upper India Hills, the West Coast and in the Central Provinces and the east of Central India. Fairly general but very light rain had fallen in Madras.

Wednesday, August 23rd.—Pressure had changed by small amounts, and its distribution was practically the same. The depression off the Orissa Coast was in the same position and had not intensified. Temperature was in excess of the normal in all provinces, except Burma, Bengal, Assam, Bihar and Mysore. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma and North-East India, except Chota Nagpur. Showers had been received in the Upper India Himalayas, on the West Coast, and in Berar, the Central Provinces, the Madras Deccan and the West Punjab.

Thursday, August 24th.—The barometer had fallen generally over the whole of India. It was steady or had risen slightly in Orissa, the Circars and the south of the Peninsula, and the depression off the Orissa Coast had filled up. Mean temperatures were in general excess, the excess being most marked in the maximum or day temperatures which averaged 9·3° above the normal in Rajputana and 7·9° in the Central Provinces. Light to moderate rain had been received in Burma and North-East India; and showers in the West Coast districts, Berar, the eastern districts of the Central Provinces and the East Peninsula

Friday, August 25th.—The barometer was steady or had risen slightly in all parts of the country, except in Central and Lower Burma and over the head of the Bay, where it showed a tendency to fall. Another shallow depression had formed over the north-west angle of the Bay. Temperatures were again in excess in most parts of the country and were normal only in Burma, Assam, Bengal, Bihar and on the West Coast. Rain had decreased in Upper and Central Burma and in North-East India and had increased in Tenasserim and on the West Coast. Showers had been received in the Upper India Himalayas, the Central Provinces, the eastern states of Central India and Madras.

Saturday, August 26th.—Pressure was steady over the Bay, in Burma and the south of the Peninsula and had risen by small amounts elsewhere. The depression in the north-west of the Bay had increased in size and covered a large area, but had not intensified. Temperatures were normal in Burma and North-East India and in excess in other parts of the country. Moderately heavy rain continued in Lower Burma and Tenasserim, but only light rain had fallen in Upper and Central Burma and over the greater part of North-East India. Rain had again decreased in the West Coast districts. Moderate rain had been received in the eastern districts of the Central Provinces, and showers had fallen in the Upper India hill districts and parts of Madras.

Temperature.—Excessive temperature has again prevailed in all parts of the country, except Burma, North-East India and Sind. Temperature for the whole week was in slight defect in Assam. The largest excess on an average of all stations occurred in Rajputana (+7·0°), Berar (+5·8°) and Central India (+4·4°). In the Punjab, Gujarat, Central Provinces, Bombay Deccan, Mysore, Madras Deccan and South India the excess ranged between 3° and 4°; and in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, the North-Western Provinces and the Madras Coast districts between 2° and 3°.

The largest changes in temperature occurred in the Madras Deccan, where, from being + 5·1° on Sunday, temperature fell to +0·7° on Thursday and again rose to +5·5° on Saturday. In all other provinces temperature was comparatively uniform, and the changes during the week small in amount.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

Mean for whole of India .	+2·4	+2·6	+3·0	+2·4	+2·2	+2·7	+2·9	+2·6

The mean temperature for the whole of India was in moderate excess throughout the week, the variation from the normal ranging from +2·2° on the 24th to +3·0° on the 22nd. For the whole week the mean temperature was 2·6° above the normal.

Rain.—The rainfall of the week has been fairly normal in Burma, Upper Burma being the only division in which it was in defect; but rain has decreased during the past week in Bengal and Assam, and the only divisions where it was practically normal or in excess were the valleys of the Surma and Brahmaputra, Orissa and Bihar In the North-Western Provinces rain was also in general defect, North Oudh, the eastern and east submontane divisions being the only ones in which the normal amount was received.

Normal rainfall has been received in the North Punjab and the Punjab Hills, but these are the only divisions in the whole of North-Western India where rainfall has not been in defect. Fairly normal rain has been received over the whole of Madras (including the south central division in the Malabar Coast districts), with the exception of the Jeypore hill tracts on the North Madras Coast. In the central parts of the country the eastern division of the Central Provinces is the only division in which rain has been received in excess of the usual amount.

Practically no rain has fallen during the week in the South-East Punjab, North Hyderabad, Khandesh, Gujarat, Kathiawar, Sind, Baluchistan Hills, Rajputana and the western division of Central India. The deficiency in the remaining areas of defective rainfall exceeds 50 per cent. of the normal in the South, Central and West Punjab, Coorg, Mysore, the Konkan, the Bombay Deccan, Berar, the west and central divisions of the Central Provinces and the eastern division of Central India.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that the rainfall of the period June 4th to August 26th was normal or in excess of the normal in Tenasserim, Central Burma, Arakan, the whole of Bengal, Assam and the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab Hills and North Punjab, the eastern division of the Central Provinces and the North Madras Coast.

Thus, with the exception of Upper and Lower Burma, the whole of Burma and North-Eastern India has received normal or excessive rain during the season. In North-Western India (excluding the western districts of the North-Western Provinces) rainfall has been in defect in all divisions, except the Punjab Hills and North Punjab. In the central parts of the country it has been in defect in all but the eastern division of the Central Provinces; and in the Peninsula in all except the North Madras Coast.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

Burma	Kyaikto (Thatôn)	18·11	inches.
	Pegu	14·05	„
Chota Nagpur	Monoharpur (Singhbhum)	12·23	„
Oudh	Nighasen (Lakhimpur)	12·40	„
N.-W. Provinces	Drovia (Gorakhpur)	10·83	„

Cheera Poonjee has received the unusually small amount of 6·56 inches.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 26th August.—The rainfall of the week has been generally irregularly distributed. It has been fair in South Canara, the greater part of the Circars, the Carnatic, and parts of the Central districts, but light elsewhere. The water-supply is insufficient almost everywhere—even under the largest irrigation works, and owing to the continued deficiency of the rainfall the Cauvery is very low. Sowings continue owing to rain in the Circars, the Deccan, Carnatic, and West Coast districts, but are much retarded in many places. Good rain is urgently required to expedite sowings and save the standing crops, which are generally in fair condition, but are failing in parts. Pasturage has improved slightly in parts, but is generally scanty, and the fodder-supply is decreasing everywhere. Prices are fluctuating, but generally show a slight upward tendency.

Bombay.—For week ending 30th August.—Rain fell in parts of Karachi and in all districts of the Presidency Proper, except in Kaira, Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, Kathiawar, and Baroda territory. Moderate rain was also recorded below the Ghât tracts of Kanara, but elsewhere the falls have been slight. More rain is urgently wanted everywhere to save the remaining early crops and for the late sowings. The standing crops are in fairly good condition in parts of the Konkan, Surat, Khandesh, Nasik, and Dharwar districts, but elsewhere they have withered or are withering. Preparations for the late crops are in progress in Sholapur. A deficiency of water continues in parts of Sind, but the river is now rising. The water-supply is also failing in parts of Sholapur and Belgaum. Fodder is scarce in parts of Sind, Gujerat, Kathiawar, Belgaum, and Baroda territory and is getting dearer in Sholapur and Satara. Agricultural stock is generally in fair condition. Prices have risen in sixteen districts, fallen in one, but are stationary elsewhere. Relief works are about to be opened in Ahmedabad, and some relief is being given in the Sind desert.

Bengal.—For week ending 28th August.—The rainfall during the week has been general but moderate; the reports from Chota Nagpur being more favourable than those for last week. The winter rice crop is generally doing well, but in Orissa more rain is still wanted, and conditions in Angul, though somewhat improved, are still threatening. The harvesting of the early rice and jute crops continues. The price of common rice shows no material change during the week. Fodder is generally sufficient, and cattle are for the most part in good condition.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 30th August.—Good rain fell during the week in the Himalayan, Central-Submontane, North-Central, South Oudh, Lower Doab, South-Eastern, and Eastern-Submontane districts, where the crops have benefited and prospects are at present favourable.

Elsewhere the rainfall has been light and more rain is badly wanted, especially in the Western-Submontane, Upper Doab, Central Doab, and some of the Bundelkhand districts. Insects are reported to be causing damage in Bareilly, Pilibhit, Jaunpur, and Ballia. The condition of the standing crops is said to be bad in the Aligarh, Muttra, and Jalaun districts, and prospects are becoming worse there. Irrigation is being resorted to wherever practicable. Harvesting of the early autumn crops has begun, but so far the outturn is reported as only moderate owing to excessive rain at the outset or to the break which occurred subsequently. The later sown crops are being weeded, and ploughings for the spring crops have begun in many places. Supplies and fodder continue to be abundant. Prices are rising generally.

Punjab.—For week ending 30th August.—The rainfall during the week in the Sialkot, Rawalpindi, Peshawar, Dera Ismail Khan, and Lahore districts was fair. Slight showers also fell in Hissar, Delhi, Umballa, and Shahpur. No rain is reported from the Jullundur, Ferozepur, Multan, and Amritsar districts. Sowing of the autumn crops is progressing in Lahore and Dera Ismail Khan, and land is being prepared for the spring crops in Lahore. The prospects of the irrigated crops are reported good from Multan, Amritsar, and Peshawar; fair in Hissar; and average in Lahore, Sialkot, and Rawalpindi. The unirrigated crops have nearly failed in Delhi for want of rain; they are withering in Hissar, Umballa, Jullundur, and Sialkot and are said to be poor in Multan and Amritsar. The condition of the crops in Ferozepur is also reported to be bad. Recent rain has benefited the standing crops in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan, but more rain is badly wanted almost all over the Province and especially in the Hissar, Umballa, Amritsar, Sialkot, and Shahpur districts. The condition of cattle is reported to be good, except in a few districts. Fodder is insufficient in Hissar, Delhi, Jullundur, and parts of Lahore and Sialkot; and also in Shahpur and Dera Ismail Khan. The deteriorated rice crop is being used as fodder in Sialkot. Prices—especially of wheat—have risen in all districts, except Multan, where they have fallen one seer per rupee. The price of wheat in Ferozepur was 13 seers per rupee against 18 seers last week. Wheat is selling from 13 to 18 seers, barley 16 to 18, gram 13½ to 15, maize 16 to 21, rice 12 to 12½, great millet 13 to 20, and bulrush-millet 16 to 20 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 29th August.—General rain fell during the week. Bilaspur has received 10½ inches, Raipur 6½ inches, Sambalpur 5 inches, Bhandara 4½ inches, Narsinghpur 4 inches, Chanda and Mandla about 3½ inches each, Damoh, Jubbulpore, and Hoshangabad 3 inches each, Seoni 2 inches, Nagpur 1½ inches, and from 1 inch to 28 cents has been recorded elsewhere. Heavy rain is also reported from Balaghat, but the quantity is not stated. No rain fell at the head-quarters of Nimar, but some showers were received in parts of the Khandwa and Harsud tahsils, and Burhanpur received 1 inch. The rain has materially improved prospects, and the condition of the Chhattisgarh rice crop is much better than reported last week, and, with a favourable September, fair crops may now be expected in the Waingunga districts, except in parts of Balaghat. Transplantation has been resumed, and half or nearly half the crop may be saved. In parts of Balaghat and in the rice-growing area of Nagpur the damage done is, however, greater than this. The prospects of the other autumn crops are fair or good, and juar everywhere promises well, but small millets have suffered in Saugor and Chhindwara and more rain is urgently needed in those districts and in Nagpur, Nimar, Jubbulpur, and Betul. The numbers in receipt of village relief on account of previous failures are in Saugor 5,544, Damoh 1,982, and Bilaspur 1,943 Village relief is now being stopped in the plains tracts of Damoh. The first relief necessitated by the effect of the drought is being started in Balaghat, the only district in which general distress has declared itself; but relief has also been sanctioned in local areas in Hoshangabad and Betul. Fodder and water are reported to be scarce in Nimar, Chhindwara, the Nagpur country, and Hoshangabad. Cattle are reported to have sufficient fodder and water since the throwing open of the Government forests, which measure has been adopted wherever necessary. The recent rain has steadied prices in the rice districts and has caused a slight fall in Seoni and Betul, but in Saugor and Chhindwara they are rising. The price of juar continues high in Nimar and has risen in Hoshangabad, Nagpur, and Wardha on account of exports. The cheapest prices are—wheat 15, gram 20, rice 17, and juar 18¾ seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 10, gram 13, rice 9, and juar 13½ seers per rupee. The highest price of the cheapest staple in any district is 11 seers (rice) in Bhandara.

Burma.—For week ending 26th August.—In Lower Burma ploughing has been completed in Amherst. Sowing and transplanting continue in most districts, but the want of rain retards operations in parts of the Kanoung township of Henzada. Replanting of the areas destroyed by floods is reported from the central township of Tavoy. The standing crops are in good condition. In Upper Burma reaping of sesamum has commenced in Sagaing and the Pale subdivision of the Lower Chindwin, and continues elsewhere. Sowing and transplanting of wet weather paddy continue and reaping of the early paddy crop is in progress in the Shan States and Kyaukse. Ploughing for, and sowing of, the later upland crops continue. The standing crops are in fair condition. More rain is wanted in the Salwin township of Minbu, the Pagan sub-division of Myingyan, the Sagaing sub-division of Sagaing, and in parts, previously reported, of Shwebo and the Ruby Mines districts. Withering crops have revived in parts of the Myingyan sub-division. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon and seven other districts and fallen in Minbu and the Southern Shan States.

Assam.—For week ending 29th August.—The weather is hot. Transplanting of late and reaping of early rice and plucking and manufacture of tea are in progress. Prospects of tea are generally good. Cutting of jute continues in Goalpara and Sylhet: the early rice and jute crops have been partly damaged by floods in the former district. Fodder is scarce in places owing to floods. Prices—common rice—Silchar 15 to 16, Sylhet 20¾, Dhubri 16, Gauhati 14½, Tezpur 12½, Nowgong 11½, and Sibsagar and Dibrugarh 12 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 29th August.—MYSORE: Rainfall—25 cents in the Civil and Military Station and slight showers throughout the rest of the State. The fall has been sufficient for sowing operations, except in the greater portion of Kadur, Chitaldrug, and Shimoga. The standing crops are withering everywhere for want of rain. The price of ragi (Eleusine coracana) has risen in Bangalore, Kolar, Hassan, Chitaldrug, and Shimoga. Fodder is reported scarce in Bangalore, Tumkur, Hassan, and Chitaldrug.

COORG: Rainfall—4 inches, 25 cents. The transplanting of rice continues, but more rain is required. Prices of food-grains are rising. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 30th August.—BERAR: The average rainfall during the week was 35 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. The prospects of crops are reported to be fair in parts of the Amraoti, Basim, and Wun districts, but are poor elsewhere. More rain is anxiously looked for. Land is being prepared for the winter crop, and sowings are in progress in parts of the Province. Prices are rising. Fodder and water are insufficient.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—67 cents, but this is insufficient to do any material good to the standing autumn and hot weather crops. The rain has, however, saved the crops from withering at present in the Warangal and Bidar divisions. Agricultural prospects are gloomy in the Gulburga division, and rain is urgently wanted to improve the present condition. Cattle are getting lean for want of pasturage and water. Prices of grain are rising. Prices—wheat 8, coarse rice $8\frac{1}{4}$, and jowari $17\frac{2}{3}$ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 30th August.—Good rain fell during the week in Bundelkhand and Baghelkhand, none in Bhopawar, and slight to partial in other Agencies. Agricultural operations are in progress in all Agencies, except in Bhopawar. The condition of the standing crops is bad in Malwa and Bhopawar and not good in Gwalior. Pasturage is bad in Malwa and Bhopawar and fair to good in other Agencies. Prices are normal in Bhopal and Bhaghelkhand, but are rising in other Agencies.

Rajputana.—For week ending 30th August.—Rainfall—77 cents in Meywar, 45 in Abu, 25 in Bundi, 30 in Bikanir, slight in Dholepur and Ulwar, and nil elsewhere. Agricultural operations are at a standstill, and barani crops are withering for want of rain. Cattle are generally deteriorating, fodder being very scarce. Prices are rising in fifteen States and are steady elsewhere. During the week 223 persons emigrated from Ajmere and 749 from Merwara. The total emigration from Ajmere-Merwara to date numbers 8,757. The numbers employed on relief works were—Marwar 7,261 and the Beawar tahsil 15,249. On ordinary works—Merwara 10[illegible] and on gratuitous relief—Beawar 261 and Todgarh 399. Prices—Marwar $8\frac{1}{4}$, Ajmere 11 to $13\frac{1}{2}$, and Beawar 12 to 15 seers per rupee. Prospects are generally the same as previously reported.

Kashmir.—For week ending 29th August.—Some rain fell during the week, but the weather is now fine and the prospects of the autumn crops are excellent. Prices continue below normal. The price of rice is 27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 30th August.—Slight rain fell during the week. Prices are rising. Prices—wheat from 15 to 18 and maize 23 to 29 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient.

Nepal.—For week ending 26th August—Rainfall—1·15 inches. The weather has been cold and cloudy. Indian corn has been gathered, but the outturn is poor. The rice crops are doing well. The price of rice is 8½ seers per rupee.

Rain has fallen daily in Burma, Assam, and Bengal, though it has been lighter than usual in the first named Province. Between the 25th and 27th there was little rain over the Central Provinces or the North-Western Provinces, but on the 28th a storm crossed the Orissa Coast and a fair burst of rain was received over these regions, which, however, has now completely ceased. Showers, daily becoming lighter, have been received along the West Coast during the week, and the East Coast had showers on the 25th. The interior of the Peninsula, Gujarat, Sind, Rajputana, and the Punjab have received practically no rain, though showers are reported at Verawal and Bhuj this morning.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India.

BY DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

The first five volumes and Volume VI, Parts I, II, III, & IV of the Dictionary are ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is R45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made): packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, 2 rupees 6 annas per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, R6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history, properties and uses (both chemical and industrial), trade statistics; markets etc. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross-references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries, and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal 8vo pages; Volume II embraces the letter C in 689 pages, Volume III contains the letters D, E, F, and half of G; Volume IV, latter half of G to middle of L, and Volume V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which consists of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI), but a tenth volume has been issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index is practically a glossary of the vernacular and European names of the plants, animals, and minerals of India, and, as such, is a work of reference, which, it is hoped, will prove of considerable value.

Index to Do. do. 8vo. R2 (4a.)

NOTE.—By January next 100 sets only of the Dictionary would be available for sale.

CITY OF BOMBAY IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

ISSUE OF RS. FIFTY LAKHS FOUR PER CENT. GURANTEED DEBENTURES REPAYABLE IN SIXTY YEARS.

REVISED NOTIFICATION.

With the sanction of the Government of India and under the provisions of Sections 52-59 of the City of Bombay Improvement Act, 1898, the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of the City of Bombay hereby invite tenders for a loan of Rs. Fifty Lakhs, bearing interest at FOUR per cent., repayable in SIXTY years by a Sinking Fund to be invested (as required by Sections 55 and 56) half-yearly in public securities.

The interest and sinking fund charges as aforesaid will be a charge on the property and revenues of the Board, which include, in addition to the properties for the purchase of which the loan is chiefly required, the rents of certain vacant lands in the City of Bombay, valued in the Schedules of the said Act at R91,01,551 and an annual contribution from the Municipal Fund not exceeding 2 per cent. on the total rateable value of all buildings and lands in the City (exclusive of buildings exclusively occupied for public worship or for charitable purposes), which contribution is estimated for 1899-1900 at R4,75,000, besides other receipts reserved to the Board by the provisions of the Act which will be developed by the operations to be undertaken.

The interest on these debentures will constitute a charge on the revenue of the Board prior to the charge for interest payable to the Secretary of State for India in Council and to the Corporation on and from 1st April, 1909, in respect of the debt on account of the lands vesting in the Board. (Section 54.)

The payment of interest on these debentures and the setting aside and investment of the sinking fund required for their repayment are GUARANTEED by the provisions of the Statute (assented to by the Governor-General of India), whereby it is directed that in the event of any default being made by the Board in any payment of interest or in the event of the Board failing to set aside and invest any sum required to form the sinking fund, the ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL OF BOMBAY or other Officer for the time being performing the duties of the Office of the said Accountant-General shall make such payment or set aside and invest such sum as may be required to be invested. (Section 80.)

The Board reserve to themselves the right of refusing tenders if they consider the rates offered to be too low, but subject to this reservation, allotments will be made in full to the highest Tenderers, and rateably to the Tenderers offering the lowest rate accepted by the Board.

These debentures will be issued for sums of R500 or multiples of R500, as may be required; they will be repayable to holder in Sixty years from 1st November 1899, and will bear interest at 4 per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly.

2 per cent. of the amount tendered to be deposited on application, and the balance on or before Tuesday, the 31st October, 1899; interest to accrue from date of actual payment.

The deposit of 2 per cent. will be returned if no allotment is made, and it will be forfeited if an allotment is not fully paid up on the 31st October.

Tenders will be received by the Secretary, Bombay Improvement Trust, up to one o'clock P.M. (gun-fire), on Monday, the 2nd October, 1899, and they will thereafter be opened in the presence of the Chairman of the Improvement Trust.

Printed forms of Tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary.

By order of the Board,
W. N. SHILSTONE,
Secretary.

CITY OF BOMBAY IMPROVEMENT TRUST.

ISSUE OF RS. FIFTY LAKHS FOUR PER CENT. GURANTEED DEBENTURES REPAYABLE IN SIXTY YEARS.

REVISED NOTIFICATION.

With the sanction of the Government of India and under the provisions of Sections 52-59 of the City of Bombay Improvement Act, 1898, the Board of Trustees for the Improvement of the City of Bombay hereby invite tenders for a loan of Rs. Fifty Lakhs, bearing interest at FOUR per cent., repayable in SIXTY years by a Sinking Fund to be invested (as required by Sections 55 and 56) half-yearly in public securities.

The interest and sinking fund charges as aforesaid will be a charge on the property and revenues of the Board, which include, in addition to the properties for the purchase of which the loan is chiefly required, the rents of certain vacant lands in the City of Bombay, valued in the Schedules of the said Act at R91,01,551 and an annual contribution from the Municipal Fund not exceeding 2 per cent. on the total rateable value of all buildings and lands in the City (exclusive of buildings exclusively occupied for public worship or for charitable purposes), which contribution is estimated for 1899-1900 at R4,75,000, besides other receipts reserved to the Board by the provisions of the Act which will be developed by the operations to be undertaken.

The interest on these debentures will constitute a charge on the revenue of the Board prior to the charge for interest payable to the Secretary of State for India in Council and to the Corporation on and from 1st April, 1909, in respect of the debt on account of the lands vesting in the Board. (Section 54.)

No. 529.—In supersession of the rules published with Home Department Resolution No. $\frac{2}{188-199}$, dated the 5th June 1894, and modified by the orders* noted in the margin, the following Rules for the regulation of appointments in the Secretariat Clerical Service of the Government of India and attached offices are published for general information:

* Home Department Resolution Nos. 186—187, dated the 30th April 1897.
Home Department Resolution Nos. 329—340, dated the 2nd June 1899.

1. The Secretariat Clerical Service shall be separated into an Upper and a Lower Division—the former comprising all appointments the pay (or, in the case of appointments carrying progressive pay, the minimum pay) of which is Rs. 200 and upwards; the latter, all appointments (other than those of copyists, to whom these rules do not apply) the pay of which is below that sum. No clerk will be entitled to promotion from the Lower to the Upper Division as a matter of course or otherwise than in accordance with these rules.

2. The head of the office concerned shall have an absolute power of selection in the case of appointments of Registrars of offices, Superintendents of branches, Head Assistants, Personal Assistants, or appointments involving the control or supervision over divisions of an office. The remaining appointments in the Upper Division will usually be filled by the head of the office concerned by selection from among the clerks in the Lower Divisi[illegible]owever, no clerk in the Lower Division of an office is considered fit for promotion to the Upper Division, a vacancy in the latter division shall be filled by nomination.

3. The mode of recruiting two-thirds† of all the appointments in the Lower Division shall be by open competition.‡ The rest of the appointments in this division may be filled in accordance with rules 13 and 14.

An examination of candidates for the Lower Division of the Secretariat Clerical Service will be held at Calcutta, Allahabad, and Lahore, and at such other places as may hereafter be appointed, in January of each year. The examination at Allahabad will be confined to persons domiciled § in the North-Western Provinces, Oudh, the Central Provinces, Rajputana and Central India; and that at Lahore, to persons domiciled in the Punjab and Baluchistan. Candidates who desire to compete for vacancies offered for competition at Allahabad and Lahore must prove, to the satisfaction of the Secretary to the Board of Examiners, that they are domiciled in one of the provinces enumerated above, permanent residence in which would entitle them to appear at either of the centres. Natives of Bengal who are temporary residents of, and not domiciled in, any of those provinces, will be permitted to present themselves at the examinations at Allahabad and Lahore, but they will be treated as competing for the vacancies offered at Calcutta, and not for those offered at Allahabad and Lahore.

5. The arrangements for the examination prescribed in the last preceding rule will be made by the Board of Examiners, Fort William, who will be assisted by paid examiners, and act in communication with the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department. Before the examination commences,

† In the case of the Military Department for "two-thirds" read "one-third" in this rule, and read rule 13 accordingly.

‡ The head of a department has discretion to fill any vacancy which is not expected to last more than three months in the manner which he considers to be most suitable.

§ The term "domiciled" should be understood in its ordinary legal sense (vide the Indian Succession Act, 1865, Part II), and no person can be considered to be domiciled in any of the provinces enumerated unless he has fixed the habitation of himself and his family in that province, not for a mere special or temporary purpose, but with the intention of making it his permanent home.

a distinguishing number will be given by the Secretary to the Board of Examiners to each candidate, with which the candidate will mark each of his papers of answers.

6. The nature of the examination for the Lower Division will be as follows:

(1) Dictation and handwriting.

This will be a preliminary test. The examination in these subjects will not be competitive, but marks will be assigned for the purpose of testing proficiency. The papers of candidates will be examined as soon as possible after this examination; and the Examiners will require any candidate who fails to obtain two thirds marks in each subject to withdraw from the further examination.

	Marks.
(2) English Composition (Essay-writing and Drafting) ...	100
(3) Précis-writing	100
(4) Geography	50
(5) History (English and Indian)	50
(6) Arithmetic; Euclid, 1st Book; Algebra up to Simple Equations	50

No candidate will be credited with marks in either subject (2) or subject (3) unless he obtains at least one-fourth of the marks in the subject; nor will he be credited with marks in subject (4), subject (5), or subject (6), unless he obtains one-fifth of the marks in the subject. Any candidate obtaining less than one-fourth marks in either subject (2) or subject (3) shall be disqualified. Candidates will not be eligible for the Lower Division of the Financial Department or for the office of the Accountant-General, Military Department (if with reference to rule 19 below the Department or office adopts these rules), and of the Accountant-General, Public Works Department, unless they obtain at least one-third of the full number of marks in Arithmetic.

7 Every candidate for an appointment in the Lower Division must send a written application for permission to appear at the examination to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners between the date of issue of the Notification announcing the number of vacancies to be competed for, to which reference is made in rule 9 of the rules, and the 15th December (inclusive).

(Form)

To the Secretary to the Board of Examiners, Fort William.

Sir,

I request permission to present myself at the ensuing examination of candidates for appointments in the Lower Division of Government Clerkships. If successful, I should elect to serve in the office of the

A treasury receipt for the fee of Rs. 10 is forwarded herewith.

I am, etc.

8. The application under the last rule should be in the form given on the margin, and be accompanied by a treasury receipt, for the sum of Rs. 10. This sum he is required to pay into the treasury nearest his place of residence by way of examination fee. With the application must also be forwarded—

(1) Evidence (except in the cases provided for by rule 10) that the candidate at the date of making his application is not less than eighteen and not more than twenty-four years of age. The date of the candidate's birth must be stated.

(2) In case the candidate has been educated at a school in which students' good conduct registers are kept, the candidate's register for the last year of his attendance at school, when a year has not elapsed since he left school. In other cases, a certificate that the candidate is of good moral character from the head of the institution in which he has last been educated, or from some respectable householder to whom he is well known in private life, and who is himself known to a District or Sub-divisional Magistrate or to the head of some Government office,—this last fact being certified by the countersignature of the officer in question.

(3) If the candidate is employed under Government, a certificate by the head of the office or department to the effect that, in his opinion, there is no objection to the candidate appearing at the ensuing Clerkship Examination.

(4) A statement whether the candidate has appeared at any previous Clerkship Examination, and, if so, in what year.

9. The number of candidates to be selected by the Examiners for the Lower Division will be notified in the Gazette of India by the Home Department on or before the 31st October. This number will be determined in communication with the heads of the offices concerned, with reference to the number of vacancies existing or estimated as likely to occur within the course of the following year (and which it is not intended to fill under the provisions of rules 13, 14 and 15), plus a margin of 10 per cent. for casualties. One-half the number of vacancies offered will be reserved for candidates domiciled in the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces, Rajputana, Central India, and Baluchistan, provided that a sufficient number of duly qualified candidates to fill these appointments appear from those territories.

10. Persons who have at any time held a permanent appointment in any of the offices referred to in these rules, but who may have lost such appointment owing to its abolition or on reduction of establishment, may present themselves for the examination for the Lower Division under these rules, provided they are under forty years of age.

11. As soon as practicable after the open competitive examination for the Lower Division, the Board of Examiners will report the result to the Home Department. The report will take the form of a list giving the names of selected candidates and the exact dates of their births, the distinguishing numbers of unsuccessful candidates, and the number of marks obtained by each candidate whether successful or unsuccessful in each subject of examination. The Home Department will then circulate a list of selected candidates to the heads of the offices concerned. Candidates will be given their choice of departments as far as possible, and the Home Department will intimate such choice, if made, to the head of each office. The head of each Department will, however, be at liberty to offer a vacant appointment which may occur in his Department to any selected candidate remaining on the list. This offer should be made through the Home Department, which will keep each Department of the Government of India informed as the names of selected candidates are removed from the list. No candidate selected in a later year shall be offered an appointment, until the offer has been made to and refused by selected candidates of an earlier year remaining on the list.

12. When an outside candidate for the Lower Division attains the age of twenty-five years, or when two years have expired from the date of the entry of his name on the list or when any candidate has refused the offer of an appointment in the Department in which he has elected to serve, or has twice refused the offer of an appointment in any other Department or Departments, his name shall immediately be removed from the list.

13. Every third vacancy in the Lower Division may be filled by the head of a Department without reference to the preceding rules.*

14. Appointments made under the last preceding rule shall, if the person appointed is not in Government service, be made subject to the conditions that the person appointed—

(a) is at the time of appointment not less than eighteen and not more than twenty-five years of age;

(b) can give satisfactory evidence that he possesses a minimum educational qualification equivalent to the Entrance Standard of one of the Indian Universities;

* (1) It is not necessary that the vacancy in question shall be filled by appointment at the bottom of the list. It may be by appointment to any grade (not above that in which the vacancy occurs) the minimum pay of which does not exceed Rs. 100.

(2) The vacancy may be held over until a suitable candidate is found.

(c) must produce satisfactory evidence that he is of good moral character.

15. Any officer already in Government employment may be appointed to any vacancy such as is referred to in rule 13, without regard to the qualifications specified in the preceding rule.

16. The heads of offices to which these rules apply are at liberty to arrange transfers from the Lower Division of one office to that of another. The transfer of an officer from a post in an office to which the rules apply, to a vacancy in another office to which these rules also apply, shall, for the purposes of rule 13, be held to be the filling up of a vacancy.

17. Before a person, who is not already in Government service, is actually employed in any office, he must produce a certificate from a Government medical officer of or above the rank of Captain to the effect that he is in good health and of a sound constitution.

18. All candidates for the Lower Division, whether selected by examination or nominated, who receive appointments, and such candidates for the Upper Division as are recruited by nomination, will be on probation for twelve months; and if at any time during that period, or at its close, their work is not considered satisfactory by the head of the office in which they are employed, they will receive their discharge, and will have no claim to gratuity or compensation on that account.

19. The above rules will apply to the Secretariat Offices* of the Government of India, except the Foreign Department, and the Finance and Commerce Department,† and the office of the Accountant-General, Military Department, whenever the latter Department or office fill vacancies by recruitment of officers already holding clerical appointments in any Government Account office. Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for making Laws and Regulations, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council, and Bills published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 8th September, 1899:

NO. 20 OF 1899.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, and the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, and the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882; It is hereby enacted as follows:

of 1882.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Coinage and Paper Currency Act, 1899; and Short title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. For section 12 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, the following section shall be substituted, namely:

Substitution of new section for section 12, Act XXIII, 1870.

XXIII 1870.

"12. Gold coins, whether coined at Her Majesty's Royal Mint in England, or at any Mint established in pursuance of a Proclamation of Her Majesty as a branch of Her Majesty's Royal Mint, shall be a legal tender in payment or on account at the rate of fifteen rupees for one sovereign:

Gold coins a legal tender.

"Provided that such coins have not been called in by any Proclamation made in pursuance of the Coinage Act, 1870, or have not lost weight so as to be of less weight than that for the time being prescribed for like coins by or under the said Statute as the least current weight."

33 & 34 Vict., c. 10.

3. To section 11, clause (a), of the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882, the following words and figures shall be added, namely:

Addition to section 11, clause (a), Act XX, 1882.

XX of 1882.

"or in gold coin which is legal tender under the Indian Coinage Act, 1870."

XXIII of 1870.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IT was explained in Council, when leave was asked to postpone this Bill, that it was desirable to await the terms of the Proclamation which is being drafted in London with the view of constituting an Indian Mint a branch of the Royal Mint for the purpose of coining gold, before proceeding with legislation in this country. The Government of India had been led to expect the Proclamation some time since; but are now advised that there may be further delay in its issue owing to technical and legal questions.

But it is considered advisable, in view of the announcement of policy made by the Government, to proceed now with so much of the proposed legislation as is necessary to make the sovereign full legal tender in India at a fixed rate. By this legislation the Government of India will be giving effect to the policy initiated by it in 1893, when the Indian Mints were closed to the free coinage of silver, with the object of establishing a gold standard. The amendment is framed to carry out the most important of the recommendations of the Currency Committee which has recently reported. These recommendations have been accepted generally by Her Majesty's Government and by the Secretary of State in Council. They are entirely concurred in by the Government of India, and may be summarized as follows:

The Indian Mints should continue to be closed against the unrestricted coinage of silver and they should be opened to the receipt of gold; the gold coin current and legal tender in the United Kingdom should also be declared legal tender in India, at the rate of fifteen rupees to a sovereign, that is at the rate of 1*s*. 4*d*. the rupee, and such gold coins should be coined in the Indian Mints. The Bill contains the modifications in the Indian Coinage Act of 1870 and the Paper Currency Act of 1882 which are necessary to give the recommendations as regards making gold coins, legal tender, at the rate of fifteen rupees to a sovereign, the force of law.

PRESIDENCY BANKS BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS moved that the Bill further to amend the Presidency Banks Act, 1876, be taken into consideration. He said:—"Last Friday, when asking leave to introduce this Bill, I reminded Council that strict limitations were imposed by the legislature on the business in which the Presidency Banks are authorized to deal, and I added that these limitations, to some extent, appeared to have survived the times and conditions which had rendered them necessary. With the permission of Your Excellency, I would like to amplify the opinion which I then expressed incidentally. Upon its becoming known that we intended to introduce the purely formal amendment now before us, we were informed, through the Comptroller General, that the Bank of Bengal desired us to reconsider, in connection with this amendment, the refusal of Lord Elgin's Government to add the securities of assisted branch lines to the securities of Railways guaranteed by Government in which alone the Presidency Banks may deal. We also received a telegram from the Madras Chamber of Commerce, asking us to introduce further legislation to empower the Presidency Banks to deal in the securities issued by District Boards with the authority of Government. The Presidency Bank of Madras and the Madras Government support the proposal.

"We have come to the conclusion, a conclusion which, I think, must commend itself to every reasonable man, that we could not tack on, in a hurry, legislation involving questions of principle to a purely formal amendment. Nor could we defer passing this formal amendment and give time for the mature consideration of these larger issues, as this amendment is urgent, its object being to enable the Presidency Bank of Bombay to deal in the securities of the loan already issued by the Bombay Improvement Trust.

"At the same time we do not wish to return a simple non-possumus to the requests of the Bengal Bank and of the Madras Chamber of Commerce or, what is perhaps more disheartening, to postpone their consideration indefinitely. In the opinion of Government the time has come for reviewing the question of these restrictions on the Bank's operation, as there is ground for thinking that they may, to some extent, have survived the reasons for their imposition, and do unnecessarily hamper business and enterprise.

"The origin of these restrictions is, I think, generally known, but perhaps I may be allowed to refer to it. Formerly, as Hon'ble Members are aware, Government had a pecuniary interest in the Presidency Banks and was largely concerned in, and responsible for, their management. In 1872, after the failure of the old Bank of Bombay, it was decided that Government should divest itself of its interest in the Banks, and withdraw from active participation in their management. Protracted discussion took place for several years; and I find among the proceedings that a proposal was made, but not pressed, to allow the Presidency Banks the freedom and discretion of ordinary Banks in dealing in shares and stock. It was natural that the proposal was not pressed, for the failure, involving Government in considerable loss, of the old Bombay Bank, which for some reason had been freed from the restrictions imposed upon the other Presidency Banks, was primarily attributed by the Commission of Inquiry to speculative dealings encouraged by the absence of such restrictions. It was therefore felt that the business of the Presidency Banks must still be subjected to strict limitations in view of a variety of circumstances and principally, of course, with the object of securing the safety of the Government balances entrusted to the Presidency Banks by special arrangement. Much has happened since 1876: new banks have grown up; new forms of enterprise have been started—but the principal factor remains constant: the Presidency Banks are still the custodians of the Government balances—and I do not think that any Bank in India, which receives custody of the Government balances, can expect to be without restrictions on the class of business in which it may engage these public balances. Two considerations must be borne in mind. The Presidency Banks depend to a quite exceptional degree for their cash balances on the Government account. As Sir J. Westland showed, in the busy season nearly 80 to 90 per cent. of these balances are supplied from the Government account: a fact which, added to the fluctuations in the rate of discount, may make us ask seriously how far the Presidency Banks have sufficient capital to allow of the absorption of the resources they command in enterprises, the securities of which might not be easily realizable.

"Again, the circumstances of India are peculiar. In England, if the Government were suddenly in need of money and the Bank of England had locked up the Government balances, it would not be of serious consequence. Money could be procured from a dozen other different quarters. In India, this would not be possible; and, indeed, we have a historic example in the embarrassment, which the inability or reluctance of the Banks to produce the money deposited with them, brought upon Government when confronted with the sudden emergency of the Orissa Famine.

"I have thought it necessary to trouble Council with this retrospect and explanation, because we shall have to keep this central and vital consideration in view when we proceed to consider how far existing restrictions can be relaxed. But having uttered this word of caution, I may express my opinion that some relaxation is desirable; and I may state that Government is prepared and has decided to examine the whole question exhaustively, and in no narrow spirit.

"There is, I think, no doubt that, as regards railways, the limitation of the Bank's operations to the securities of guaranteed Railways is a serious impediment to the promotion of those assisted railways which the Government has so often expressed a desire to encourage. I may say that this is the conviction of my Honourable Colleague, Colonel Gardiner, whose great practical experience and knowledge lends much weight to his views, and I congratulate Council that my Honourable Colleague will be able to take part in the consideration of this question. He knows where the shoe pinches, and his familiarity with every branch of railway organization and with railway finance, will supply Government with valuable suggestions.

"To what precise extent we shall be able to authorize the Presidency Banks to deal in the securities of the various classes of assisted railways, I shall not of course be expected to indicate at this moment. But, looking to the total capital of such branches and to the terms under which some of them are constructed, I do not think it will be impossible to devise such safeguards as would permit us to relax the prohibitions now placed upon the Presidency Banks in regard to dealing in some of their securities.

"I now pass to the question raised by Madras, that of authorizing the Presidency Banks to deal in the securities issued by District Boards, although this question, I may say, is not unconnected with that of railway development, in so far as District Boards may, as in the case of the Tanjore Board, themselves guarantee railways, etc., etc.

"I think we may admit that this is a question presenting less difficulty. District Boards and Municipalities, in the securities of which latter the Presidency Banks may deal, are equally considered as local authorities under the Local Authorities Loans Act of 1879, and require the same sanction from the Local Governments for their loan operations. The Municipalities and Port Trusts of the three Presidency Towns and Bombay City Improvement Trust alone stand on a different footing, as in the case of their operations the sanction of the Government of India, in addition to that of the Local Government, is required. But we thought the whole question of enlarging the area of securities in which the Presidency Banks may deal, might well be considered before further legislation was undertaken. No prejudice to the District Boards is likely to arise from the delay. The request from Madras has not been previously pressed upon Government, and there is no urgency, for, as a matter of fact, the District Boards almost invariably prefer to borrow from Government to borrowing in the open market, as they can get better terms from Government. Up to the present moment only two District Boards have raised money in the open market."

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said:—"I should like to add a few words upon the subject touched upon by the Hon'ble Mr. Dawkins in the remarks to which we have just listened. The speech which he has made represents the views that are unanimously entertained by the Government of India. The question that has been raised by him is one, in my opinion, of great importance, and one upon which I should be grateful for the enlightenment and backing of public opinion. The Bill now before us, as he has told us, is one for a more or less formal amendment of the Presidency Banks Act of 1876, so as to admit to the list of securities, with which the Banks are at present permitted to deal, a particular security which has only hitherto been excluded, because, when the Act was last re-enacted, the Bombay City Improvement Trust had not yet been called into existence. The proposal, however, adumbrated by the Finance Member, contemplates a still further extension of these securities in the future by including in them the scrip of subsidiary assisted railway companies.

"Now, under the existing law, the Presidency Banks are prohibited from dealing in them. We are disposed, as my Hon'ble Colleague has pointed out, to relax those restrictions, in the first place, in the interest of the Banks, so as to increase the scope of their operations, but, secondly, and still more, in the interest of the investing public, and of the general development of the country which we all have so much at heart. But here I must interpolate a word of caution. We are anxious to be generous; but we are bound to be prudent, and there is a certain point beyond which we cannot go.

"The Presidency Banks, as the Hon'ble Mr. Dawkins has pointed out, are not like ordinary Banks. No relaxation of restrictions, even if such were possible in an extreme degree, could make them so. They differ, because the bulk of their cash balances—or what I suppose I may call their loanable capital—is supplied by Government, and because, if we subtract this at any given moment, they are not, as a rule, in possession of sufficient independent capital to enable them to conduct operations on a large scale. The Government, therefore, is under a peculiar responsibility for these Banks, and we are bound to enforce special regulations for the protection and the security of the balances which we ourselves have provided. We cannot afford to jeopardize them in the interests of general philanthropy. Within these limits we desire to do all in our power to free the Banks from artificial bandages, and to give to them ample liberty of movement. But herein I should like to point out that a reciprocal obligation, in my judgment, is involved. We do not contemplate these steps merely in order to provide a new field for the employment of Government balances. What we want to do is to enlarge the opportunities available for the employment, in enterprises indigenous and beneficial to the country, of capital, both English and Native. It will be for the latter to profit by the occasion. The Government cannot do more than open the door. It will then be for the investing public to walk in.

"And here I am tempted to indulge in a further reflection. An examination of the existing system leads me to doubt whether the banking institutions of India are at all adequate to the growing needs of the country. This is a conviction that is gaining ground outside of India, and that I believe already exists in India itself. You will find substantial testimony to it in the speech delivered by the Secretary of State in the House of Commons in the Budget Debate three weeks ago, and you will notice that his sentiments on the subject were re-echoed by his predecessor, Sir Henry Fowler. Here we are at the end of the nineteenth century, with 22,500 miles of railway opened in this country; with the telegraph wires connecting all our important cities and centres; with business operations being conducted every year on a larger and increasing scale. Moreover, we are looking forward, if we can settle our Currency difficulties, to a considerable expansion of financial and industrial enterprise. And yet, in respect of banking, it seems to me that we are behind the times. We are like some old-fashioned sailing ship, divided by solid wooden bulkheads into separate and cumbrous compartments. This is a state of affairs which it appears to me can hardly continue. I can well believe that local interests will require to be consulted, and we must be careful to see that no injustice is done. But I cannot think that any sectional prepossessions should be allowed to stand in the way of a consolidation and concentration of banking facilities which strike me as being required in the interests of the business accommodation and credit of the country. Should we succeed in effecting any such amalgamation—should we get any such Central Bank, established on a sterling basis, giving us access to the London market—then I think we might with safety dispense with many of the existing restrictions, because we should have, on the hypothesis of a common Currency with England, a permanent and stable link between the Indian and English markets. This is a question worthy of serious examination, and which I submit, with these few introductory remarks, to the consideration of the financial and mercantile public."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS moved that the Bill be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ said:—"My Lord, when I introduced last week the Bill to amend the Central Provinces Tenancy Act of 1898, I explained that its object was merely to correct a mistake of drafting in one of the sub-sections of section 45 of that Act. That sub-section was intended to save past bonâ fide transactions from the provisions of that section. Accordingly, a new sub-section, in substitution, was drafted by the Legislative Department after very careful consideration, and was accepted by the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces. My Hon'ble friend, Mr. Chitnavis, has, however, shown me a telegram which I understand he received only last night from some lawyer friends of his in Nagpur. This telegram contains one or two criticisms upon the present wording of the sub-section. I believe my Hon'ble friend wishes these criticisms to be considered by the Legislative Department, and I see no objection to it. There is no immediate urgency for the passing of this Bill, and, with Your Excellency's permission, I would now move that its consideration be postponed till the next meeting of the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. CHITNAVIS said:—"I need not say that I am much thankful for the adjournment that has now been proposed. I am sure the amendment as telegraphed to me only last night has been worded, by local lawyers who knew the circumstances and the state of the law in the Province, with a view to meet the declared intentions of Government, and the postponement of the passing of the Bill that has now been moved will enable the Legislature to consider the amendment now proposed and to remove for all time to come, all the uncertainties that may arise in future in connection with the interpretation of the section which is now being amended."

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said:—"I do not think any objection will be entertained in any quarter to Mr. Rivaz's suggestion that, with a view to considering the further criticisms that have been put before us, our consideration of the Bill should be postponed till next meeting."

The motion was put and agreed to.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, September 2nd, 1899.

The chief feature in the meteorology of the past week was the rainfall given by the shallow depression, which had formed off the Orissa Coast on Friday of the preceding week. It remained unchanged in position till Monday morning, when it commenced to move in a west-north-westerly direction, and crossed the coast near Puri. It had apparently filled up slightly during the preceding twenty-four hours, and on Monday morning was a shallow depression of feeble intensity with pressure only about a tenth of an inch in defect in its central area. After crossing the coast it advanced in a north-westerly direction, and on Tuesday morning was central to the north-west of Sambalpur. It was unchanged in character and covered a large tract of country. It had given light to moderate general rain in the Central Provinces, Central India and the adjacent districts of the North-Western Provinces. Cawnpore had received 4·33 inches, Sutna 2·51 inches, Nowgong 1·96 inches, Hoshangabad 1·80 inches and Jubbulpore 1·31 inches. The storm took an unusual course during the next twenty-four hours, and travelled in a north-easterly direction into Bihar, and on Wednesday morning was central to the east of Gaya. It had again given light to moderate rain to the Central Provinces, Central India and also to the greater part of the North-Western Provinces. The amounts received were, however, not so large as on the preceding day, the only stations at which falls exceeding an inch had been registered being Nowgong 2·19 inches, Raipur 1·96 inches, Benares 1·17 inches and Allahabad 1·10 inches. On Thursday morning only a shallow residual depression remained lying over Central Bengal, the storm having moved in an easterly direction and having practically filled up. Moderately heavy rain had fallen in Bengal, the principal amounts reported being Jalpaiguri 2·36 inches, Dinajpur 1·87 inches and Chaibassa 1·81 inches. This storm was remarkable for the unusual course it followed, as storms of the monsoon period do not move in a north-easterly direction except occasionally at the end of the rains. The Arabian Sea monsoon current failed to feed into the depression, and it was hence sustained almost entirely by the Bay current, which would account for its failure to advance in the usual westerly or north-westerly direction.

After the storm had filled up the break in the rains was more pronounced than it had yet been. Rain decreased in Burma and Bengal, and on Friday and Saturday all other parts of the country were practically rainless, no rain whatever being reported from Malabar and the Konkan on Friday, and only 0·02 inch from Mangalore on Saturday. A few light showers were received in Gujarat and Mysore.

The mean temperature for the whole of India has again been steadily in excess throughout the week, but the excess has not been so large this week in the North-Western and Central Provinces. In Gujarat the showers received at the end of the week reduced temperature to below the normal on Friday and Saturday.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, August 27th.—The barometer had fallen briskly over the North Circars and eastern districts of the Central Provinces, and the depression shown lying off the Circars and Orissa Coasts on Saturday morning had intensified slightly. Mean temperatures were in excess in all parts of the country, except Burma and Orissa, where they were normal. Light to moderate general rain had fallen in Burma and North-East India, with the exception of Assam and North Bengal, and showers had been received on the Mussooree Hills, the West Coast and in the Central Provinces and East Peninsula.

Monday, August 28th.—Pressure had risen briskly in Bengal and over the east of the Bay, and the depression over the Orissa and Circars Coasts had advanced in a west-north-westerly direction, and the centre was crossing the coast near Puri. Temperatures were normal in Burma, Assam, Orissa, Chota Nagpur, the Central Provinces, Mysore and on the Madras Coast; and in excess elsewhere. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, the Central Provinces and Central India, and rain was extending up the Gangetic Plain. Showers had been received on the Mussooree Hills, the West Coast and in South Rajputana and the East Peninsula.

Tuesday, August 29th.—The shallow depression crossing the Orissa Coast the day before had advanced in a north-westerly direction and was central to the north-west of Sambalpur. Baric gradients were steeper over the Peninsula and the south of the Bay. Temperature was in considerable to large excess in Rajputana, Gujarat, the Punjab and Central India, but was normal in the North-Western Provinces, Central Provinces, Burma, Assam, Bengal, Chota Nagpur, Sind, Mysore and on the Madras Coast. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma, the Central Provinces, Central India and the adjacent districts of the North-Western Provinces and light rain over the greater part of Bengal.

Wednesday, August 30th.—The depression in the Central Provinces had advanced in a north-easterly direction into Bihar and was central to the east of Gaya. It was filling up slowly. Temperature was normal in Burma, Bengal, Orissa, Chota Nagpur, the North-Western Provinces, Sind and the Central Provinces and in excess in other provinces. Light rain had fallen in Burma and Bengal, and light to moderate rain in the Central Provinces, Central India and the greater part of the North-Western Provinces.

Thursday, August 31st.—The depression in Bihar had moved in an easterly direction and had practically filled up, only a shallow residual depression being shown lying over Central Bengal. Temperature had risen in several provinces and was in excess in all, except Bengal, Sind, Gujarat and on the West Coast, where it was normal. Light rain had been received in Burma and moderate rain in North-East India. Very light showers had fallen in the Konkan and Gujarat.

Friday, September 1st.—Pressure had changed by small amounts showing a downward tendency in Burma, the south and west of the Peninsula and North Bombay, and an upward tendency over the remainder of the country. Temperature had fallen in Gujarat and Rajputana; and was in slight defect in Gujarat and Bihar, and normal in Assam, Bengal, Orissa and Sind. The whole of the Indian region had been practically rainless, with the exception of Burma and Bengal, and the only areas in which rainfall had been moderately heavy were North and East Bengal. A few light showers had fallen in Gujarat.

Saturday, September 2nd.—The barometer was steady or had risen by small amounts over the whole country Temperature had risen in Bengal, and had fallen slightly in Assam and Sind; and was in slight defect in Assam and Gujarat, and normal in Bengal and Sind. In all other provinces it was in excess. Rain had again decreased in Bengal, but had increased slightly in parts of Burma. A few light showers had fallen on the Nilgiris, in Mysore and Gujarat.

Temperature.—The rain given by the depression in the Central Provinces caused a rapid fall of temperature in Chota Nagpur, the eastern districts of the Central Provinces, the east of Central India and the adjacent districts of the North-Western Provinces. The fall was, however, only temporary, and by the end of the week temperature was again in excess in all the above areas, except the eastern districts of the North-Western Provinces, where showers continued up to Friday. The showers reported from Gujarat on Thursday, Friday and Saturday were very light, but they caused a large fall of temperature. Mean temperatures in Gujarat averaged 2½° in excess on Wednesday, but on Friday they averaged 2° below the normal.

The largest changes in temperature during the week occurred in Gujarat, Berar, Mysore and on the Madras Coast. The most rapid was a fall in the mean temperature of Berar from + 6·8° on Sunday to + 1·8° on Monday.

The mean temperature of the whole week was normal in Burma, Assam, Bengal, Orissa, Bihar and Sind and was in excess in all the remaining provinces. The largest excess occurred in Rajputana (7·3°), Berar (4·7°) and the Punjab (4·1°). The excess was slight in Chota Nagpur (1·2°), North-Western Provinces (1·8°), Gujarat (1·3°), the Central Provinces (1·7°) and on the West Coast (1·3°). In the remaining provinces the excess ranged from 2·3° in Mysore to 3·4° in the Madras Deccan and South India.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

The mean temperature for the whole of India was, as last week, in excess throughout the week, but the excess was not so large. It ranged from 1·7° on the 29th August to 2·8° on the 2nd September. For the whole week the variation from the normal averaged +2·3°.

Rain.—The chief feature in the rainfall distribution of the past week was the favourable rain given to the east and central divisions of the Central Provinces and the adjacent districts, by the cyclonic storm which crossed the Orissa Coast on Monday. Rain fell over the whole of the Central Provinces, but was heaviest in the east and central divisions, in both of which the week's rainfall exceeded the normal. In the following stations in this area more than 5 inches of rain was received during the week: Lanji (Balaghat) 7·57 inches, Narsingpur 6·60 inches, Dhamtari (Raipur) 5·36 inches and Tirora (Bhandara) 5·21 inches.

Heavy rain was also received in the Jeypore hill tracts on the North Madras Coast, the station of Pottanghi receiving 8½ inches during the week, 4·30 inches of which fell on one day, the 1st September.

With the exception of Upper Burma, Chota Nagpur and South Bihar, the week's rainfall has been fairly normal or in excess in all divisions of Burma, Assam and Bengal. In the North-Western Provinces it has also been normal or in excess in all but the west, west submontane and hills divisions; and in the Central Provinces it has been normal in the central and in slight excess in the east division.

With the single exception of the Jeypore hill tracts, the week's rainfall has been in defect in all other parts of the country. Actually or practically no rain has fallen in the South, Central and West Punjab, Khandesh, Sind, Baluchistan Hills, Rajputana, the west division of Central India and the south and central divisions of Madras.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that, with the exception of Upper Burma, where it is in slight defect, the rainfall of the period June 4th to September 2nd is normal or in excess in all the divisions of Burma, Bengal, Assam and the North-Western Provinces.

In all other parts of India rainfall has been in general defect. It is less than 20 per cent. in defect, and therefore practically normal, in only the following divisions: the Punjab Hills and North Punjab, the east division of the Central Provinces and the North Madras Coast. The deficiency exceeds 60 per cent. in Mysore, Berar, the whole of North Bombay, West Rajputana and Madras (Central).

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

Assam	Sunamganj (Sylhet)	17·29 inches.
	Sylhet	13·03 „
	Cherra Poonjee	30·31 „
Bengal	Denkata (Cooch Behar) . . .	15·55 „

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 2nd September.—The rainfall of the week has been moderate in the Circars with light scattered showers elsewhere, except in parts of the Central districts, where fair rain fell on the 2nd instant. The water-supply is generally deficient and the Cauvery is still low. Except in the Circars sowings have again been retarded. The standing crops are fading in most parts, except where irrigated. Small crops under irrigation and early gingelly have been harvested, the yield being moderate. Pasturage is generally scarce, but fodder is sufficient in most places. Prices have risen generally, except in the extreme South, and sharply in parts of the Deccan and the Central districts, owing partly to the demand for export. Since the close of the week good showers have fallen in many parts of the Deccan and generally in the Central districts, but more rain is urgently wanted everywhere.

Bombay.—For week ending 6th September.—Rain fell during the week in all districts of the Presidency, except in Sind; but the falls have been insufficient everywhere, except below the Ghât tracts of Kanara, where they were moderate. More rain is urgently wanted to save the remaining early crops and for late sowings. The standing crops are in fairly good condition in Sind, parts of Nasik, and the Ghât tracts above Kanara; but elsewhere they have withered or are withering. Preparations for the late crops are in progress in Sholapur. Crops have been injured by insects in the Tatta taluka, by rats in the Shahbandar taluka and in Karachi, by maggots in one taluka of Hyderabad, and by high winds in one of Thar and Parkar. A deficiency of water continues in parts of Sind. Fodder is insufficient in Kaira, Khandesh, Poona, and parts of Shikarpur, scarce in parts of Sind, Guzerat, and Kathiawar, and is getting dearer in Ahmednagar, Satara, and Belgaum. Agricultural stock is generally in fair condition. Prices have risen in eight districts, fallen in six, and are almost stationary elsewhere. Relief works are about to be opened in Kaira and the Panch Mahals, and some relief is being given in the Sind desert.

Bengal.—For week ending 4th September.—The rain during the week was moderate in amount, but general in its distribution. The transplantation of winter rice is being rapidly completed and the reports on the crops are generally good. More rain is, however, still required in Puri and Angul and in the Chota Nagpur division. Some slight damage by insects is reported from Cuttack and Puri. Early rice is being harvested and jute is being cut and steeped. The autumn rice harvest in Behar is yielding a poor outturn as was expected. The price of common rice has fallen in some districts, but on the whole it is practically stationary.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 6th September.—Rain fell during the week in almost all districts, but its distribution has been very unequal. The falls have been good in two of the Himalayan districts and in the North-Central, Central Submontane, Lower Doab (South), South-Eastern, Eastern Submontane Oudh, and Bundelkhand districts. A heavy fall of nearly eight inches on one day is reported from the Hata tahsil of the Gorakhpur district; but elsewhere the falls have been light and in some cases too light to be of any real benefit, especially in the Western Submontane districts (excepting Bareilly), the Upper Doab, and two of the Central Doab districts. More rain is urgently needed in this area for the standing crops which are suffering from drought. The crops have generally benefited by the recent rainfall, but the break which has set in, accompanied by high west winds, is causing anxiety in the Western districts. Damage has been caused to the crops, especially rice, by insects in about a dozen districts and by excessive rain in Azamgarh. Harvesting of the early autumn crops and ploughing for the spring crops continue. Prospects are generally fair, except in some of the Western districts, where considerable damage to the crops has been already caused by the drought. Supplies and fodder are sufficient. Prices continue to rise in a few districts, but they are stationary elsewhere.

Punjab.—For week ending 6th September.—Slight showers fell during the week in the Hissar, Amritsar, and Sialkot districts, but in Rawalpindi the rainfall was satisfactory. No rain is reported from other districts. The autumn sowings are proceeding in Dera Ismail Khan and maize is being sown in parts of the Peshawar tahsil. Land is being prepared for the spring sowings in Lahore. Mooltan and Peshawar are the only districts which have reported the standing crops to be in fair condition, but taken as a whole the irrigated crops are said to be average in the remaining districts. The unirrigated crops are, however, generally much below the average. In Hissar three-fourths of the unirrigated crops have withered, and their prospects in the Delhi, Umballa, Jullundur, Ferozepur, Amritsar, and Sialkot districts are reported to be very poor indeed. The crops in Rawalpindi are also below the average. Rain is still wanted in Shahpur. On the whole the autumn crops of 1899 are reported to be much below the normal. The crops in Lahore and Ferozepur have to some extent been damaged by insects. Cattle are getting out of condition for want of fodder in Hissar, Delhi, Sialkot, and parts of Rawalpindi and Dera Ismail Khan. There is a scarcity of fodder in Hissar, Delhi, Jullundur, Amritsar, Sialkot, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan. The price of wheat has risen in Hissar, Umballa, Lahore, Sialkot, and Rawalpindi, it is stationary in Delhi, Ferozepur, Mooltan, Amritsar, and Shahpur, and has fallen in Jullundur, Peshawar, and Dera Ismail Khan. The price of gram has risen in Hissar, Delhi, and Umballa and of maize in Umballa, Rawalpindi, and Peshawar. Wheat is selling from 12 to 18¾, barley 18 to 20, gram 13 to 14½, maize 16 to 20, rice 11 to 12, great millet 11 to 19½, and bulrush-millet 16 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 5th September.—Some rain fell at the beginning of the week, but the last five days have been hot and dry. Narsinghpur and Raipur received over 2½ inches each, Balaghat over 1½ inches, and Hoshangabad nearly an inch. In Damoh, Nagpur, Chhindwara, Seoni, and Chanda showers have given a third to half an inch, but elsewhere the week has been practically rainless with heavy dews in Damoh, Jubbulpore, and Betul. Outside Chhattisgarh, where the rice crop can hold out for about a week more, the standing crops have begun to deteriorate. The crops are also withering on light soils and insects are doing increasing damage. Jowar is holding out well still, but the smaller millets have suffered greatly, especially in the hilly tracts. Distress is extending in Betul and Hoshangabad and is beginning to show itself in small parts of Jubbulpore and Nagpur and in one tahsil of Nimar. The situation in the Waingunga rice districts has not altered much since last week, but rapid deterioration must follow another week's drought. Rain is urgently needed throughout the Province. The numbers in receipt of relief on account of previous failures are in Saugor, Damoh, and Bilaspur, 5,678, 1,982, and 2,198 persons respectively. Relief measures necessitated by the present drought have been started in parts of Betul and Hoshangabad. Preparation of land for winter sowings has been completed in Narsinghpur and is in progress in Chhindwara and Nagpur. Fodder and water are reported scarce in parts of Nimar, Betul, Chhindwara, the Nagpur country, and Hoshangabad. Cattle are in poor condition in Nagpur. There has been a general and sharp rise in prices during the week in Bilaspur. Though the prices of gram and rice have fallen they are still above the normal. The cheapest prices are—wheat 15⅛, gram 19, rice 16, and jowar 16 seers per rupee; the dearest prices are—wheat 9½, gram 12, rice 8⅛, and jowar 12 1/16 seers per rupee. The highest price of the chief staple in any districts is 8¾ seers (rice) in Chanda, but jowar is selling at 14 seers in that district. The price of jowar in Wardha has risen from 18 to 13 seers per rupee.

Burma.—For week ending 2nd September.—In Lower Burma transplanting is nearly completed, but ploughing continues in Prome, Tharawaddy and Henzada. Prospects are reported to be good. Slight damage has been caused by floods in two townships of the Tharawaddy district. In Upper Burma reaping of early sesamum is nearly completed in Yamethin and Myingyan and is progressing in other districts. Reaping of early paddy continues in Kyaukse and the Northern Shan States and sowing and transplanting of the wet weather paddy crop in most districts. Sowings have been completed in Bhamo and Meitkyina, but transplanting operations have hardly commenced in parts of Pakkôku and are delayed for want of rain in parts of the Mindon township of the Thayetmyo district. Sowing of late sesamum, jowar and peas in the uplands continues. The standing crops are in fair condition, but more rain is wanted in parts of the Amarapura township of Mandalay, the Tagoung sub-division of the Ruby Mines district, parts of the Sagaing district and especially in the Pagan sub-division of Myingyan. Prospects have improved in Shwebo. Inundation threatens damage in two townships of Mandalay. The outturn of the early harvest, excepting maize, is poor in Meiktila. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon and six other districts, and has fallen in Mandalay, Myingyan, Pakkôku and Prome.

Assam.—For week ending 5th September.—The weather is hot and rainy. Transplanting of late and reaping of early rice and plucking and manufacture of tea are in progress. Prospects of tea are generally good, except in Sylhet, where the weather is too cold. Cutting of jute continues in Goalpara and Sylhet; the early rice and jute crops have been partly damaged by floods in the former district. Prospects of sugarcane are fair. Fodder is scarce in most of the plains districts owing to floods. Prices—common rice—Silchar 14½ to 15, Sylhet 19, Dhubri 17, Gauhati 13, Tezpur 12½, Nowgong 11½, Sibsagar 11, and Dibrugarh 12 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 5th September.—MYSORE: Rainfall 51 cents. in the Civil and Military station. Good rain also fell in parts of the Kadur district and slight showers elsewhere. The standing crops are still reported to be withering all over the State, except in parts of the Mysore and Hassan districts, where there has been seasonable rain. Prospects and sowing operations in the Mysore district are encouraging. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of the Kolar, Tumkur, Chitaldrug and Mysore districts. Prices have fallen slightly in Kadur and risen in Kolar and Bangalore. Heavy rain has fallen at Bangalore and probably elsewhere since the close of the week under report.

COORG: Rainfall—1 inch 46 cents. The transplanting of rice has been retarded in many places and the rice plants have been damaged in parts for want of rain. Cardamom-picking has commenced. Prices of food-grains are rising. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 6th September.—BERAR: The average rainfall during the week was 34 cents. The weather continues warm and cloudy. The standing crops are in very poor condition and have been utterly destroyed, except in the Wun and Basim districts, where they are in fair condition. More rain is urgently required. Preparation of land is in progress but sowings generally have almost stopped. Weeding continues. A scarcity of fodder and water prevails in all districts. Prices show a tendency to rise.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—43 cents. Agricultural prospects have not been improved generally by the recent rain, though it has saved the withering autumn crops in parts of the Indur, Warangal and Elgandul districts. The condition of the standing crops in the Gulburga division is going from bad to worse. The autumn rice crop is not yet sown except in lands irrigated by wells. Preparations for the spring sowings are in progress, but rain is most urgently needed for the standing crops and future sowings. Cattle are getting weak and emaciated owing to a scarcity of water and pasture. Prices of grain have slightly risen. Prices—wheat 8, coarse rice 8, and jowari 17 seers per current sicca rupee.

Pasturage has withered up in Malwa and Bhopawar and is bad in Gwalior. Agricultural stock is in good condition in Bundelkhand and Baghelkhand, fair in Bhopal and bad in Bhopawar. Prices are normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand, and rising in other Agencies.

Rajputana.—For week ending 6th September.—Rain ranging from a quarter of an inch to half an inch is reported to have fallen at Pertabgarh Bundi, Jaipur, Alwar and Bharatpur. Slight showers also fell in Ajmer and Dholepore but none elsewhere. Agricultural operations are generally at a standstill. The standing crops are withering for want of rain. Prospects are bad. Cattle are suffering for want of fodder. Prices are rising in ten States and are steady elsewhere. 1,191 persons emigrated from Ajmer and Merwara during the week. The total emigration from Ajmer-Merwara to date numbers 9,948. The numbers employed on relief works in the Merwara district were—30,034. On ordinary works 100 and on gratuitous relief 961. Relief works were opened during the week in the Tonk State. Prices—Ajmer 12 and Beawar 11 seers per rupee.

The weather has been very settled over India during the past week. Moist winds from the Bay have given light to moderate daily rain over Burma, Assam and North and East Bengal. There has been no monsoon over the Arabian Sea and there has been no heavy rain over those parts of India which are dependent on that current for rainfall. South-westerly winds, however, gave showers to Kathiawar between the 2nd and 5th September. A local shower was received at Ajmer on the latter date and light showers in different parts of Rajputana on the 7th. Thundershowers commenced in Mysore on the 2nd and showery weather subsequently extended over Madras and the Deccan districts and still continues there. Falls of rain exceeding 1 inch in twenty-four hours were reported from Mysore and Bangalore on the 4th, from Cuddapah and Trichinopoly on the 5th, from Chitaldroog, Bangalore, Bijapur, Amraoti and Bellary on the 6th, and from Cuddalore on the 7th. Between the 4th and 6th thunderstorms gave light rain to parts of the Punjab, especially in the Northern districts.

The week's rainfall has been in defect in all Provinces. The seasonal rainfall is in excess in Bengal and Assam, normal in the North-Western Provinces and in defect elsewhere.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA, ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE INDIAN COUNCILS ACTS, 1861 AND 1892 (24 & 25 VICT., C. 67, AND 55 & 56 VICT., C. 14.)

The Council met at the Viceregal Lodge, Simla, on Friday, the 8th September, 1899.

TELEGRAPHIC PRESS MESSAGES BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ asked for leave to postpone the presentation of the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the protection of certain telegraphic press messages. He said :—" I beg leave of Your Excellency to make a short statement on behalf of the Select Committee which was appointed to consider this Bill. We wish to express our entire approval of the general principle of the Bill in question, and we have noticed that since its introduction the Special Committee of the House of Lords which has been dealing with the English Copyright Bill has proposed a protection of eighteen hours for newspaper intelligence received from foreign countries. At the same time, we have seen that our Bill has evoked a considerable amount of comment, and, in some cases, adverse criticism in the English and Vernacular Press of this country and in other quarters. We think that, in these circumstances, it is desirable to defer further consideration of the details of the Bill until Your Excellency's Council meets in Calcutta, and I beg, therefore, to ask for leave to postpone the presentation of the Report of our Committee."

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said :—" I will only add, with reference to what my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Rivaz, has just said, that I entirely agree with him in thinking that, for the reasons which he has explained, this Bill falls into the category of those which would be more properly discussed when we are in session in Calcutta than when we are in Simla."

Leave was granted.

CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill to amend the Central Provinces Tenancy Act, 1898, be taken into consideration. He said :—" I obtained leave, at the last meeting of the Council, to postpone the consideration of this Bill, because the Hon'ble Mr. Chitnavis had received certain criticisms on the wording of the clause in question, which he requested might be taken into consideration. These criticisms have been duly considered by the Hon'ble Legal Member and myself, and we think that the Bill as introduced needs no alteration."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. RIVAZ moved that the Bill be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN COINAGE AND PAPER CURRENCY BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. DAWKINS moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, and the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882. He said :—" On the 25th of August I asked permission to postpone the motion for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Indian Coinage Act, 1870, and the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1882. The object was to await the terms of a Proclamation, necessary under the English Coinage Act of 1870, for constituting an Indian Mint a branch of the Royal Mint. We had previously been led, as I then stated, to expect that this Proclamation would be communicated to us very shortly. But we have now been advised that there may be some further delay over the Proclamation owing to legal and technical questions.

" We have, therefore, had to decide whether we would proceed at once with legislation to make the sovereign legal tender in India, or whether we should delay still longer, pending receipt of the Proclamation. There are certain obvious objections to splitting our currency legislation into two; but they are not very serious. The measure of transcendent importance before us is to place the currency of India on a gold basis, and to endow India with a gold currency and a stable exchange. To provide for the actual striking of gold coins at an Indian Mint is really a corollary, and no practical inconvenience will arise from a short delay. We could not proceed to strike coins until we receive the necessary machinery that has been ordered from England, and, meanwhile, we shall continue to receive gold bullion at our Mints under the executive notification in force.

" The question of delaying legislation to make gold legal tender, and thereby to place our currency on an effective gold basis, is very different.

" Into the arguments for a gold standard and a gold currency, I think no one will expect me to enter. Res judicata est. The arguments for and against have been exhausted, and Government is proceeding in the conviction that no other measure would save India from disastrous embarrassment and repeated additions to the burden of taxation, and that no other measure is equally calculated to assist in the development of Indian resources and gradually to benefit the patient industry of the Indian people.

"There is one minor but important point, however, which, I think, I ought not to pass by.

"I am aware that the opinion has been expressed in certain quarters that it would be prudent to pause awhile before carrying our policy to a conclusion, before making the sovereign legal tender in India. It is urged that, when gold is legal tender, sovereigns will pass into circulation, that certain of them will disappear into hoards; that, therefore, the process of accumulating gold in the Government Reserve will be to some extent impeded, and that Government will less expeditiously accumulate a reserve from which to make gold available for foreign remittances when, and if, exchange tends to decline. It is, indeed, this apprehension that gold will not be sufficiently available for foreign remittance that chiefly inspires the plea for delay.

"We have given full weight to this consideration, but we cannot think that it would justify us in incurring delay and in engendering the suspicion that the Government of India has misgivings and hesitates to give immediate effect to a measure recommended by the Currency Committee, endorsed by Her Majesty's Government, adopted by the Secretary of State, and accepted by the Government of India as the crown and completion, indeed, of its own policy, deliberately pursued now for six years.

"No doubt, sovereigns will pass into circulation. This is not to be deprecated, though, in view of the nature of transactions in India, we believe that gold coins will never penetrate far into the country or constitute more than a marginal currency. Probably, some sovereigns will pass into hoards; but the number that will disappear is not likely to be appreciable. Gold may also be retained by the Banks to some extent, and for that reason also not reach the Government. But gold, so retained, will be available for foreign remittance and will pro tanto diminish resort for that purpose to Government. And, whenever exchange rises above one shilling and four pence, which it may be expected to do every busy season, sovereigns will be presented to Government by their holders for the profit to be made on them. There is indeed every expectation that they will be largely brought to us, even when exchange does not rise above one and four pence, because, for some time to come, at any rate, gold will be principally used to obtain that money in which the mass of Indian transactions must be discharged and with which the people are familiar. Moreover, as regards the future of exchange, the rise to above one and four pence is not likely to be confined to the busy season.

"Looking to the increasing contraction of the rupee currency under a system of Mints closed to silver, to the growing output of gold in the world, to the apparent decrease in the purchasing power of gold, and the consequent rise in the gold value of the rupee, I do not think that it is rash to look forward to the rupee gradually becoming fixed at the high, not the low, level of exchange rendered possible under the new conditions.

"I contend, therefore, that there is no valid reason for deferring legislation for some indefinite period, because the gold that now flows into our treasuries may be, to some extent, arrested in, or deflected from, its channel. It is time to terminate the unrest and uncertainty which has hung over India in a heavy cloud for nearly a quarter of a century. It is time to terminate it finally, and to lay down a policy which will be distinguished by finality. We must show that we are confident in our policy, or else how can we expect confidence in others? We believe that the success of that policy will be assured by the ordinary operations of trade. If there should be any temporary check in its success, which we do not anticipate, we have been assured by the Secretary of State that it will be supported by all the means in the power of Government. But no check, I repeat, is anticipated. The policy to which we now propose to give effect is not only the most simple and economical but the most certain that can be devised.

"I might conclude these remarks here, but, perhaps, it may not be amiss to dwell on some of the principal features of the new system we are now creating. Gold at the ratio of Rupees 15 for one sovereign will be legal tender, that is to say, gold coins of full weight coined at the English or Australian Mints, to which we propose before long to add gold coins struck at an Indian Mint.

"Anybody will have the right to discharge obligations of all kinds in gold, and the Government will continue to give rupees in exchange for gold under executive notification.

"We accept no obligation to give gold for rupees which would entail, if we accepted it, the acquisition by borrowing of an immense and indefinite sum. But Government will keep before its eyes the attainment of practical convertibility at the earliest possible moment, of practical as against legal convertibility such as exists in France. Gold, as every traveller knows, circulates under this system readily in France and can be obtained for ordinary purposes without difficulty. Indeed, it requires an effort of the imagination to realize that from the beginning of the century down to 1850 there was no gold in general circulation in France, and that the full and ample convertibility now existing in that country has been of gradual growth.

"Silver will be left as unlimited legal tender by the side of gold. It would be unnecessary, and it would be misunderstood by the masses of the population, if we placed a legal tender limit on these coins in which the great proportion of transactions are carried on. And we have no desire to do anything hostile to silver. Essential as it was to close the Mints to the free coinage of silver, yet that measure necessarily exerted a depressing effect upon silver, and we would avoid any semblance of hostility to that metal in which the Indian people so largely invest their savings.

"Except, therefore, for fractional purposes, and for replacing coins no longer current, and possibly also for replacing coins of Native States, if they so desire, silver will cease to be coined until such time in the future as it may be necessary to augment the rupee currency by coining.

"In the meantime the rupee currency will expand automatically in response to the demands of trade, as anybody wishing for rupees can obtain them from Government by the tender of a sovereign. In this way, gold will impart an element of elasticity to the total currency, and whatever stringency of loanable capital may arise in the future, no stringency of currency can occur."

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said:—"The situation in which we are placed to-day, and the circumstances in which the Finance Member has just spoken in introducing this Bill, are not without an element of surprise. If any one had prophesied two years ago, or even one year ago, that, in response to the unanimous finding of a composite but singularly competent body of experts at home, in accordance with the recommendations of the Secretary of State, and, so far as I can judge, with the almost unbroken concurrence of public opinion, both in India and England, the Government of India would to-day be introducing a Bill to establish a gold standard with a gold currency in this country, he would have been laughed at as a dreamer of dreams. The bimetallists would have scouted him as a bigoted doctrinaire, and the champions of free silver would, possibly, have denounced him as a traitor. Even when the Committee was launched and was already fairly under way, I venture to think that the likelihood of a unanimous report exceeded the expectations even of the most sanguine. Indeed, I remember the charge being brought against the Committee that so evenly had the rival interests been balanced, and of such a motley of opinions was it composed, that its deliberations could have no other result than to add to the already existing confusion, and once again to throw the future of Indian currency into the crucible. We have been saved from any such catastrophe by the sagacity and common sense which characterized the proceedings of the Committee, by the ability with which its counsels were guided by its Chairman; but most of all, I think, by the convincing and overwhelming strength of the case for a gold standard which was submitted to its consideration. Hence it is that we have arrived at the remarkable result of a consensus of opinion upon a matter hitherto so fiercely disputed, and that we are engaged this morning in giving to it legislative effect.

"I should like to point out that, in taking this final step, the Government of India are acting in logical accord with a policy which they have pursued ever since, more than twenty years ago, the fall in the gold value of silver first became acute. Throughout this period the underlying principle of their action has been the defence of India from the inevitable consequences of an unarrested decline in the sterling value of the rupee, namely, the necessity of imposing fresh taxation upon the Indian people; at the same time that the capital, upon whose introduction and proper application their future prosperity so largely depended, was being driven away by the insecurity arising from a constantly fluctuating exchange.

"The continuity of policy of which I speak has not been impaired by the fact that other remedies than that finally adopted have before now been sought; or that even when the desirability of a gold standard became generally recognized, proposals were put forward for attaining it which have since been abandoned. For instance, as long as there was hope of an international bimetallic agreement, the Government of India looked favourably to such a solution. But when the Brussels Conference broke down, and it became obvious that we could not count upon co-operation with others, but must depend upon ourselves, the gold standard then rose into prominence. Since then it has been a question, not of principle, but of method. The Government of India have never lost sight of the ultimate goal which they had in view. With that object they closed the Mints to the free coinage of silver; with that object they made definite proposals to the Secretary of State; and with that object they now accept the recommendations of the Committee and are introducing this Bill.

"We do not tie our hands by taking this step. For whilst the adoption of a gold standard renders us independent of the caprice or hostility of foreign countries for the time being, it will not prevent us, at any date in the future, from embarking upon a discussion with foreign Powers as to an international agreement, should such an idea be again put forward; but will, on the contrary, enable us to enter the field upon equal terms, if, indeed, we may not claim a positive advantage in the possession of a stable system.

"My Hon'ble Colleague has explained in his speech the reasons for immediate legislation. They rest in the main upon the desirability of acquainting the public at the earliest moment with our resolve, and of inspiring them with the confidence which we are not conscious of rashness in admitting ourselves. We are not very much afraid of the danger with which we have been threatened, namely, that we may lose some of the gold which is on its way to our reserves. If this risk were a serious one, I would ask how it comes about that since the report of the Committee, since its acceptance by the Home Government, and its recommendation to us—when all the world, so to speak, has been anticipating the action that we are now about to take, gold has, nevertheless, continued to flow into our treasuries—not in diminishing, but in increasing volume. In June we only received £77,000, and in July £23,000. But in August, after all these events had taken place, the inflow rose to £223,000; whilst for the week that ended on Monday last the additional amount of gold received in our treasuries and Mints amounted to £18,060. This does not look as though we were frightening away gold, or driving it into channels from which it would be incapable of recovery. Since sovereigns began to enter India last year, the amount of gold retained in our treasuries amounts to £2,620,000; and in future, as the announcements that have been made will show, we look to receiving and coining gold of Indian production, in addition to that which enters the country in the ordinary operations of trade from the outside.

"I do not wish to dilate upon what to some may appear the sentimental advantage of a single gold coin, uniform and incapable of depreciation, circulating throughout the British Empire, although to me it seems that that fact has a very practical and an Imperial application. But I will put it in another way, and will say that, in the unimpeded and steady flow of the sovereign in circulation in and out of India, appears to me to exist a very potent guarantee for the extension of our mercantile relations both with the United Kingdom and with other parts of the British Empire. Every merchant who trades with India, every capitalist who invests in this country, will know in future that his sovereign is worth 15 rupees. The lender and the borrower will be dealing in the same money, with a fixed and unalterable denomination. For my part I cannot doubt that such a security must lend stability and confidence, not merely to our trade with foreign countries—and the London Committee has reminded us that four-fifths of our foreign trade is with countries possessing a gold standard also—but also to commercial and industrial development within our own shores. I do not desire to indulge in any chimerical dreams of the future; I do not expect any sudden or frantic rush of capital to India; I do not pretend that we are opening an Asiatic Klondyke to the investing world; least of all, am I anxious to import the speculative element into Indian business or finance; but I do firmly believe and hope that, subject to chances which none can foresee, but against which we are already on the watch, we shall, by taking these measures, invest the financial horoscope of India with a security which it has hitherto lacked, and which it will be our duty to utilize in the interests of our own clients, who are the Indian people."

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, September 9th, 1899.

No important changes have occurred in the weather conditions during the past week. The break in the rains has continued and has as before been most marked in North-Western and Central India. Temperature has in consequence been in excess, and the excess has been most marked in the areas in which the drought has been most pronounced. Winds have been unusually feeble, and on the West Coast have been very irregular in direction. In the Bay, calms have prevailed at several of the coast stations: at Diamond Island a calm was reported at 8 A.M. on four successive days—a most unusual occurrence for this season of the year. The daily changes in pressure have generally been small in amount and have not affected the weather to any important extent. A change was observable in the distribution of pressure from Tuesday when pressure became more uniform, especially over the Peninsula and the Bay, baric gradients being slighter. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the difference in pressure between Cape Comorin and Peshawar was barely one-tenth of an inch. On Friday the gradients were steeper, as pressure had given way rapidly in the North and West Punjab, thus reducing pressure to slightly below the normal in that area. As, however, there had been a simultaneous, though smaller, fall of pressure in the south, gradients were still slighter than usual.

Rain decreased in amount in Bengal and Burma towards the close of the week, and the directions of the winds round the north of the Bay on Saturday showed that a depression was in course of formation off the Circars Coast. The principal feature in the week's rainfall distribution was the determination, by the excess of pressure in the north, of humid winds to the south of the Peninsula, where they gave favourable showers to South India, Mysore and parts of the Deccan. The West Coast districts, however, remained practically rainless, and the winds at the coast stations were principally from abnormal northerly directions. It therefore appears probable that there was an indraught of humid winds from the Arabian Sea in the middle strata of the atmosphere which was not perceptible at the coast stations, and this current probably acquired a sufficient ascensional movement in crossing the Western Ghauts to cause precipitation over the high table-lands of the interior.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, September 3rd.—The barometer had risen slightly to briskly in Northern India, slightly in Burma and the Central Provinces, and had been steady over the southern half of the Peninsula. Temperature had fallen briskly to rapidly in Mysore and South India, and had risen in Orissa, Rajputana and Gujarat. The only provinces in which temperature was not in excess were Assam, where it was in slight defect, and Bengal, Sind and Gujarat, where it was normal. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma, Assam, North and East Bengal and North Bihar. Showers had been received in Mysore, Gujarat and South India.

Monday, September 4th.—Pressure had fallen slightly in Bengal and had been steady elsewhere. Temperatures continued in general excess. They were in slight defect in Gujarat and were normal in Burma, Assam and Sind. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma, Assam and Bengal, but none had fallen in Orissa, Bihar and Chota Nagpur. Showers had been heavier in Mysore and more general in Madras; and a few showers had fallen in the North Punjab, the Upper India Hills, the Central Provinces and Gujarat.

Tuesday, September 5th.—The barometer had been steady in the south of the Peninsula and Tenasserim and had risen elsewhere, the rise being brisk to rapid in the Punjab and brisk in East Bengal and Arakan. A shallow low pressure area was lying close to the hills in Northern India, and pressure was relatively low in Central Burma. The permanent low pressure area in North-Western India had been displaced southwards, and was lying over the South Punjab and Upper Sind. Temperature had fallen in Mysore, the Madras Deccan and on the Madras Coast. It was normal in Mysore, the Madras Coast districts, South India, Burma and Sind; and in slight defect in Assam and Gujarat. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma, Assam and North and East Bengal; and showers had been received in the North-West Himalayas, the North Punjab, Madras, Ceylon, Gujarat, the Central Provinces and Rajputana.

Wednesday, September 6th.—The barometer had again risen over the greater part of the country, the rise having been slight to brisk in Northern India. The depression close to the hills in Northern India was unchanged. Mean temperatures were in moderate defect in Assam; and were normal in Burma, the Punjab, Sind, Gujarat, Mysore and the Madras Deccan. The excess in the remaining provinces was largest in the Bombay Deccan. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma and Assam, and moderately heavy rain in North Bengal and North Bihar. Favourable rain had fallen in Mysore and parts of Madras, and showers had been received in the western districts of the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, Ceylon, Bombay Deccan and Berar.

Thursday, September 7th.—Pressure had given way over the whole of the Indian region, briskly in Central and Lower Burma, North Bengal, West Punjab and parts of the Peninsula and slightly elsewhere. The low pressure area in Northern India was unchanged and another shallow depression was shown in Burma. Temperatures were below the normal in Assam, Upper Burma and the North-West Punjab; and normal in Sind and Mysore. They were in excess in all other provinces, the largest excess occurring in Rajputana and Berar. Very little rain had fallen. Showers had been received in Burma, Assam, North Bengal, Ceylon, Mysore, the Bombay Deccan, Rajputana and Madras.

Friday, September 8th.—Another general fall of the barometer had occurred. The fall had been brisk to rapid in the Punjab, brisk in North Bombay, Rajputana and Berar, and brisk to slight in the south of the Peninsula. Temperature was in slight defect in Assam, normal in the West Coast districts and South India and in excess elsewhere. Showers had fallen along the Tenasserim, Burma and Arakan Coasts, in North Bengal, Assam, Ceylon, Mysore, the Konkan, the Deccan and South India.

Saturday, September 9th.—The barometer had risen over the greater part of the country, the rise being brisk in the Punjab, along the hills in Northern India, in Central Burma, Tenasserim and South India. Pressure had been steady over the north-east of the Bay. Temperature was in slight to large excess in all provinces, except Burma and Assam, where it was normal. Mean temperatures averaged 10° above the normal in Berar and 8° in Rajputana. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Tenasserim and Lower and Central Burma, and showers had fallen in Ceylon, on the West Coast, in the Deccan and South India. Conditions were slightly suspicious over the north of the Bay, where winds were irregularly cyclonic in direction.

Temperature.—With the exception of Assam and parts of Bengal in the east, and Sind and Gujarat in the west, temperature has been in considerable to large excess over the whole of Northern and Central India. The excess has been most marked and most persistent in Rajputana, the Central Provinces, Berar and the Bombay Deccan. Mean temperatures were most largely in excess in these provinces and in Central India on Saturday, when the excess averaged 10° in Berar, 8° in Rajputana, 7° in Central India and the Central Provinces and 5½° in the Bombay Deccan.

The mean temperature for the whole week was in slight defect in Assam, normal in Burma, Sind and Gujarat; and in excess in all other provinces, the excess being slight (1° to 2°) in Bengal, the West Coast, Mysore, the Madras Coast and South India; moderate (2° to 3°) in Bihar, the Punjab and the Madras Deccan; considerable (3° to 5°) in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, the North-Western Provinces, Central India, the Central Provinces and the Bombay Deccan; and large (5° to 8°) in Rajputana and Berar.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

The mean temperature for the whole of India was from 1·8° in excess on the 6th to 3·7° in excess on the 9th. For the whole week the mean variation from the normal was + 2·6°.

Rain.—The chief feature in last week's rainfall was the favourable showers received in the Deccan, Mysore and Madras. Rain decreased in Bengal and was in defect in the following divisions:—Eastern, Deltaic and Central Bengal, Orissa, Chota Nagpur and Bihar. Amounts equal to or exceeding the normal were received in all divisions of Burma, except Tenasserim, where rain was two inches in defect; and rain in excess of the normal was received over the whole of Assam. From Bihar westwards the whole of Northern and Central India received little or no rain, the only division in this tract of country, in which the usual amount of rain was received, being the North Punjab. In the Peninsula either normal or excessive rain was received in the divisions of the Bombay Deccan, Mysore and the whole of Madras, with the exception of the Jeypore hill tracts, but rainfall was below the normal in Malabar, Coorg, the Konkan and Khandesh.

The break in the rains has been most pronounced over the greater part of Northern and Central India, and rain in only small amounts has been received on the West Coast.

Actually or practically no rain has been received in fifteen out of twenty-two divisions in the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, North Bombay, Rajputana and Central India.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that, with the exception of Upper Burma and the west submontane division of the North-Western Provinces, the rainfall of the period June 4th to September 9th has been normal or in excess in all the divisions of Burma, Bengal, Assam and the North-Western Provinces. In all the remaining provinces of India rainfall has been generally in defect, the only divisions in which it has been practically normal being the hills and north divisions of the Punjab, the east division of the Central Provinces and the East Coast (North). The deficiency has exceeded 75 per cent. in Gujarat, Kathiawar, Sind, Baluchistan Hills and West Rajputana.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week:

Assam	Sunamganj (Sylhet)	. 19·40	inches.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 9th September.—The rainfall of the week was heavy in the greater part of the Deccan and the Central districts and moderate in other parts of this area and in the Southern districts, but was light in the Carnatic and West Coast districts. The water-supply has improved on account of the recent rain, especially in the Cauvery which has risen to a moderate extent. In the Deccan, the Central, and parts of the Southern districts sowings are proceeding actively and will probably soon overtake arrears; but on the West Coast and parts of the Carnatic and the Circars more rain is much wanted for sowings and the standing crops. Where good rain has fallen the standing crops have been saved and are reviving. Small early harvests are yielding very moderate outturns. Pasturage is improving in many places, and though fodder is growing scarce, it is generally sufficient. Prices are stationary or slightly easier in the Deccan, but are dearer elsewhere and have risen sharply in parts of the Circars.

Bombay.—For week ending 13th September.—Rain fell during the week in all districts of the Presidency Proper, but none in Sind. There were slight falls also in Guzerat, Kathiawar and parts of the Deccan and moderate falls in the Konkan. The rain has been beneficial to the crops in three districts of the Deccan, two of the Konkan, and two of the Karnatak, but more is urgently wanted in all districts to save the withering crops and start agricultural operations afresh. Preparations for the late crops are in progress in Kaira and Surat and in two districts of the Deccan and three of the Karnatak. The river has fallen in Sind and the water-supply in some canals is deficient. Fodder is insufficient in two districts of Guzerat and three of the Deccan and scarce in parts of Kathiawar, Hyderabad, the Panch Mahals, and Broach. The condition of agricultural stock is good, except in parts of Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, and Poona. Prices have fallen in four districts, are almost stationary in thirteen, and have risen slightly elsewhere. The daily average number on test and relief works for the previous week was as follows:—Ahmedabad 4,100; the Panch Mahals 892; and Kaira 2,684—total 7,676.

Supplementary Report.—Good rain is reported in the Karnatak, the Kolhapur Agency, and all districts of the Deccan, except Khandesh. This will benefit the autumn crops where alive and enable spring sowings to be started. It will also improve the water-supply and ensure an early supply of green grass. The situation has been much relieved for the present in the Karnatak, Kolhapur, Poona, Satara, and the greater part of Sholapur and Ahmednagar. More rain is required to make the spring sowings general and to remove anxiety. Test works are in progress in four talukas of Ahmednagar and one of Satara. Fair rain is also reported from Colaba and Ratnagiri and a certain amount also, but not enough, from North Guzerat where relief works are in progress.

Bengal.—For week ending 11th September.—Good general rain fell during the week in North and East Bengal. Prospects of the winter rice crop continue generally good, except in Angul and Puri, where the rainfall is still very deficient. More rain is also required in the Chota Nagpur division and the west of the Burdwan division. The harvesting of the autumn crops and jute is going on and the preparation of land for the spring crops has begun. Sugarcane is generally doing well. The fodder-supply is sufficient and cattle are generally reported to be in good condition. The price of common rice has risen in some districts.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 13th September.—Reports from the Meerut division, from the Western districts of Agra, and from many other districts have not been received owing to the block on the telegraph lines. From reporting districts it appears that there has been no rain or practically none anywhere. Rain is much needed—especially in Bijnor and Moradabad, where the standing crops are suffering seriously. The damage done is less towards the East, and no serious damage appears yet to have been done in Eastern Oudh. The early autumn crops are being harvested and ploughing for the spring crops is going on. The damage from insects is decreasing. Prices are rising owing to the break in the rains and to export.

Punjab.—For week ending 13th September.—The rainfall in the Rawalpindi district was again satisfactory, but only fair in the Bhiwani tahsil. Moderate showers fell in the Lahore, Bhakkar, Bhera, Kulachi, Kharkpur, and Fatehabad tahsils. The rainfall in the Dera Ismail Khan, Khushab, Ajnala, Sialkot, Hansi, and Sirsa tahsils was normal. The spring sowings have commenced in Mooltan. The recent rain in the Dera Ismail Khan district will be beneficial for the autumn sowings and pasturage. The canal crops are in good condition everywhere, except in the Fazilka tahsil, where $\frac{3}{8}$ths of the crop is likely to fail. In the absence of rain the well-irrigated crops in Lahore are said to be below the average. The prospects of the standing crops are reported to be fair only in Dera Ismail Khan, Peshawar, and Mooltan and more or less gloomy elsewhere. In Hissar only a two-anna crop is expected if rain falls within a week. In Delhi the unirrigated crops are said to be in an almost hopeless condition, and they have also suffered considerably for want of rain in Amballa, Jullundur, Ferozepore, Lahore, Amritsar, Sialkot, and Shahpur. The maize crop is being harvested in Amballa and the rice crop in Amritsar. The former crop in Lahore is reported to have been damaged by insects. Cattle are getting out of condition in Hissar, Delhi, Amritsar, Sialkot, Shahpur, and parts of Rawalpindi and Dera Ismail Khan. Fodder is said to be scarce in Hissar, Delhi, Jullundur, and parts of Ferozepore, Mooltan, Amritsar, Sialkot, Shahpur, and Dera Ismail Khan. The sugarcane and maize crops in Sialkot are being used as fodder. The average number of famine workers on test works in the Hissar district is about 16,000. Test relief works are also about to be commenced in Ferozepore. The prices of important food staples have risen in almost all districts. The rise in the prices of wheat, gram, maize, and barley in the Jullundur, Peshawar, Rawalpindi, and Dera Ismail Khan districts has been more than three seers in the rupee. Wheat is selling from 10½ to 15, barley 14 to 16, gram 10 to 13, maize 13¼ to 17¼, rice 11 to 12, great millet 11 to 18, and bulrush-millet 16 seers per rupee.

C

Central Provinces.—For week ending 12th September.—The weather has been hot and occasionally cloudy over the greater part of the Provinces. Showers have fallen in most districts, but the amounts reported are very small. In Wardha and Nagpur the falls amounted to nearly ¾ths of an inch ; in Mandla, Nimar, Raipur, and Balaghat to about half an inch ; but elsewhere the falls have been insufficient. The condition of the standing crops is generally worse than reported last week, and only immediate and good rain can save the rice crops which are deteriorating fast. In parts of Bilaspur rice has not taken root after the completion of thinning operations, in Balaghat the transplanted rice is past recovery in many villages, and broadcast sowings are withering in Seoni. The prospects of the heavy rains are almost hopeless, and the damage to transplanted rice in Bhandara and Chhanda is estimated at 10 and 12 annas respectively. Small millets have suffered seriously in hilly tracts. Jowar is doing well in Chhanda and Bhandara, but has begun to suffer elsewhere and urgently needs rain everywhere. Rust is reported to have attacked the crop in Betul and Hoshangabad, and insects are still doing damage to cotton, til, and the smaller millets. In parts of Raipur the damage done by grasshoppers is reported to be serious. Agricultural operations have been suspended or retarded in most districts : employment is getting scarce in consequence, and distress is spreading—especially in Balaghat and the Nerbudda division. The numbers in receipt of village relief on account of previous failures are 2,239 in Bilaspur. (Reports from Saugor and Damoh have not been received.) Relief measures necessitated by the present drought have been started in Balaghat, Betul, Hoshangabad, the Harsud tahsil of Nimar, and parts of Nagpur, Bhandara, and Jubbulpur. Fodder and water are reported scarce in parts of Nimar, Betul, Chhindwara, Hoshangabad, and the Nagpur country ; and cattle are reported to be in poor condition in the last named district in consequence. Prices have risen rapidly : the rise is general and is most marked in Betul. The cheapest prices are : wheat 13½, gram 18, rice 15, and jowar 15 seers per rupee. The dearest prices are : wheat 9, gram 9, rice 5—in Betul—and jowar 10 seers per rupee. The highest price of the chief staple in any district is 8¾ seers (rice) in Chhindwara, but jowar is selling at 15 seers in that district. The price of jowar in Betul has risen at a bound from 15 to 10 seers. News has since been received of good rain in Jubbulpur, Wardha, Bhandara, Nagpur, and Chhatisgarh.

Burma.—For week ending 9th September.—In Lower Burma transplanting has been completed in all but eight districts. The prospects of the crops are good. Slight distress is reported to prevail in the Yelamaing township of the Amherst district owing to paddy stocks having run short on account of over-exportation at harvest time and the difficulty of communication during the rains. In Upper Burma reaping of early sesamum has been completed in Yamethin, but continues elsewhere. The early paddy crop is being reaped in Myitkyina, Kyaukse, and the Northern Shan States. Sowing and transplanting of wet-weather paddy are approaching completion, but are delayed on account of floods in parts of Bhamo. The standing crops are in fair condition, but more rain is wanted in Minbu, two townships of the Mandalay district, and the areas previously reported. Floods threaten damage to the paddy crop in parts of the Upper Chindwin, Mandalay, and Thayetmyo. Insects are reported to have attacked the jowar crop in the Pagan township of the Myingyan district. The price of paddy has risen in Amherst, Mandalay, and seven other districts, but has fallen in Shwebo.

Assam.—For week ending 12th September.—The weather is hot and rainy. Transplantation of late and reaping of early rice and manufacture of tea are in progress. Prospects of tea are generally good, except in Sylhet, where the weather is still unfavourable. The late rice crop has been damaged by floods in Darrang and by floods and insects in Nowgong. Cutting of jute is almost finished in Sylhet, but continues in Goalpara. Prospects of the sugarcane crop are indifferent. Fodder is scarce in most districts owing to floods. Prices—common rice—Silchar 14½ to 15, Sylhet 22¾, Dhubri 16, Gauhati 14½, Tezpur 12½, Nowgong 10½, and Sibsagar and Dibrugarh 12 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 12th September.—MYSORE: Rainfall—7 inches 5 cents in the Civil and Military station. Good rain also fell throughout the State, except in parts of Kadur. Prospects are improving in consequence. The standing crops are in good condition. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of the Kolar, Hassan, Mysore, and Chitaldrug districts. Prices have risen slightly in Bangalore and Kolar and have fallen in Mysore and Chitaldrug.

COORG: Rainfall—2 inches 65 cents. The recent rain has proved beneficial and the transplanting of rice has been resumed in parts. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder for cattle are insufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 13th September.—BERAR: The average rainfall during the week was 39 cents. The weather continues warm and cloudy. Crop prospects are very poor, except in two districts, where they are reported to be fair. Preparation of land continues and sowings are in progress in parts of two districts. The fodder and water-supplies are inadequate. Prices are fluctuating.

HYDERABAD; Rainfall during the week—61 cents. Prospects have improved, but the standing crops are very badly in need of more rain in Raichur; they have, however, been saved from withering in the Bidar and Warangal divisions. Preparations for the spring sowings are going on. Cattle are getting weak and lean on account of insufficient pasturage. Prices of grain have risen slightly. Prices—wheat 8, coarse rice 8, and jowari 16½ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 13th September.—Some rain fell during the week in Malwa and Bhopawar, but none in Gwalior or Bhopal. The quantity was insufficient in all four Agencies. The standing crops have been partially damaged in Gwalior, Bhopal, and Malwa and almost destroyed in Bhopawar for want of moisture. The condition of agricultural stock is fair in Bhopal, but indifferent to bad elsewhere. Pasturage is insufficient and prices of food-grains are rising. (Reports from Bundelkhand and Baghelkhand not yet received.)

Supplementary Report.—An inch of rain is reported to have fallen at Indore on the 13th instant and falls have also been recorded at other places.

Rajputana.—For week ending 13th September.—Good rain fell at Abu (3·82 inches) and local thundershowers ranging from ¼ inch to over ½ inch at Serohi, Deoli, Ajmer-Merwara, Kisangarh, Karauli, Dholepore, and Bharatpur. Slight local falls are also reported from Mewar, Shahpura, Alwar, and Kotah. No general rain is reported to have fallen during the week. Agricultural operations have been generally relinquished. The unirrigated crops have for the most part withered up, but the irrigated crops are fair in parts. Cattle are badly off and, owing to fodder being scarce, withered crops are being utilized for the purpose. Prices have risen in ten States, but are steady elsewhere. 1,655 persons emigrated from Ajmer and Merwara during the week. The numbers employed on relief works in the Merwara district and the Beawar tahsil were 20,063 and in Bikaner 1,151. (Figures for the Todgurh tahsil have not been received.) On ordinary works—in Merwara 150, and on gratuitous relief—Merwara villages 107 and Bikaner 193. Prices—Ajmer and Beawar 12½ seers per rupee. Prospects are bad. Cotton crops have either been lost or are suffering. (Marwar report not received.) Rapid emigration is reported from Western Rajputana. The condition of Jaisalmir is very bad.

Kashmir.—For week ending 12th September.—The weather is fine. Prospects of the autumn crop are excellent. Prices continue below normal. The price of rice is 27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 13th September.—No rain fell during the week. Prices continue to rise. Wheat is selling from 13 to 16 and maize 22 to 28 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair in irrigated areas, but the crops are withering in the Kandhi tracts. Prospects are not favourable and rain is badly wanted. Fodder is getting scarce.

Nepal.—For week ending 9th September.—Rainfall—0·14 of an inch. There has been a break in the weather which is now warm and dry. Upland rice has been harvested, but lowland rice requires more rain. The price of rice is 9 seers per rupee.

The showery weather noticed over the Peninsula last week has continued and extended during the week under review, during which fair rain has been received at nearly all the Peninsular stations. Amounts exceeding 1 inch in twenty-four hours were recorded at Poona and Raichur on the 8th; at Belgaum, Malegaon, Mangalore, Ahmedabad, Bellary, Salem, and Cuddalore on the 10th; at Masulipatam, Vizagapatam, and Kurnool on the 11th; at Sholapur, Bijapur, Ratnagiri, Marmagao, and Karwar on the 12th; at Ratnagiri, Bijapur, Ahmednagar, Mangalore, and Sholapur on the 13th; and at Karwar, Ratnagiri, and Sholapur on the 14th.

During the first two days of the week, Central and Northern India were without rain, but on the 10th a storm appeared over the Bay. Rain commenced around the north of the Bay on this date, and extended to the greater part of Bengal and Chota Nagpur on the 11th, to the east of the Central Provinces and the east of the North Western Provinces on the 12th, to most parts of the Central Provinces on the 13th, and most parts of the North-Western Provinces and parts of the Punjab and Rajputana on the 14th. At the close of the week therefore rain was falling generally and in light to moderate amounts over Burma, Assam, Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the east of the Punjab and of Rajputana, the Central Provinces, Central India, and the Peninsula.

The week's rainfall has been in excess of the normal in Madras, Malabar, and Mysore and Bombay, normal in Burma, and less than usual in the remaining Provinces. The seasonal rainfall is in defect in all Provinces, except Bengal and Assam, but over the Peninsula the deficiency is less than it was last week.

MILITARY WORKS DEPARTMENT.

ORGANISATION.

No. 1037.—The Governor-General in Council hereby announces the changes in the organisation and administration of Military Works in India, which will be carried out with effect from the 1st October 1899.

2. The term "Military Works Department," and the existing system of Public Works Department grading for Royal Engineer officers employed on Military Works are abolished.

Military Works in India will be carried out by Royal Engineer officers whose employment will be regarded as regimental duty, and whose position, and ordinary and engineer pay will be regulated accordingly. Command or charge pay will be granted to all officers of the Military Works cadre of 120 prescribed in paragraph 28 who are present for duty.

3. (a) Lieutenant-Colonels in civil employ, who have been placed on half-pay on completing five years' service in that rank, and Colonels or Lieutenant-Colonels vacating their civil appointments on attaining the age of 55, will be ineligible for employment in the Military Works.

(b) Regimental field officers in civil employ will only be permitted to revert to regimental duty in the Military Works with the concurrence of the Commander-in-Chief in India, and with the approval of the Government of India.

(c) Any officer posted to India, and finding the establishment of his rank in Military Works services full, will have to wait for a vacancy in Military Works without command or charge pay.

(d) Any officer leaving civil or other employment at his own request, and finding the establishment of his rank in Military Works services full, will have to wait for a vacancy in Military Works without command or charge pay.

4. The following will be the organisation for the control and execution of Military Works in India, except in districts or stations where Military Works are under the charge of the local Public Works Department.

5. Military Works will be administered at head-quarters by the Director-General of Military Works, who will be the adviser of the Government of India upon all Military Works matters, and the agent through whom Military Works business is conducted. If not already a substantive Colonel, the Director-General of Military Works will, on appointment, be granted that rank. He will have the temporary rank of Major-General during his tenure of the appointment. The appointment of Director-General of Military Works will be tenable for five years, if not vacated sooner by compulsory retirement on account of age, or by promotion to the rank of Lieutenant-General.

6. The Director-General of Military Works will be considered as on the staff of the army in respect to all business relating to the Corps of Royal Engineers. He will, subject to the responsibility of the Quartermaster-General in India regarding the distribution of troops, advise the Commander-in-Chief in India on such technical services connected with Military Works as may be dealt with by His Excellency, as well as on questions relating to the distribution, employment, and instruction of officers and soldiers of the Royal Engineers serving in India. He will periodically inspect the several Corps of Sappers and Miners, and report thereon. He will administer the submarine-mining, military ballooning, and other technical services. Under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief, the Director-General of Military Works will deal with questions in which technical services connected with barracks provided for from Military Works funds are involved, and, in cases disposed of under the Commander-in-Chief's orders, will issue the necessary orders.

7. The Director-General of Military Works will continue to exercise, under the regulations, the powers of a Local Government as at present.

8. The Director-General of Military Works will recommend, through the Adjutant-General in India, for the Commander-in-Chief's sanction the postings to the several Commands of all Royal Engineer officers employed on Military Works duties, and of postings within Commands of officers as Commanding Royal Engineers of districts. He will similarly deal with the transfers of officers from one Command to another.

Appointments and promotions of upper subordinates, and members of the Barrack Department, will be made by the Director-General of Military Works, and those of lower subordinates by the Chief Engineer of the Command. Postings of upper subordinates and Barrack Department employés to Commands, and their transfers from one Command to another, will be carried out on the orders of the Director-General of Military Works. Similarly, lower subordinates, and clerical, and petty establishments, will be transferred from one Command to another by the Director-General of Military Works. Normal scales of establishment of all classes are fixed for each Command, and these scales may be amended from time to time with the sanction of the Director-General of Military Works, provided that the aggregate establishment is not exceeded without the sanction of the Government of India, but the Director-General of Military Works has not the power to increase the scale of his own office establishment.

9. The Director-General of Military Works will be responsible for the constructive fitness and accuracy of all projects and designs submitted by him to the Government of India.

10. In submitting proposals to the Government of India, regarding matters upon which the opinion of the Commander-in-Chief is required, the Director-General of Military Works will first obtain His Excellency's views, and will communicate them when submitting his proposals to Government, so as to obviate the necessity of further reference to the Commander-in-Chief, on the part of the Military Department.

Similarly with regard to matters referred to the Director-General of Military Works for consideration by the Government of India, that officer, before submitting his report, will ascertain the wishes and views of the Commander-in-Chief on the matter under reference, if it be of a kind to require that these should be first recorded.

11. The head-quarters staff of the Director-General of Military Works will consist of—

A Deputy Director-General, who will not be under the regimental rank of Lieutenant-Colonel, and who, if qualified and recommended, may be granted the substantive rank of Colonel. His pay will be that of a District Commanding Royal Engineer.

Assistant Directors-General for the fortification and establishment branches of the office, who will have the status and pay of District Commanding Royal Engineers, if not under the rank of Major.

Such number of additional officers, within the number of appointments sanctioned for the whole of the Military Works services, as may from time to time be required to assist in the technical engineering business of the office. These officers will have the status and pay of Royal Engineer officers posted to a district under a District Commanding Royal Engineer.

12. For each of the four Commands of the army of India there will be a Chief Engineer, who will have his head-quarters at the head-quarters station of the Command. The appointment of Chief Engineer will carry the rank of substantive Colonel, and will be tenable for five years, if not previously vacated on attaining the age for compulsory retirement as a Colonel, or on promotion to Major-General. The appointment of all Chief Engineers of Commands will rest with the Government of India.

13. The Chief Engineer will administer, inspect, and be responsible for all Military Works services within the Command, with the exception of those which may be under the charge of the local Public Works Department. His powers of sanction, allotment, and control in regard to works and establishments are detailed in Appendix A. He will also be responsible to the Lieutenant-General Commanding for the condition of the works and buildings under his charge, and will submit for that officer's consideration all matters on which the orders or opinions of the Lieutenant-General Commanding are required.

14. With the exception of Commanding Royal Engineers, all postings and transfers of Royal Engineer officers to, or between districts within, the Command will be carried out under the orders of the Lieutenant-General Commanding, on the representation of the Chief Engineer. Postings and transfers of all subordinate establishments to, or between districts within, the Command will be made by the Chief Engineer.

15. The Chief Engineer will be responsible for the engineering character of every project prepared in his Command, whether sanctioned by him, or submitted to superior authority. He will ordinarily have one or two officers posted to his office to assist in checking designs and estimates, and in the general business of the office. These officers will be included within the total number of appointments sanctioned for the Military Works services, and if of, or below, the rank of Major will have the status and pay of Royal Engineer officers posted to a district under a Commanding Royal Engineer.

16. The senior officer employed upon Military Works in each district will be the Commanding Royal Engineer, whose head-quarters will ordinarily be at the head-quarter station of the district.

17. Subject to the control exercised by the Chief Engineer of the Command, the Commanding Royal Engineer will be responsible for the design, execution, and management of all Military Works within the district (except those which may be under the charge of the local Public Works Department), for the disbursement of money, and for the provision and custody of materials. He will be responsible to the General Officer Commanding for the condition of the Military Works and buildings in his charge, and will submit for the opinion or orders of the General Officer Commanding all matters requiring a reference to the officer in military command of the district.

18. All postings and transfers of officers within the district will be made under the orders of the General Officer Commanding on the representation of the Commanding Royal Engineer.

The Commanding Royal Engineer will himself post or transfer the members of the upper and lower subordinate, clerical, office, and petty establishments, and of the Barrack Department within his district.

19. The Commanding Royal Engineer will be responsible for the accounts of Military Works under his charge. The accounts for the whole district will be compiled in his office from initial accounts rendered to him by officers and subordinates serving under his orders.

20. The Commanding Royal Engineer will have the powers of sanction, allotment, and control in regard to works and establishments detailed in Appendix A.

21. Royal Engineer officers posted to a district under a Commanding Royal Engineer will be given charge of certain definite works, groups of works, or stations, or will be posted to assist the Commanding Royal Engineer himself or other officers serving under him.

The officer in charge of a station or group of stations will be styled the "Garrison Engineer." An officer in charge of an independent work, such as a road, water-supply, etc., will be styled the "Officer in charge" of the particular work.

22. The Garrison Engineer will comply with the requisitions, and act in accordance with the orders of the Officer Commanding the station where he is posted, but it will be his duty to point out if any order he receives conflicts with the regulations.

He will, under the orders of the Officer Commanding the station, be a member of all Station Boards or Committees on which the professional advice of an engineer officer is required.

23. A Garrison Engineer, or an officer in charge of independent works, who has more than seven years' service, and who has been not less than one year in Military Works employment, will exercise the powers detailed in Appendix A. Within these limits the Commanding Royal Engineer may depute such powers as he thinks fit to any qualified officer with less than seven years' service.

No. 887 R. T., dated Simla, the 15th September, 1899.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Read—

Sections 3 (4), 16 (2), 47 and 148 (1) of the Indian Railways Act (IX) of 1890.

Government of India, Public Works Department, notification No. 480½, dated the 30th October 1890, publishing—in Part I of the Gazette of India of the 8th

November 1890—the Government of India resolution No. 736 R. T., dated the 17th October 1890, and the General Rules therewith promulgated for working railways under construction and not used for the public carriage of passengers, animals or goods.

Letter from the Government of Madras, No 899 Railway, dated the 11th August 1899, forwarding letter from the Agent, South Indian Railway Company, No. 806, dated the 7th August 1899.

OBSERVATIONS.—The Agent of the South Indian Railway Company has applied for leave to adopt the General Rules for working railways under construction and not used for the public carriage of passengers, animals or goods, which rules were published in the Gazette of India of the 8th November 1890, under Public Works Department notification No. 480½, dated the 30th October 1890, on the Travancore (Tinnevelly-Quilon) branch of that railway which has been sanctioned for construction.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to sanction the application of the General Rules referred to in the foregoing observations to such portions of the Travancore (Tinnevelly-Quilon) branch of the South Indian railway as are situate in British territory.

ORDER.—Ordered that the General Rules, which have already been published in the Gazette of India of the 8th November 1890, be further notified to the railway servants and to the public by a copy thereof being kept open to inspection free of any charge in the office of the engineer in charge of the construction of the railway.

Ordered, also, that this resolution be communicated to the Government of Madras, for information and guidance, and that it be published under a notification in Part I of the Gazette of India.

No. 396.—The following is published for general information:

No. 1737 R. E., dated Simla, the 14th September, 1899.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Railway Provident Funds.

Abolition of Supplementary Rule III and method of distributing bonus.

Read again—

Resolution No. 09 R. E., dated 24th January 1899.

Despatch from Secretary of State, No. 58 Ry., dated 14th July 1898, paragraph 6.

Read also—

Resolution No. 967 R. E., dated 23rd May 1899, paragraph 5.

RESOLUTION.—In consequence of the representations received from various Railway Administrations that the ruling contained in paragraph 1 (iii) of the revised Provident Fund Rules, published under Public Works Department Resolution No. 09 R. E., dated 24th January 1899, read in the preamble, stating that the rule operates harshly and is looked upon with disfavour by the majority of the Staff, the Government of India are pleased to abolish that rule and to substitute in its stead the following:

Rule (III). If a depositor is dismissed from the public service, the Manager may cause to be withheld all, or any part of the bonus provisionally allotted to him with the interest accrued thereon, only the balance at his credit, without such bonuses and the interest thereon being paid to the depositor. In the case of there being any outstandings against a depositor who may have absconded, resigned or been dismissed, the amount of such outstandings may be deducted from his Compulsory or Voluntary deposits, the balance only after such deductions being paid to him. Any bonus and interest withheld from a dismissed depositor under this rule shall be credited to the Fine Fund of the Railway.

2. The above rule is intended primarily for State Railways, but the Government of India have no objection to Companies' Lines embodying it in their own rules in place of an existing rule covering the same ground, in such manner as may be considered necessary.

3. The Government of India have also considered the method to be adopted in distributing the second bonus under Rule 1 (b) and paragraph 2 of Public Works Department Resolution No. 09 R. E., dated 24th January 1899, during the period in which there remain subscribers to the fund under the old rules, and are pleased to lay down the following rule:

(1) A share of the bonus of one-half per cent. of net earnings should be first allotted to subscribers under the old rules, in the proportion that their salaries bear to the total salaries of all subscribers under both sets of rules. By this means the subscribers under the old rules will practically receive what they would have received had all remained under the old rules. The bonus allotted will of course be subject to the limit of 50 per cent. of subscriptions under the old rules.

(2) The bonus of 1 per cent. of net earnings, minus the amount allotted to the subscribers under the old rules in accordance with rule (1), should then be distributed amongst the subscribers under the new rules, up to the limit of 50 per cent. of their subscriptions.

4. The period of six months within which the option of coming under the new rules might be exercised by subscribers already in the service under Rule II, Clauses (a) and (b) of Resolution No. 09 R. E., dated 24th January 1899, is extended from the 24th July 1899 to the 1st January 1900.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Governments of Madras, Bombay and Burma, Public Works Department, Railway Branch; the Chief Commissioner of Assam; the Resident at Hyderabad; the Consulting Engineers to the Government of India for Railways, Calcutta, Lucknow and Assam and the Managers, North Western, Oudh and Rohilkhund, East Coast and Eastern Bengal State Railways, for information and guidance.

Ordered, also, that a copy be forwarded to the Accountant General, Public Works Department, for information, and that it be published in the Gazette of India.

The 21st September, 1899.

No. 397.—The following is published for general information:

No. 206 R. P., dated Simla, the 16th September, 1899.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Railway Conference, 1899.—Procedure in connection with the prosecution of railway construction in India.

Read—

Memorandum, dated the 7th September 1899, from the Secretary to the Departmental Committee, which assembled by order of His Excellency the Viceroy on 15th August 1899.

OBSERVATIONS.—With the memorandum read above were forwarded for the approval of the Government of India the proceedings of a Committee, which assembled on the 15th August 1899, to consider the question of railway extension in India. The definite measures proposed by the Committee are the—

(a) Preparation of a continual triennial programme of railway construction in place of the present three years' forecast.

(b) Constitution of a small travelling Commission to enquire into local interests affecting railway schemes.

(c) Editing and publication, in a suitable form, yearly of lists of railway projects which are before the Government of India for consideration. Such lists to exclude purely strategic railways.

The new proposals are only put forward as tentative and experimental, and if approved, are recommended for early adoption.

RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to accept the recommendations of the Committee and to decide as regards the first of the recommendations made (a) that the system of a continual triennial programme of railway construction be adopted in connection with the annual programme now under preparation, and that the new system be given a wider scope by requiring all Railway Administrations to conform to the principle, and to submit their schedule of demands for capital works in the form adopted for State railways. The schedule should be submitted annually, and the figures for the two years that formed a part of the previous schedule should be revised in the light of subsequent orders and the latest information available: the figures for the additional year being added upon the best forecast that can be made.

2. As regards recommendation (b), the formation of a small travelling Commission to enquire into local interests affecting railway schemes is also authorised. For the present the Commission will only be constituted as a temporary body to be assembled as occasion may arise, and the dates of its sitting and the scope of its enquiries will be publicly notified. The Commission will sit and take evidence in public and will be open to interested parties who desire to appear in person, or by counsel, or by duly authorised representative.

3. The Commission shall consist at present of the Honourable Member for Public Works, the Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, Railway Branch, and a third unofficial member of the commercial community, approved by the Local Government of the Province in which the enquiry is to be held, who shall be entitled to suitable remuneration and travelling accommodation while serving on the Commission. It follows, therefore, that the third unofficial member to fulfil the condition of ability to form opinions unbiased by local interests will be nominated anew, as the circumstances of the enquiry and locality may demand. A Secretary to the Commission and small clerical staff will also be appointed by the Commissioners as required.

4. The third and last of the proposals, (c), is also approved, and the work of preparing, in a suitable form, the history of the railway projects placed before the meeting of the 15th August 1899, excluding Frontier lines, is authorised and, when completed, should be issued to the public.

ORDER.—Ordered that this resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

Ordered, also, that a copy of this resolution be communicated to the Local Governments and Administrations, and to the officers noted in the margin, for information and guidance, and to the Governments of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh and the Punjab, the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, the Agents to the Governor General in Central India and Baluchistan, the Resident in Mysore, and to the Accountant General, Public Works Department, for information.

The Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal and Burma.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weather Review of India for the Week ending at 8 a.m. on Saturday, September 16th, 1899.

A shallow storm formed off the Circars and Orissa Coasts on Sunday, and by Monday morning had intensified slightly and was crossing the coast between Vizagapatam and Gopalpore. It was a very feeble disturbance, but it caused strong winds in its south-westerly quadrant. At Diamond Island winds had risen from 8 to 20 miles an hour, and winds of the strength of a gale were reported from stations on the North Madras Coast. The storm had given light to moderate rain in Chota Nagpur, Orissa and the North Madras Coast districts. False Point, Balasore, Vizagapatam and Masulipatam had received amounts ranging from one to two inches. The depression was almost stationary during the next twenty-four hours and was unchanged in character. Winds had risen at the head of the Bay and continued strong in Ganjam. The storm had given only light showers to the North Madras Coast, the east of the Central Provinces, Chota Nagpur and Baghelkhand, none of the amounts reported exceeding one inch. The depression then commenced to advance more rapidly and by Wednesday morning had travelled at the rate of about 10 miles an hour in a north-westerly direction into the Central Provinces, where it was central to the east of Jubbulpore. The rain it gave was not heavy, but it had been general over the whole of the Central Provinces and Berar, and much needed rain had also fallen in the Bombay Deccan. Pressure began giving way to the north of the depression, and during the next twenty-four hours the storm advanced in a northerly direction into the North-Western Provinces, being central near Cawnpore on Thursday morning. Rain had increased in the Central Provinces and Berar, and had extended over the whole of Central India and the North-Western Provinces. Pachmarhi and Cawnpore had received three inches; and Jubbulpore, Sutna, Nowgong and Hoshangabad two. As the storm passed into the North-Western Provinces rain decreased in the Central Provinces, and only light showers—only one of which exceeded half an inch—were reported from that area on Friday morning The storm had recurved to the east, but had moved very slowly, as it was central near Benares. Good rain had been received in the North Western Provinces— especially in the eastern districts. Benares had received two inches and Bareilly, Allahabad, Lucknow, Bahraich and Mussooree amounts exceeding one inch. The storm continued moving eastwards, and on Saturday was central near Gaya, but showed signs of filling up. Moderately heavy rain had fallen in Bengal and light showers in the east of the North-Western Provinces. Dinajpur had received nearly five inches, Dhubri three and Silchar two.

The storm was of feeble intensity throughout, but it gave much needed and well distributed rain to the central parts of the country and also to the southern districts of the Bombay Deccan and the greater part of the North-Western Provinces Fair rain has also been received during the week in the southern districts of Madras and on the North Madras Coast.

The rain given by the storm caused a large fall of temperature in the North-Western Provinces and the central districts, but at the commencement of the week temperature was in general excess over the greater part of the country, the excess being most marked in the Punjab, Rajputana, Berar, Central India and the Central Provinces. Temperatures continued in large excess in Rajputana throughout the week and in considerable excess in Gujarat.

Daily Summary.—Sunday, September 10th.—Pressure had fallen briskly over the west of the Bay, and a shallow depression had formed off the Circars and Orissa Coasts. Temperature was in excess in all provinces, except Burma, Sind, the West Coast districts and South India, where they were normal.

Mean temperatures for the whole of India averaged 3·7° in excess. Light rain had fallen in Burma, but there had been practically none in Bengal. Rain was more general and heavier on the West Coast, and showers had fallen in Gujarat, the Deccan and South India.

Monday, September 11th.—The barometer had fallen slightly to briskly over the northern half of the Peninsula, and the depression had intensified slightly and was crossing the coast between Vizagapatam and Gopalpore. Temperatures were normal in Burma, Assam, Bengal, Orissa, Sind, the West Coast districts, the Madras Deccan, the Madras Coast districts and South India. Light to moderate rain had fallen in Burma and Bengal, and showers had been received on the West Coast and in the Deccan.

Tuesday, September 12th.—Pressure had risen slightly in Burma, had been steady in North-Eastern India and had fallen slightly to briskly elsewhere. The depression had moved very slowly in a westerly or north-westerly direction, but was in almost the same position it had occupied the day before. Temperature had fallen in most provinces and was in defect in Assam, Bengal, Chota Nagpur, Mysore, the Madras Deccan and the Madras Coast; and normal in Burma, Orissa, South India and on the West Coast. Light to moderate rain had been received in Burma, Assam, Bengal and Chota Nagpur; and moderately heavy rain in the Konkan and southern districts of the Bombay Deccan. Showers had been received in the Mussoorie hills, Malabar, Mysore, east of the Central Provinces, Baghelkhand, West Rajputana and Madras.

Wednesday, September 13th.—The depression had advanced in a north-westerly direction into the Central Provinces and was central to the east of Jubbulpore. The permanent low pressure area in North-Western India had been transferred southwards and lay over Sind and West Rajputana. Temperature was below the normal in Assam, Bengal, Chota Nagpur, the Madras Deccan and on the West Coast and was normal in Orissa, Bihar, Mysore and on the Madras Coast. Light rain had fallen in the Central Provinces and Berar; and light to moderate rain in Burma, Bengal, parts of the Bombay Deccan and on the West Coast. Light showers had been received in the west of the North-Western Provinces and in North Madras.

Thursday, September 14th.—Pressure had given way briskly to slightly in the North-Western Provinces, and the storm had advanced in a northerly direction and was central near Cawnpore. Mean temperatures were in slight to considerable defect in Assam and Bengal; and were normal in Burma, Bihar, the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab, the West Coast districts and the Deccan. Light rain had fallen in Burma, Bengal, Assam, North Madras and on the West Coast and light to moderate general rain in the North-Western and Central Provinces and Central India.

Friday, September 15th.—The barometer had fallen slightly to briskly in North-Eastern India and in the Punjab The depression had advanced in an easterly direction and was central near Benares. Day temperatures were in large defect in the east of the North-Western Provinces, and mean temperatures were in slight to considerable defect in Assam, Bihar, the North-Western Provinces and the Madras Deccan. They were in excess in Chota Nagpur, North-Western India, Berar, the Bombay Deccan and South India. Light to moderate rain had been received in Burma, Bengal and parts of Madras; and moderately heavy rain in the eastern and central districts of the North-Western Provinces.

Saturday, September 16th.—The depression had continued to move eastwards and was central near Gaya. Temperature was in defect in Assam, Bihar and on the Madras Coast; and was normal in Bengal, Chota Nagpur, the North-Western Provinces, Mysore, the Madras Deccan and South India. Light to moderate rain had fallen in North-Eastern India, Tenasserim and Lower Burma, and a few light showers had been reported from Upper Burma, the West Coast, the central parts of the country and Madras.

Temperature.—Excessive temperatures were registered in all but a few provinces at the beginning of the week, the mean temperature for the whole of India being as much as 3·7° above the normal on Sunday; but the rain given by the depression in the North-Western Provinces and central parts of the country caused a large reduction of temperature, which was most marked in Berar. On the 10th, 11th and 12th September mean temperatures in Berar ranged from 10° to 12° above the normal. On the 14th the excess in this province was on an average only 1·5°. In the Central Provinces and Central India the fall in temperature averaged 6° and 7° respectively and in the North-Western Provinces 7½°. Temperature was excessive throughout the week in Rajputana, the mean temperature for the week being 8·7° above the normal. The smallest variations from the normal occurred in Burma and on the West Coast.

The mean temperature of the week was 2° in defect in Assam and actually or practically normal in Burma, Bengal, Bihar, the West Coast districts, Mysore, Madras Deccan, South India and on the Madras Coast. The excess in the remaining provinces ranged from 8·7° in Rajputana to 1·0° in Orissa and Chota Nagpur.

The following table gives the mean temperature variation data for the week:

Rain.—Last week's rainfall has been normal or in excess in Lower, Central and Upper Burma, but it has been in large defect in Tenasserim and in slight defect in Arakan. In Bengal and Assam rain has also been either normal or in excess in all divisions, except Central Bengal, the Bengal hills and Chota Nagpur. Over the remainder of Northern and Central India rainfall has been in general defect, with the exception of the following divisions of the North-Western and Central Provinces and Central India :—North and South Oudh, the east, central and east-submontane divisions of the North-Western Provinces, Berar, the east and central divisions of the Central Provinces and the east division of Central India.

In the Peninsula good rain has fallen, and the amounts received are in all cases either normal or in excess of the normal, except in two divisions of Madras, viz., Madras South-Central and Madras South.

Generally speaking, the rainfall of the week has hence been normal or in excess of the normal over nearly the whole of North-Eastern India, the Central Provinces, Berar, the east of Central India and the Peninsula.

No rain has fallen in Sind and on the Baluchistan hills, and practically none in the divisions of South, Central, North and West Punjab.

The last three columns of the table at the end show that, with the exception of Upper Burma and the west submontane division of the North-Western Provinces, the rainfall of the period, June 4th to September 16th, has been either normal or in excess in Burma, Bengal, Assam and the North-Western Provinces. Over the whole of the remainder of the Indian region rainfall has been in defect, with the exception of North Punjab, Central Provinces East and East Coast North, where it has been practically normal, the deficiency amounting to less than 20 per cent. of the normal rainfall.

The following were the principal large totals received at individual stations during the week :

	Kishanganj (Purnea) . . .	12·13 „

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Weekly Report on the state of the Season and Prospects of the Crops.

Madras.—For week ending 16th September.—The rainfall of the week was heavy in South Canara, the Circars and the Deccan : seasonable rain also fell elsewhere, but the showers were much scattered in the Southern and parts of the Central districts. The water-supply is good in the Northern half of the Presidency, but moderate or poor in the Southern half and in Malabar. Sowings are proceeding actively in the Deccan and parts of the Circars and to some extent elsewhere. The standing crops have improved and are generally in fair condition, but need more rain in the Southern half of the Presidency and in Malabar. Small harvests of the early crops are yielding very moderate outturns. Pasturage has generally improved, and fodder, though scarce in parts, is sufficient. Prices have fallen considerably in the Deccan, are somewhat easier in the Central districts and are generally stationary elsewhere, except in the Circars, where they have risen slightly. Prospects have greatly improved, but more rain is needed in the Carnatic, the Southern and Central districts and in Malabar. Good rain is reported to have fallen in parts of the Carnatic and the Central districts since the close of the week.

Bombay.—For week ending 20th September.—Rain fell during the week in all parts of the Presidency, except in Kathiawar and Sind. The falls were slight in Guzerat and Thana, but excellent throughout the Deccan, the Karnatak Colaba, Ratnagiri, and Kanara where the rain has proved beneficial to the crops. The immediate urgency of rain is now confined to Guzerat and Thana and parts of Colaba, Nasik, and Poona. The standing crops are in poor condition in Thana and four districts of Guzerat, where they are withering for want of moisture. The sowing of the spring crops has commenced in the Deccan and the Karnatak. Fodder is insufficient in Kathiawar, Baroda, Khandesh and parts of Sind and Guzerat. The river is low in Sind and the water-supply from canals continues to be deficient. The condition of agricultural stock is good, except in Kathiawar, Baroda, Ahmedabad, the Panch Mahals, and parts of Sind. Prices have fallen in five districts, are stationary in eleven and have risen slightly elsewhere. The daily average numbers on relief were as follows :—For week ending 9th September—on test works :—Ahmedabad 5,100 ; Kaira 3,649—total 8,749. For week ending 16th September—on test works :—Ahmedabad 3,200 ; Kaira 4,210 ; Panch Mahals 100 ; Broach 7,000 ; and Ahmednagar 67. On relief works :—Ahmedabad 7,600—total 22,177.

Bengal.—For week ending 19th September.—The general rain during the week has been very beneficial to the winter rice crops in all the divisions of the Presidency, except in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, where the falls are reported to have been good. Should the hathiya rains be seasonable the crop in Bihar will be very satisfactory. The reports from Orissa and Chota Nagpur are better, but more rain is still required there and in the west of the Burdwan division. The harvesting of the autumn crops has almost been completed and the cutting and steeping of jute are still proceeding. No important change is reported in the price of common rice. Fodder is everywhere sufficient.

North-Western Provinces and Oudh.—For week ending 20th September.—General rain fell during the week, and except in the Western districts the falls have been heavy and have greatly benefited the crops. More rain is, however, badly wanted in the Bijnor and Budaun districts of Rohilkhand and in the Agra and Muttra districts of the Agra division. Rain is also wanted in the Meerut division and in the districts of Garhwal and Jhansi. The standing crops have materially improved and they are now in good or fair condition, except in the Bijnor, Muttra and Agra districts, where they are suffering badly from drought and to a less extent in the Bulandshahr and Aligarh districts. Harvesting of the early autumn crops is in progress and ploughing for the spring crops is being actively pursued. Supplies and fodder continue to be sufficient. Prices are still high and are rising in several places, but in a few districts they show a tendency to fall.

Punjab.—For week ending 20th September.—The rainfall in Jullundur was fair, in Ferozepur moderate and normal in Hissar, Delhi, Umballa, Sialkot, and Shahpur. Harvesting of maize and great millet in Umballa and of rice in Amritsar is going on. Ploughings for the coming spring crop are in progress in Umballa, Lahore and Dera Ismail Khan. The spring sowings have commenced in Hissar and Multan. Turnip, rape and gram are being sown in parts of Sialkot. The canal crops are generally in fair to average condition, except in the Fazilka tahsil of the Ferozepore district, where ⅞ths of the crops are expected to fail. The well-irrigated crops are reported to be below the average in Delhi, Jullundur and Lahore. Crops on unirrigated areas have withered in Hissar, Delhi, Jullundur, and parts of Shahpur and are suffering in Ferozepur and Sialkot from prolonged drought. Prospects of the standing crops are said to be average in Dera Ismail Khan, below the average in Rawalpindi, and almost hopeless in Ferozepur. In Hissar only a half-anna crop is expected. The recent rain has slightly benefited sugarcane and cotton in Umballa. The condition of the standing crops is reported to be good in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan. Water in the Bara stream and the Multan canals is insufficient and rain is badly wanted in Amritsar and Shahpur. The indigo and rice crops have been damaged for want of moisture in parts of Multan, and maize and great millet by insects in Lahore. Cattle are getting weak and out of condition, owing to an insufficiency of fodder and overwork in Hissar, Delhi, Lahore, Sialkot, Shahpur and parts of Dera Ismail Khan. Cattle in Lahore and Dera Ismail Khan are being taken to places where pasturage and fodder are available. Fodder is said to be scarce in Hissar, Delhi, Jullundur, Ferozepur, Mooltan, Amritsar, Sialkot, Shahpur, and parts of Lahore and Dera Ismail Khan. The average number of famine workers on test works in the Hissar district is about 25,000 against 16,000 for the previous week. Test works have also been opened in Ferozepur where 500 persons are employed. People are emigrating into Ferozepur from Bikanir, Jodhpur and the Sirsa villages. The prices of important food staples continue high in almost all districts. The price of gram has risen only in Umballa and Jullundur, and of maize in Umballa, Amritsar, and Rawalpindi. A fall in the price of the latter staple is, however, reported from Lahore and Peshawar. The price of rice has also risen in Sialkot. Wheat is selling from 10 to 14, barley 15 to 16, gram 10 to 13, maize 11¼ to 16, rice 10 to 11, great millet 14 to 16, and bulrush-millet 10 to 16 seers per rupee.

Central Provinces.—For week ending 19th September.—There was general but unevenly distributed rain throughout the Provinces during the early part of the week, while the latter part has been generally clear. Jubbulpur and Bhandara each received a little over 3 inches, Mandla 2½ inches, Wardha and Hoshangabad 2 inches each, Saugor and Damoh 1½ inches, Seoni and Nagpur 1 inch each and Narsingpur, Chanda and Balaghat about ⅘ths of an inch. Elsewhere the falls have been from half an inch to 9 cents. At the head-quarters of the Betul district 30 cents were recorded, but from 1½ to 2 inches fell in the north and west of the district. Similarly at Raipur itself only 9 cents were received while from 2 to 3½ inches fell in the other tahsils and good rain is also reported in the north-western Zamindaries of this district. In Hoshangabad the falls at outlying tahsils were more than double the fall at head-quarters, ranging from 4 to 6¾ inches. Where good rain has been received the autumn crops have been much benefited and elsewhere the light falls have temporarily checked further deterioration. More rain is, however, required both for these crops and for the spring sowings which have begun in a few places. The prospects of the rice crop have slightly improved in Chhattisgarh, but are not yet finally assured. The transplanted rice crop in the Waingunga districts remains much the same and the utmost to be hoped for is a quarter to a third of the crop. Owing to the further rain broadcast rice is in better condition, but has deteriorated in Balaghat. Caterpillars continue to do damage to the crops in parts of the Hoshangabad, Bhandara, Wardha and Nagpur districts, and grasshoppers in the Raipur district. Distress continues to spread in Betul and Balaghat. The numbers in receipt of village relief on account of previous failures in Saugor and Bilaspur were 5,624 and 2,446 persons respectively. (The numbers on relief in Damoh have not been reported) Relief measures necessitated by the present drought have been given in Balaghat, Betul, Hoshangabad, the Harsud tahsil of Nimar, and parts of Nagpur, Bhandara and Jubbulpur. Famine relief is being organized in the rice tracts of Seoni and will soon be required in the rice tracts of Chanda. In Jubbulpur 183 persons are in receipt of village relief; in Hoshangabad 366 persons are in receipt of gratuitous relief; and 586 persons have also been fed at kitchens in that district. Relief kitchens will shortly be opened in Saugor. A scarcity of fodder and water continues in parts of Nimar, Betul, Chhindwara and the Nagpur country. Prices have risen in Saugor, Jubbulpur, Nimar and Chhindwara and have slightly fallen in Mandla, Seoni, and Betul. Exports from Betul have ceased and some jowar has been imported with the result that the price of this staple has fallen from 10 to 13 seers. The cheapest prices are: wheat 15, gram 19, rice 13¾, and jowar 17 seers per rupee. The dearest prices are: wheat 9½, gram 10, rice 6 (in Betul), and jowar 11½ seers per rupee. The highest price of the chief staple in any district is 8¾ seers (rice) in Chanda, but jowar is selling at 15 seers in this district. (No report received from Sambalpur.)

Burma.—For week ending 16th September.—In Lower Burma transplanting continues in six districts and has been completed in the others. Prospects are good. In Upper Burma reaping of early sesamum is nearing completion, whilst that of hill paddy in the Shwegu township of the Bhamo district and of early lowland paddy in the districts previously reported continues. Sowing and transplanting of the main wet weather paddy crops are approaching completion. Sowing of late sesamum is nearly completed in Myingyan and that of other upland crops is in progress. In the dry zone districts prospects of the standing crops are fair. The rise in the Irrawaddy and Chindwin rivers has done slight damage to low-lying tracts in five districts. Insects have also done harm in parts. More rain is wanted in the Salin township of Minbu and the Tagaung subdivision of the Ruby Mines district. The recent rain has improved prospects elsewhere. Partial remission of thathameda will probably be necessary in parts of the Tauntha township of Myingyan. The price of paddy has risen sharply in Thongwa and slightly in 5 other districts and has fallen slightly in Rangoon and Pakôkku.

Assam.—For week ending 19th September.—The weather is hot and rainy. Transplanting of late and reaping of early rice and manufacture of tea are in progress. Prospects of tea are generally good The late rice crop has been damaged by floods in Darrang, by floods and insects in Nowgong and by insects in parts of the Lakhimpur, Cachar, and Sibsagar districts. Cutting of jute is almost finished in Sylhet, but continues in Goalpara. Prospects of the sugarcane crop are indifferent. Fodder is scarce in most of the plains districts owing to floods. Prices—common rice—Silchar 14½ to 15, Sylhet 22¾, Dhubri 16, Gauhati 14, Tezpur 12½, Nowgong 11, Sibsagar and Dibrugarh 12 seers per rupee.

Mysore and Coorg.—For week ending 19th September.—MYSORE: Rainfall—1 inch 94 cents in the Civil and Military station. Good rain also fell in other parts of the State. The standing crops are in good condition. Prospects are favourable. Prices have fallen slightly in four districts. Ragi (Eleusine coracana) has been sown in parts of Bangalore, Kolar, Tumkur, Mysore, Kadur, Chitaldrug and Shimoga.

COORG: Rainfall—3 inches 75 cents. The rain has proved favourable and the transplantation of rice which had been impeded has recommenced. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder for cattle are sufficient.

Berar and Hyderabad.—For week ending 20th September.—BERAR: The average rainfall during the week was 1 inch 28 cents. The weather is warm and cloudy. The condition of the standing crops is reported to be good in Wun, fair in parts of Basim, but unsatisfactory elsewhere. Land is being prepared for the winter crops. Sowing of bajra is in progress in places. Resowing of the jowar crop which was started in the Akote taluq, has been suspended for want of moisture. Weeding operations continue in 5 districts. Fodder and water continue scarce. Prices are fairly steady. Test works have been opened in the Akola and Buldana districts; the number of famine workers in Akola being 1,688 and in Buldana 473.

HYDERABAD: Rainfall during the week—1 inch 84 cents. Agricultural prospects have improved and the spring sowings have commenced in parts. Prices are falling. Prices—wheat 8, coarse rice 8¼, and jowari 16¼ seers per current sicca rupee.

Central India.—For week ending 20th September.—Good rain fell in all the Agencies during the week, except in Malwa which only benefited partially. More rain is needed in Gwalior, Bhopal, Malwa and Bhopawar. The condition of the standing crops is bad in Gwalior, Bhopawar, and Malwa; but fair in Bhopal, Baghelkhand and Bundelkhand. The condition of agricultural stock is deteriorating in Bhopawar, is bad in Malwa, indifferent in Gwalior but fairly good elsewhere. Pasturage is insufficient in four Agencies. Prices of food-grains are steady in Bhopal and Baghelkhand and rising elsewhere.

Rajputana.—For week ending 20th September.—Local showers ranging from a few cents to 1 inch are reported from most States except Abu, Bharatpur and Jaisalmir. Agricultural operations have been generally suspended. The standing crops are in fair condition where irrigation has been possible. Cattle are in a bad plight, and withered crops are being used for fodder. Prices are rising in eleven States and are steady elsewhere. The number of persons who emigrated from Ajmer-Merwara, Marwar and Jaisalmir during the week was 1,087; 13,541 and 1,743 respectively. The numbers employed on relief works were:—in the Merwara district, 36,980; Bikanir, 1,801; and Marwar, 8,477. Ordinary works have been opened in many parts to afford employment to distressed persons. The number of persons on ordinary works in Merwara was 150, and in receipt of gratuitous relief, Merwara villages 1,198 and Bikanir 343. Test relief works have been opened at Bharatpur. Prices—Ajmer 12, Beawar 12½, Marwar 8¼ and Bharatpur 12 seers per rupee. Prospects are bad. Emigration from Western Rajputana continues; but the reports from Haraoti, Malwa and Guzerat, where Western Rajputana emigrants mostly gravitate, are discouraging.

Kashmir.—For week ending 19th September.—The weather is fine. Prospects of the autumn crops are excellent. Prices continue below normal. The price of rice is 27 seers per rupee.

JAMMU PROVINCE.—For week ending 20th September.—No rain fell during the week. Prices continue to rise. Wheat is selling from 10¾ to 14 and maize 18 to 25 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair in irrigated areas, but they have withered in the Kandhi tracts. Owing to the rains holding off the spring sowings are being interfered with. Prospects are not favourable and rain is badly wanted. Fodder is scarce.

Nepal.—For week ending 16th September.—Rainfall—0·47 of an inch. The weather has been bright and clear. Upland rice has been harvested: outturn is about the average. Lowland rice requires more rain. The price of rice is 9 seers per rupee.

The total numbers in receipt of relief during the preceding and present weeks are as follows:

There has been a gradual diminution in the rainfall over India during the week under review. The storm which was traced to the North-Western Provinces during last week continued to give rain to the North-Western and Central Provinces on Friday, but by Saturday morning the depression had drifted into Bihar and rain ceased over those two areas, and has not recommenced. The storm travelled eastward through Bengal and gave rain to Bengal and Assam until Monday the 18th, when the fall practically ceased in these Provinces also. In North-West India, including the Punjab, Rajputana, the west of Central India and North Bombay, there has been no rain throughout the week.

In the Peninsula there have been showers on every day of the week, but both the amount and extent of the rainfall have diminished as the week advanced. Falls exceeding 1 inch in twenty-four hours were reported from Masulipatam, Vizagapatam and Cuddalore on the 15th, from Vizagapatam on the 16th; from Bijapur, Bangalore, Salem, Trichinopoly and Cuddapah on the 17th; from Mangalore, Mysore, Bangalore, Karwar, Madras, Bellary, Kurnool and Salem on the 18th; from Bangalore and Madras on the 19th, and from Cuddalore and Salem on the 21st. Today there are signs of the presence of a small depression over the north of the Bay.

The week's rainfall has been more than usual in Burma, Bengal and Assam, Malabar and Mysore and Madras and less than usual elsewhere. In the Punjab no rain whatever fell and in Gujarat, Central India, Sind and Rajputana only an insignificant quantity.

The seasonal rainfall is in excess in Bengal and Assam and in defect in all other Provinces, though the deficiency in the Peninsula is less than it was last week.
